Consumer Neuroscience - Foundation, Validation, and Relevance Thomas Zoëga Ramsoy, Hilke Plassmann, Carolyn Yoon, Joseph T. Devlin, 2023-08-07 Consumer neuroscience has become an expanding area of both research and conduct spanning from academic interests in the brain bases of consumption choices to commercial application of neuroscience tools and metrics However many of these advances are still criticized for low applicability scattered publication records conceptual vagueness and a lack of proper scientific and commercial validation To make matters worse there is now a host of proposed commercial applications of both the insights from neuroscience and the application of neuroscience and neurophysiology tools to test consumer responses While many of these approaches may be valid many other approaches are either not properly validated or may be flawed misguided or even outright lies As a discipline there is a need for both the basic and applied research in consumer neuroscience to become aligned The purpose of this Research Topic is to provide this much needed platform for such an industrial alignment In doing so this Research Topic will provide perspectives on three main areas 1 distinctions between basic translational and applied consumer neuroscience research 2 conceptual clarification on key concepts relevant to the science and application of consumer neuroscience 3 validation of consumer neuroscience methods and how they relate to commercially relevant cases For this Research Topic we therefore welcome submissions that combine academic and commercial research all in the vein of making advances in establishing a valid applicable consumer neuroscience

A Comparative Examination of Multi-Party Actions Joanne Blennerhassett, 2016-10-20 This monograph addresses the phenomenon of mass harm and how it may be resolved through collective redress It examines particularly how such redress may be achieved through mechanisms such as multi party actions MPAs In order to do this an analytical framework is created against which to evaluate various multi party procedures This is illustrated through the experience of a selection of common law jurisdictions in dealing with mass harm namely that of England and Wales Canada Australia and the United States as well as that of EU collective redress It examines multi party action laws benchmarked against the objectives identified in the analytical framework The phenomenon of environmental mass harm in particular is explored as a case study as it illustrates some of the difficulties that may arise in mass harm litigation Also this work explores where the best solutions for mass harm redress may lie in the future perhaps in collective actions or through alternatives such as regulation and alternative dispute resolution or a combination of these Finally the experience of mass harm litigation in Ireland is examined as currently this jurisdiction does not have an effective mechanism for dealing with mass harm This title is included in Bloomsbury Professional s International Arbitration online service
