Climatology and Paleoclimatology of the East African Lakes Thomas C Johnson,Eric O Odada,2019-08-13 The large lakes of the East African Rift Valley are among the oldest on Earth and are vital resources for the people of their basins They are unique among the large lakes of the world in terms of their sensitivity to climatic change rich and diverse populations of endemic species circulation dynamics and water column chemistry and long continuous records of past climatic change A comprehensive study of the large African lakes is long overdue The scientific justification for such an effort is noted in the previous paragraph and is illustrated in great detail in this volume Societal need for the sustainable utilization of these lakes offers an even more compelling reason for examination of biological food webs water quality and past climate variability in East Africa The lakes provide the most important source of protein for the people of the African Rift Valley and fish populations are shifting dramatically in response to fishing pressure introduction of exotic species land use impact on water quality and perhaps climatic change Current estimates of primary productivity the underpinning of the food resource are extremely crude and based on only a few spot measurements New Scientist ,2007 General Technical Report PNW-GTR ,2002 Science and Environment in Chile Javiera Barandiaran,2018-07-31 The politics of scientific advice across four environmental conflicts in Chile when the state acted as a neutral broker rather than protecting the common good In Science and Environment in Chile Javiera Barandiar n examines the consequences for environmental governance when the state lacks the capacity to produce an authoritative body of knowledge Focusing on the experience of Chile after it transitioned from dictatorship to democracy she examines a series of environmental conflicts in which the state tried to act as a neutral broker rather than the protector of the common good She argues that this shift in the role of the state occurring in other countries as well is driven in part by the political ideology of neoliberalism which favors market mechanisms and private initiatives over the actions of state agencies Chile has not invested in environmental science labs state agencies with in house capacities or an ancillary network of trusted scientific advisers despite the growing complexity of environmental problems and increasing popular demand for more active environmental stewardship Unlike a high modernist empire state with the scientific and technical capacity to undertake large scale projects Chile s model has been that of an umpire state that purchases scientific advice from markets After describing the evolution of Chilean regulatory and scientific institutions during the transition Barandiar n describes four environmental crises that shook citizens trust in government the near collapse of the farmed salmon industry when an epidemic killed millions of fish pollution from a paper and pulp mill that killed off or forced out thousands of black neck swans a gold mine that threatened three glaciers and five controversial mega dams in Patagonia

The Teaching Online Handbook Courtney Ostaff, 2020-11-30 Classroom teachers are increasingly expected to teach online creating content area courses from scratch with little support or training But high quality researched based online teaching has its own particular set of skills and expectations and most resources are directed at college level instructors This no nonsense handbook is for that busy classroom teacher with clear techniques for planning instruction and assessment as well as sections on teaching students with diverse needs and exceptionalities Based on the author's real life experiences as an online teacher there are multiple examples including sample assignments across content areas rubrics for grading and sample scripts for parent contact as well as tips to reduce instructor workload and conduct successful live instruction

Panic Now? Ira Allen, 2024-07-29 When was the best time to panic about the varying crises facing humanity Twenty years ago But the next best time Now In line with other considerations of what we have come to call the Anthropocene in Panic Now Tools for Humanizing Ira J Allen takes the reader on a journey through difficult feelings about the various crises facing humanity and from there to new ways of facing impending dread with a sense of empowerment The interrelated threats of climate collapse an artificial intelligence revolution a sixth mass extinction a novel chemical crisis and more are all brought to us by what Allen describes as CaCaCo the carbon capitalism colonialism assemblage After suggesting that it is absolutely time to panic he asks how do we manage to panic productively Admitting there is no one script for everyone to follow the author traces how we might adopt attitudes and practices that allow us to move through this liminal space between fear and action collectively This book is a master class in how to create better more humanizing outcomes by confronting the panic that goes along with the realization that the world as we know it is ending Rather than remaining mentally emotionally imaginatively and practically stuck in this historical condition Allen invites us to a very particular action oriented mode of panic which can indeed incite our imaginations to move from panic to empowerment
