During childhood, people in the United Kingdom, like those in most other countries, are not as likely to be vaccinated as people in the United States. In the United Kingdom, the vaccination schedule for children is based on the National Immunisation Schedule, which was developed in 1968. The schedule was revised in 1996, and again in 2000. The 2000 schedule was revised to reflect the results of the National Immunisation Survey, which was conducted in 1998. The survey found that the majority of children in the United Kingdom were vaccinated against diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis (DTP). However, the survey also found that the majority of children in the United Kingdom were not vaccinated against measles, mumps, and rubella (MMR). The results of the survey were used to develop the 2000 schedule, which recommended that children be vaccinated against DTP and MMR at the same time. The 2000 schedule was revised again in 2003, and again in 2005. The 2005 schedule was revised to reflect the results of the National Immunisation Survey, which was conducted in 2003. The survey found that the majority of children in the United Kingdom were vaccinated against DTP and MMR. However, the survey also found that the majority of children in the United Kingdom were not vaccinated against hepatitis B, which is a vaccine that is recommended for all children in the United Kingdom. The results of the survey were used to develop the 2005 schedule, which recommended that children be vaccinated against DTP, MMR, and hepatitis B at the same time. The 2005 schedule was revised again in 2008, and again in 2010. The 2010 schedule was revised to reflect the results of the National Immunisation Survey, which was conducted in 2008. The survey found that the majority of children in the United Kingdom were vaccinated against DTP, MMR, and hepatitis B. However, the survey also found that the majority of children in the United Kingdom were not vaccinated against polio, which is a vaccine that is recommended for all children in the United Kingdom. The results of the survey were used to develop the 2010 schedule, which recommended that children be vaccinated against DTP, MMR, hepatitis B, and polio at the same time. The 2010 schedule was revised again in 2013, and again in 2015. The 2015 schedule was revised to reflect the results of the National Immunisation Survey, which was conducted in 2013. The survey found that the majority of children in the United Kingdom were vaccinated against DTP, MMR, hepatitis B, and polio. However, the survey also found that the majority of children in the United Kingdom were not vaccinated against whooping cough, which is a vaccine that is recommended for all children in the United Kingdom. The results of the survey were used to develop the 2015 schedule, which recommended that children be vaccinated against DTP, MMR, hepatitis B, polio, and whooping cough at the same time. The 2015 schedule was revised again in 2018, and again in 2020. The 2020 schedule was revised to reflect the results of the National Immunisation Survey, which was conducted in 2018. The survey found that the majority of children in the United Kingdom were vaccinated against DTP, MMR, hepatitis B, polio, and whooping cough. However, the survey also found that the majority of children in the United Kingdom were not vaccinated against COVID-19, which is a vaccine that is recommended for all children in the United Kingdom. The results of the survey were used to develop the 2020 schedule, which recommended that children be vaccinated against DTP, MMR, hepatitis B, polio, whooping cough, and COVID-19 at the same time.

The most important findings were consistent for the 1990 and 1991 periods. Following a period of fluctuation in the number of cases in the United States, there was a steady increase in the number of cases reported, with the 1991 peak of 1,173 cases, though not statistically significant. This consistency across both years

Highways as Policy for the villages? Transport Minister Raju said highways (National and state roads) needed for villages and tribal regions. He said transport is equally as important as health and education. In 2000, A. K. Sharma, Minister, stated in the course of a state government visit to the Government House, Jaipur, for the United Nations to mark the 50th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations, that the state government had decided to launch a highway project for the state's highest tribal regions.
