Third Party Sex Work and Pimps in the Age of Anti-trafficking Amber Horning, Anthony Marcus, 2017-01-03 This volume is a compilation of new original qualitative and ethnographic research on pimps and other third party facilitators of commercial sex from the developed and developing world. From African American pimps in the United States and Eastern European migrants in Germany to Brazilian cafet os and cafetinas, this volume features the lives and voices of the men and women who enable diverse and culturally distinct sex markets around the world. In scholarly, popular and policy making discourses, such individuals are typically viewed as larger than life hustlers, violent predators and brutal exploiters. However, there is actually very little empirical research based knowledge about how pimps and third party facilitators actually live, labor and make meaning in their everyday lives. Nearly all previous knowledge derives from hearsay and post hoc reporting from ex sex workers, customers, police and government agents, neighbors and self aggrandizing fictionalized memoirs. This volume is the first published compilation of empirically researched data and analysis about pimps and third parties working in the sex trade across the globe. Situated in an age of highly punitive and ubiquitous global anti trafficking law, it challenges highly charged public policy stereotypes that conflate pimping and sex trafficking in order to understand the lived experience of pimps and the men and women whose work they facilitate.

Development and Distribution Andy Sumner, 2018-07-03 Since the Second World War, surprisingly few developing countries have experienced a truly sustained episode of economic and social convergence towards the structural characteristics of the advanced nations East Asia has exceeded most regions in its achievement of convergence and much has been written on comparative industrialization and development in North East Asia Less discussed is South East Asia and the surprising and inclusive transformation several of its countries has undergone Development and Distribution focuses on South East Asia and more specifically on Malaysia Indonesia and Thailand These three nations have all undergone a major transformation in a way never anticipated from being poor agrarian countries to middle income countries with developed industrial and manufacturing bases How did Malaysia Indonesia and Thailand achieve such a transformation and how did they achieve the transformation with a form of economic growth that was driven by structural transformation but that was inclusive Given that historically it has been thought that structural transformation tends to push up inequality whilst inclusive growth necessitates static or even falling inequality this last point is particularly salient to developing countries Understanding how the transformation was possible in a relatively small space of time the extent to which it was inclusive and the caveats and prospects for South East Asia is thus an area of enquiry significant to all developing countries as they seek economic and social transformation
