Handbook of School Psychology in the Global Context Chryse Hatzichristou, Bonnie Kaul Nastasi, Shane R. Jimerson, 2024-11-11 This handbook introduces a transnational approach to school psychology theory and practice. It provides a detailed review and analysis of multicultural and international literature in school psychology. In addition, the volume synthesizes this literature in ways that help promote transnational perspectives in the field of school psychology and recommends transnational processes that can further enhance the preparation and the role of school psychologists across a global context. With contributions from school psychology faculty members, researchers, and practitioners across diverse multicultural and international backgrounds, this book offers readers interested in studying or practicing school psychology in a transnational context an excellent background and introduction to the subject matter. Topical coverage ranges from conceptual foundations, educational and psychosocial foundations, systems, psychological and educational assessment, prevention and intervention, international research projects, school psychological services, and training, special topics, and future directions in the field. The breadth of the chapters makes this handbook a key resource for guiding and directing future research, training, and practice that considers the current transnational challenges and resources of school psychology. This handbook is an essential resource for researchers, scientists, practitioners, clinicians, and graduate students in child and school psychology, social work, public health, educational policy, and politics, and other school-based and child-serving mental health disciplines. International Handbook on Child Rights and School Psychology Bonnie Kaul Nastasi, Stuart N. Hart, Shereen C. Naser, 2020-05-18 This handbook examines the meanings, implications, and transformative potential of a child rights approach for school psychology. It focuses on the school community in which psychology is committed to promoting well-being, learning, and development of all children. The handbook begins with an overview of the 1989 United Nations Committee on the Rights of the Child (CRC) and explores main themes such as survival, protection, development, participation, and nondiscrimination. Chapters provide guidance in promoting and protecting child rights when dealing with critical issues relevant to the school community, including well-being, freedom from violence, and access to high-quality education. In addition, chapters analyze and offer recommendations for child rights applications within the roles and responsibilities of school psychologists. The handbook concludes with future directions for achieving a child rights approach for school psychology. Topics featured in this handbook include: The current status of child rights in the international community; Accountability for child rights by school psychology; Collaborative home, school, and community practices aimed at promoting family support; Protecting child rights within the realm of competitive sports; CRC and school-based intervention programming; Promoting child rights through school leadership; Applying child rights research to the study of psychological well-being.
