The Vast Unknown Broughton Coburn, 2013 By the author of the bestseller Everest Mountain Without Mercy this chronicle of the iconic first American expedition to Mt Everest in May 1963 published to coincide with the climb's 50th anniversary combines riveting adventure a perceptive analysis of its dark and terrifying historical context and unprecedented revelations about its secret motivation born in the midst of the Cold War against the backdrop of the Bay of Pigs fiasco the space race with the Soviet Union and the quagmire of the Vietnam War a band of iconoclastic independent minded American mountaineers set off for Mt Everest aiming to restore America's confidence and optimism Their objective is to reach the summit while conducting scientific research but which route will they take And mysteriously who wants the results of the scientific tests and for what purpose The Vast Unknown is on one level a harrowing character driven account of the climb itself and its legendary team of alternately inspiring troubled and tragic climbers who suffer injuries a near mutiny and death on the mountain It is also an examination of the profound sway the expedition had over the Ame Fallen Giants Maurice Isserman, Stewart Weaver, 2008-09-01 In the first comprehensive history of Himalayan mountaineering in 50 years the authors offer detailed original accounts of the most significant climbs since the 1890s and they compellingly evoke the social and cultural worlds that gave rise to those expeditions Camp Six Frank Smythe, 2013-11-15 Frank Smythe's Camp Six is one of the greatest Everest accounts ever written It is the story of the 1933 Everest Expedition in which Smythe climbing alone after his partner Eric Shipton had turned back ill reached a point perhaps higher than any man had done before and some twenty years before the eventual first ascent Rope less oxygen free and in terrible snow conditions his climb was one of the greatest endeavours in the history of Everest Camp Six is a compelling read a gripping adventure on the highest mountain in the world and a fascinating window into early mountaineering and Himalayan exploration including an illuminating colonial view of early travels in Tibet It is essential reading for all those interested in Everest and in the danger and drama of those early expeditions Frank Smythe was one of the leading mountaineers of the twentieth century an outstanding climber who in his short life he died aged forty nine was at the centre of high altitude mountaineering development in its early years Author of twenty seven immensely popular books he was an early example of the climber as celebrity Everest & Conquest in the Himalaya Richard Sale, George Rodway, 2011-07-12 A history of those who have scaled Mount Everest and the advances in mountaineering over a century At one time the summits of the world's highest peaks Everest included were beyond reach Pioneering attempts to overcome the dangers of climbing at extremely high altitudes ended in failure sometimes with disastrous consequences Yet today high altitude ascents are frequent almost commonplace Everest can be conquered by relatively inexperienced mountaineers and their exploits barely merit media attention unless they go fatally wrong This dramatic history of Everest climbs describes in vivid detail the struggle to conquer the mountain and the advances in scientific knowledge that made the conquest possible It also offers compelling insight into the science of mountaineering as well as the physical and psychological challenges faced by individuals who choose to test themselves in some of the harshest conditions on earth The Mountain Ed Viesturs, 2014-04-29 The only American to have climbed all fourteen of the world's eight thousand meter peaks sets his sights on Mount Everest in a work that combines his own climbs as well as narratives of famous climbs throughout the last century Into Thin Air Jon Krakauer, 2009 Climbing mountaineering High Exposure David Breashears, 2000-05-17 The author a noted mountaineer and cinematographer describes a lifetime of conquering the world's mountain peaks and discusses his 1996 expedition to Mount Everest to create his IMAX film Everest
