

Counseling and Restatement of Expectations	Counseling and Restatement of Expectations Counseling by the immediate supervisor is the initial step to mentor or coach performance. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Meet with the staff member and affirm expectations regarding performance.</li> <li>• Discuss the performance deficit or behavioral concern.</li> <li>• Provide a timeline and resources for improvement.</li> <li>• Report consequences for no improvement.</li> <li>• Document for an anecdotal file.</li> </ul>
Written Reprimand	Written Reprimand At this time, the immediate supervisor may want to consult a Human Resources representative. After an investigation, follow the procedure outlined above for the counseling process, with the exception of providing documentation to the employee in a letter of reprimand. The letter should outline previous informal efforts and the current problem. Send copies of the signed letter to the department personnel file, proper University authority, and the respective Union, if applicable.
Short Suspension (or Equivalent)  Long Suspension (or Equivalent)	Suspension or Equivalent Fully investigate the concern, followed by discussion with the employee. Summarize previous progressive discipline and the current problem, and specify the timeframe for suspension in writing. Identify further discipline and possible termination as a potential consequence for not meeting and maintaining standards for improvement. Provide copies as for the written reprimand.
Termination	Termination Termination may be necessary when discipline is not successful in improving performance. Review the work history and record of progressive discipline with proper University authority. Schedule a final meeting with the employee and conduct a meeting at which a letter of termination is provided. If necessary, the termination notice may be sent via certified mail. Provide copies as for previous disciplinary measures.

Sample Occupational Performance Issues:

Occupational Therapy Models for Intervention with Children and Families Sandra Barker Dunbar, 2007 This textbook explores recent theoretical models that enable occupational therapists to practice and interact with families in a more holistic and occupation centered manner. It offers the latest information on viewing the broader contexts of environment and family in order to meet diverse occupational needs in a range of settings. The editor presents a variety of case scenarios that feature culturally diverse populations and varying diagnoses of children with occupational needs. With contributions from 11 leaders in occupational therapy, this comprehensive text is designed to increase awareness and understanding of theoretical models and their relationship to current occupational therapy practice with today's children and families. Traditional frames of reference in pediatric practice are explored, including sensory integration and neurodevelopmental treatment. Some current theoretical models discussed include the Model of Human Occupation, the Person-Environment-Occupation model, the Ecology of Human Performance model, and the Occupational Adaptation model. The new Occupational Therapy Practice Framework is incorporated throughout the text. Overall, the textbook employs a practical approach to this significant aspect of pediatric practice in occupational therapy.

Measuring Occupational Performance Mary Law, Carolyn M. Baum, Winnie Dunn, 2024-06-01 As the profession of occupational therapy continues to mature and expand its practice, the measurement of occupational performance is one of the key avenues that all practicing clinicians will need to explore and master. Measuring Occupational Performance: Supporting Best Practice in Occupational Therapy, Third Edition, summarizes the measurement tools needed to assess client occupational performance to provide the best intervention and to document the effectiveness of that intervention. These measurement tools are not just a compilation of all that are available for measurement relevant to occupational therapy; they are an elite group of tools carefully selected by the editors through a process of rigorous theoretical, clinical, and scientific reasoning. In this Third Edition, Drs. Mary Law, Carolyn Baum, and Winnie Dunn have updated current chapters and added new topics that have not been covered in past editions, such as a chapter on measuring school performance, a key area of practice. Also included is a chapter on measurement principles and development to highlight the concepts common to all the measures included in the text. The Third Edition also has a focus on the best measures and measures that are used most frequently. Features of the Third Edition: Offers insight into the importance of measuring functional performance, methodologies, measurement issues, and best approach for outcome measurement. Conveys a broad focus on occupational performance and offers examples from a wide range of practice settings and from multiple spots throughout the lifespan. Explains the technical aspects of measurement development and methodologies and which components of functioning are to be measured and how. Develops an understanding of the theoretical aspects and evidence for both standardized tests and non-standardized tests. Instructors in educational settings can visit www.efacultyounge.com for additional material to be used for teaching in the classroom. New

