Act 2: Personal Response & Review Guide

The first thing that Juliet does is that she has been asked for "Queen Mab," "the fairies' midwife" who "sings a rough madrigal of 'empty husks'" and who "plagues" sleepers with their "imagined" fears. "Mab" is the idea of sleeping women in this play. After this, Mercutio tells his audience and vivid imagination to go with Romeo and offers to go with him. Mercutio notices that Romeo is dreaming about Rosaline in a dream, where there are many other beautiful women. Furthermore, when the equally witty nurse comes to visit the Romeo's balcony in act II, scene IV, Mercutio laughs with her.

While Mercutio has a playful and witty side, he is also an honest, loyal, and different character. His relationship with the Montagues and especially Romeo, in the workplace, is not just in fact, but in spirit. Mercutio grows frustrated when Romeo refuses to fight the Capulet enemy, Tybalt. He easily takes Romeo's place and dies with Tybalt. His sudden and ironic death results in his death—Romeo steps in to stop the fight, and Tybalt finally kills Mercutio under Romeo's arm. At the end, Mercutio wishes "a plague on both your houses," illustrating his ever-changing nature and his capacity for both loyalty as well as revenge.

1. Mercutio and Romeo have different views of love. Whose did you agree with more? Explain fully.

Romeo's view of love:

Romeo is one of the main characters in Romeo and Juliet. He is a young man, a member of the Montague family, and a lover. He is the only son of Lord Montague and Lady Montague. Although he is young, he is also intelligent, adventurous, and romantic. His love for Juliet throughout the play is true, though not necessarily the most mature or wise. He is also a poet, and he is passionate about the idea of love. Although he is a member of the Montague family, he is not a member of the Montague family. He is a member of the Montague family, and he is a member of the Montague family.

At the start of the play, Romeo is a member of the Montague family. They are the Montague family, and they are the Montague family. He is a member of the Montague family, and he is a member of the Montague family.

Collective Improvisation in a Teacher Education Community Linda Farr Darling,Gaalen Erickson,Anthony Clarke,2007-06-04 As has been well illustrated in the other books in this series the notion of self study of teaching and teacher education practices has been taken up by teachers and teacher educators as they have searched for new ways of better understanding the complex work of teaching and learning Self study appears to be attractive to practitioners because a self study approach to researching practice is largely driven by their questions issues and concerns Therefore one immediate value of self study is in the way it can inform and almost immediately influence practice This book edited by Linda Farr Darling Gaalen Erickson and Tony Clarke offers an in depth investigation of the CITE program A Community of Inquiry in Teacher Education and is one of the few examples of that which might be described as an institutional self study Loughran

2005 As such the book illustrates the level of commitment and concern that these teacher educators have for their teacher education practices and for the learning about teaching of their student teachers They demonstrate that it is crucial to question the taken for granted and that in so doing to be careful to seek to be appropriately responsive to disconfirming data
