Well-being Neera Kapur Badhwar, 2014 In Well Being Happiness in a Worthwhile Life Neera K Badhwar offers a new argument for the ancient claim that well being as the highest prudential good eudaimonia consists of happiness in a virtuous life Virtue is a source of happiness but happiness also requires external goods The argument takes into account recent work on happiness well being and virtue and defends a neo Aristotelian conception of virtue as an integrated but limited intellectual emotional action disposition These conceptions of well being and virtue are argued to be widely held and compatible with experimental psychology Badhwar s main argument for the thesis that well being as the highest prudential good requires virtue is as follows i well being as the highest prudential good requires an objectively worthwhile life ii such a life entails realism as a character trait iii realism entails a life of virtue iv hence well being as the highest prudential good requires a life of virtue A realistic person understands important aspects of her own life and human life in general and is disposed to act on her understanding Her understanding springs from her autonomy and reality orientation i e her disposition to think for herself and seek truth or understanding But the demands of virtue in the face of our emotional and cognitive limitations make complete virtue impossible and this is one reason why complete well being is also impossible

Racial Resentment in the Political Mind Darren W. Davis, David C. Wilson, 2021-12-27 A thought provoking look at how racial resentment rather than racial prejudice alone motivate a growing resistance among whites to improve the circumstances faced by racial minorities In Racial Resentment in the Political Mind Darren W Davis and David C Wilson challenge the commonly held notion that all racial negativity disagreements and objections to policies that seek to help racial minorities stem from racial prejudice They argue that racial resentment arises from just world beliefs and appraisals of deservingness that help explain the persistence of racial inequality in America in ways more consequential than racism or racial prejudice alone The culprits as many White people see it are undeserving people of color who are perceived to benefit unfairly from and take advantage of resources that come at Whites expense a worldview in which any attempt at modest change is seen as a challenge to the status quo and privilege Yet as Davis and Wilson reveal many Whites have become racially resentful due to their perceptions that African Americans skirt the rules of the game and violate traditional values by taking advantage of unearned resources Resulting attempts at racial progress lead Whites to respond in ways that retain their social advantage opposing ameliorative policies minority candidates and other advancement on racial progress Because racial resentment is rooted in beliefs about justice fairness and deservingness ordinary citizens who may not harbor racist motivations may wind up in the same political position as racists but for different reasons

Queering Contemplation Cassidy Hall,2024-05-21 What would it mean to queer contemplation To disentangle contemplative spirituality from heteronormativity patriarchy and Eurocentricity and instead engage with openness curiosity and a little weirdness The world of contemplative Christianity has yielded to the same voices for far too long many of whom are from centuries before our time with lives unlike our own and often from experiences disconnected from marginalization oppression and what it feels like to be an outsider Cassidy Hall an LGBTQIA Christian contemplative scholar and podcast host takes us on a journey to queer the contemplative tradition For Hall queering is not solely about identifying as queer or applying queer theory it is about what is gained by seeing things differently Queer she says is the way I tilt my head to look at the world As queerness reawakened her own contemplative life Hall discovered that queering and questioning the tradition allowed her to listen more closely to voices that are queer marginalized and oppressed voices that have long existed but have often been overlooked or silenced For Hall that also meant moving differently into contemplation into silence into liminality and ritual In showing us the way she helps us envision what contemplative faith can look like what spiritual spaces we can reclaim for welcome and how queering contemplation and lifting up queer contemplative voices frees us to seek the infinite possibility of our own identity and engage our spiritual lives with open hearts and open hands Whether you re queer or want to queer your own perspectives or whether you want to uncover the queerness and queer voices in the contemplative tradition Hall throws open the doors of contemplative spirituality for all bringing us to contemplation in very new sometimes old but always queer ways

Good Habits, Bad Habits Wendy Wood,2019-10-01 A landmark book about how we form habits and what we can do with this knowledge to make positive change We spend a shocking 43 percent of our day doing things without thinking about them That means that almost half of our actions aren t conscious choices but the result of our non conscious mind nudging our body to act along learned behaviors How we respond to the people around us the way we conduct ourselves in a meeting what we buy when and how we exercise eat and drink a truly remarkable number of things we do every day regardless of their complexity operate outside of our awareness We do them automatically We do them by habit And yet whenever we want to change something about ourselves we rely on willpower We keep turning to our conscious selves hoping that our determination and intention will be enough to effect positive change And that is why almost all of us fail But what if you could harness the extraordinary power of your unconscious mind which already determines so much of what you do to truly reach your goals Wendy Wood draws on three decades of original research to explain the fascinating science of how we form habits and offers the key to unlocking our habitual mind in order to make the changes we seek A potent mix of neuroscience case studies and experiments conducted in her lab Good Habits Bad Habits is a comprehensive accessible and above all deeply practical book that will change the way you think about almost every aspect of your life By explaining how our brains are wired to respond to rewards receive cues from our surroundings and shut down when faced with too much friction Wood skillfully dissects habit formation demonstrating how we can take advantage of this knowledge to form better habits Her clear and incisive work shows why willpower alone is woefully inadequate when we re working toward building the life we truly want and offers real hope for those who want to make positive change

Pluriversal Conversations on Transnational Feminisms Nina Lykke,Redi Koobak,Petra Bakos,Swati Arora,Kharnita Mohamed,2023-10-27 This edited volume brings transnational feminisms in conversation with intersectional and decolonial approaches The conversation is pluriversal it voices and reflects upon a plurality of geo and corpopolitical as well as epistemic locations in specific Global South East North West contexts The aim is to explore analytical modes that encourage transgressing methodological nationalisms which sustain unequal global power relations and which are still ingrained in the disciplinary perspectives that define much social science and humanities research A main focus of the volume is methodological It asks how an engagement with transnational intersectional and decolonial feminisms can stimulate border crossings Boundaries in academic knowledge building shaped by the limitations imposed by methodological nationalisms are challenged in the book The same applies to the boundaries of conventional disembodied and ethically unaffected academic writing modes The transgressive methodological aims are also pursued through mixing genres and shifting boundaries between academic and creative writing Pluriversal Conversations on Transnational Feminisms is intended for broad global audiences of researchers teachers professionals students from undergraduate to postgraduate levels activists and NGOs interested in questions about decoloniality intersectionality and transnational feminisms as well as in methodologies for boundary transgressing knowledge building