Keeping track of time Birgitta Wennberg, 2019-11-19 The overall aim of this thesis was to investigate daily time management DTM and time related interventions aiming to enhance participation in everyday activities among school age children and young adults with neurodevelopmental disorders In study I experiences of participation when using time assistive devices TADs in daily activities were investigated from the perspective of young adults aged 17-37 with intellectual disabilities ID n 9 using semi structured interviews In studies II and IV a new multimodal time related intervention consisting of psychoeducation compensation with TADs and time skills training was investigated in children aged 9-15 with attention deficit hyperactivity disorder ADHD Study II was a randomized controlled trial RCT with an intervention group n 19 and a control group n 19 The aim of study III was to describe DTM time processing ability TPA and self rated autonomy in children aged 9-15 with ADHD n 47 compared to children with ID n 47 and typically developing TD children n 47 In study IV occupational performance and satisfaction were evaluated n 27 In studies II III and IV a source for data collection included assessment proxy report and self reports Using TADs study I increased participation in activities in all areas of daily life self care activities at work or school and leisure time activities A feeling of having more control led to health benefits Participants described participation restrictions related to attitudes from their social network towards participation and attitudes towards the use of TADs from the individuals themselves Study II showed that the children in the intervention group increased their TPA significantly more compared to the control group mostly in terms of time orientation The parents in the intervention group rated their children's DTM as significantly more improved compared to the parents of the children in the control group. However, according to the children themselves, there was no statistically significant improvement in their DTM. The psychoeducation for parents and school staff did not increase children's TPA and DTM on its own. The majority of parents and children in study IV rated the children's occupational performance and satisfaction significantly higher at follow-up than at baseline. In general, children rated their occupational performance and satisfaction higher than their parents did. Most goals decided by the children and their parents involved daily routines and time orientation. Study III showed that children with ADHD and children with ID had significantly lower TPA, DTM, and autonomy compared to TD children. Children with ADHD showed higher levels of self-rated autonomy compared to children with ID, but the reverse was found in DTM. However, there was significant diversity among children with ADHD and children with ID, which was not explained by age. Some children had difficulties at every level of TPA, while others were skilled at every level. The level of self-rated autonomy followed the level of TPA. In conclusion, this thesis revealed that children with ADHD and ID have the same overall pattern of TPA but may have a delayed TPA, which affects their DTM and autonomy and thereby also influences their participation in daily activities. The results show that a multimodal time-related intervention using TADs and time skills training could increase TPA and DTM in children with ADHD aged 9-15 years with time deficits. Experiences from young adults with ID also show increased participation in daily activities and health benefits using TADs. It is recommended that TPA and DTM should be measured to identify difficulties in TPA and DTM in children with ADHD and to offer tailored time-related interventions in addition to medication.

Introduction to Occupational Therapy- E-Book Jane Clifford O'Brien, 2011-11-01. A complete overview of the profession and the practice of occupational therapy. Introduction to Occupational Therapy 4th Edition prepares you for the roles, responsibilities, and relationships of the OT practitioner. This edition incorporates the latest revisions of the Occupational Therapy Practice Framework, which defines the OT process and areas of concern. Discussions also include treatment settings, occupational therapy across the lifespan, and evaluation, intervention, and outcomes within the OT process. Written by OT expert Jane Clifford O'Brien, this edition also keeps you current with emerging topics such as working with culturally diverse patients, evidence-based practice, and new practice areas such as driving and obesity. Coverage of different OT practice areas, e.g., adult, geriatric, pediatric, and mental health, prepares you for the variety of clients you will encounter in clinical practice. An emphasis on evidence-based practice helps you think logically and use the literature to form a basis for diagnoses and treatment plans. Case studies and activities in each chapter promote problem-solving skills and demonstrate concepts. The OT Practice Framework and reimbursement mechanisms are addressed in terms of the occupational therapy process, providing a sound basis for decision-making. A broad perspective on OT practice fits the needs of both occupational therapy and occupational therapy assistant students. Chapter objectives, key terms, chapter summaries, and review questions highlight important content in each chapter. A companion Evolve website includes video clips, review questions with answers.
