

The image shows the interior of a modern church or chapel. The ceiling is made of light-colored wood with a complex, exposed beam structure. Sunlight filters through the ceiling, creating a pattern of light and shadow on the dark wooden pews below. The pews are arranged in rows, and the overall atmosphere is warm and minimalist.

architecture and planning and postcolonial studies The Experience of Architecture Henry Plummer, 2016-11-22 A thought provoking consideration of how architecture from a doorknob to a city plan can influence human behavior How does the experience of turning a door handle opening a door from one space into another affect us It is no wonder that the door one of the most elemental architectural forms has such metaphorical richness But even on a purely physical human level the cold touch of a brass handle or the swish of a sliding screen gives rise to an emotional reaction sometimes modest occasionally profound This book aims to understand how these everyday acts are influenced by architectural form a concept that is vital for all architects to grasp It considers how specifically built elements and volumes taken from a wide array of buildings and settings around the world can affect our powers of decision From hand carved stairs in Greek villages to free floating catwalks from the elegant processional steps of Renaissance Italy to Frank Lloyd Wright's masterly manipulation of form all provide very different experiences of stepping from one level to the next and all affect our experience of that space Seamlessly integrating text and image each chapter focuses on a different aspect of our daily interactions with architecture looking at stairs floors and paths moving interior spaces perception and perspective transparency and the relationship between a building and its setting This book is not just for architects and designers engaged in the production of space but for all those who seek a richer understanding of their place in the built world Homely Atmospheres and Lighting Technologies in Denmark Mikkel Bille, 2020-05-26 Using case studies such as the use of candlelight and energy saving lightbulbs in Denmark this book unravels light's place at the heart of social life In contrast to common perception of light as a technical and aesthetic phenomenon Mikkel Bille argues that there is a cultural and social logic to lighting practices By empirically investigating the social role of lighting in people's everyday lives Mikkel Bille reveals how and why people visually shape their homes Moving beyond the impact of its use Bille also comments on the politics of lighting to examine how ideas of pollution and home act as barriers for technological fixes to curb energy demand Attitudes to these issues are reflective of how human perceptions and practices are central to the efforts to cope with climate change This ethnographic study is a must read for students of anthropology cultural studies human geography sociology and design The Nature of Nordic Music Tim Howell, 2019-09-19 The Nature of Nordic Music explores two distinctive yet complementary understandings of the term nature the inherent features characters and qualities of contemporary Nordic music and how the elemental forces of nature the phenomena of the physical world landscape climate environment inspire and condition creativity here Within a broader debate about the meaning of Nordicness 12 case studies challenge our assumptions about a Nordic tone to reveal a creative energy that is diverse and cosmopolitan in outlook Each of the three parts of the book Identities Images and Environments accommodates an eclectic array of musical genres classical popular jazz folk electronic This book will appeal to anyone interested in Nordic music and culture especially students and researchers
