recovery genetics and environmental considerations represent key factors for achieving high performance on the sports field. In recent years there has been an increased interest in the potential of novel dietary strategies e.g. periodized nutrition and dietary supplements/ergogenic aids to improve individual and team sports athletes' performance. However, the majority of the research in the sports nutrition field has been conducted in endurance or high intensity sports, highlighting the need for specific information and collaborative strategies to support nutritional knowledge and targeted dietary supplementation strategies to inform and support other athletes. The aim of this Research Topic is to provide current findings about the benefits associated with using nutritional interventions and/or dietary supplements/ergogenic aids on supporting or enhancing sports performance with focus on these applications in real world sports contexts e.g. competition training situations etc. Studies that focus on novel interventions/supplements are encouraged. Likewise, studies that report on outcomes related to previously proven supplements/interventions but in an athlete sub population where limited published literature exists will be considered favorably.

Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease, 2Ed PMA Calverley, W. Macnee, N. Pride, S. Rennard, 2003-08-29 Chronic obstructive pulmonary disease COPD is one of the most common respiratory diseases of the developed world and interest in the condition is burgeoning both among physicians encountering the disorder and within the pharmaceutical industry. International guidelines for diagnosis and management have been formulated and our basic understanding of the underlying disease processes has led to major improvements in patient care and the development of new methods of treatment. The new edition of this book reflects these many changes. Developments in the understanding of the underlying disease process, improvements in patient care and new methods of treatment are all covered by an international team of editors and contributors. The first edition published just as the topic was starting to emerge as a key area of interest. This new edition will confirm the text as the key reference work in the field.
