The Young Judaeae, 1926 Poverty and Schooling Sue Books, Valerie Polakow, 2001-10-01 This is a special issue of Educational Studies Volume 32 No 3 from 2001 Its main focus is poverty and schooling with two guest editors that have been deeply involved in research and teaching on the problem of children in poverty for many years and bring their considerable expertise to this excellent collection of scholarship and reviews Reading the Human Body Mladen Popović, 2007 Offering new reconstructions and interpretations of physiognomic and astrological texts from Qumran in comparison with Babylonian and Greco Roman texts this book gives a fresh view of their sense function and status within both the Qumran community and Second Temple Judaism The Literary Representation of World War II Childhood Mary Honan, 2017-08-21 Focusing on twenty one primary texts about childhood under Nazism this book examines how childhood in literature has changed over the years from the Romantic writers to child slave labour in the Victorian era the child soldier and the impact of deportation on both the child victim and their families post wartime The genres covered here range from diaries letters comics allegories time travel novels fairy tales and novels about the Hitler Youth Because of its broad focus the work will be of interest to a broad readership from survivors of World War II and their families to historians teachers and librarians It will also benefit those practitioners working in the areas of deportation trauma child soldiering and human rights and tolerance studies Reading Dante in Renaissance Italy Simon Gilson, 2018-02-15 Examines Dante s reception in the culture and criticism of Renaissance Italy with a particular focus on Florence and Venice Reading Romans with Roman Eyes James R. Harrison, 2020-06-22 Paul s letter to the Romans has a long history in Christian dogmatic battles But how might the letter have been heard by an audience in Neronian Rome James R Harrison answers that question through a reader response approach grounded in deep investigations of the material and ideological culture of the city from Augustus to Nero Inscriptional archaeological monumental and numismatic evidence in addition to a breadth of literary material allows him to describe the ideological value system of the Julio Claudian world which would have shaped the perceptions and expectations of Paul s readers Throughout Harrison sets prominent Pauline themes his obligation to Greeks and barbarians newness of life and of creation against the power of death the body of Christ boasting in glory and God s purpose in and for Israel in startling juxtaposition with Roman ideological themes The result is a richer and more complex understanding of the letter s argument and its possible significance for contemporary readers Reading and Experience: A Philosophical Investigation Alexander Samely, 2024-06-10 This text is the first comprehensive attempt in decades to integrate reading into the philosophical discussion of the synthesis of experience more generally It offers a comprehensive critique of three disciplinary approaches to reading philosophical literary and empirical neuroscientific while developing an innovative and unifying phenomenological account It discusses texts from a variety of contemporary and historical contexts It is inclusive treating non fiction alongside fiction literary art alongside everyday texts and narrative alongside thematic discourse It addresses all reading practices

found today casual and unreflective reading close and scholarly reading with re reading the analysis of literary art and sacred text study and memorization In the current intellectual landscape the book is unique in bringing all these aspects together in a philosophically coherent discussion The book provides a critique of philosophical accounts of text meaning and linguistic experience by philosophers from Husserl and Ingarden to Sartre Merleau Ponty Arendt Gadamer and Derrida and examines the positions of contemporary naturalizing phenomenologists such as Varela and Thompson Also treated are neuroscientists such as Dehaene and theorists of consciousness such as Kintsch Flanagan and Dennett Finally this volume engages with psychological linguistic structuralist theory of mind and experiential approaches in literary studies from B hler and Hamburger to Fludernik Herman and Kuzmi ov It appeals to students and researchers working in these fields Index Medicus ,2001 Vols for 1963 include as pt 2 of the Jan issue Medical subject headings Foundations of Reading, Writing, and Proving Manish Joshi,2025-02-20 Foundations of Reading Writing and Proving is a comprehensive exploration of the interconnected processes that form the backbone of effective communication and critical thinking We delve into the fundamental skills of reading writing and logical reasoning offering a holistic approach to mastering these essential skills We begin by examining the art of reading with comprehension and depth Strategies for extracting meaning from texts analyzing arguments and evaluating evidence are explored through practical exercises and real world examples Moving on to writing we provide a roadmap for effective communication Techniques for crafting clear and compelling arguments structuring essays and reports and integrating evidence seamlessly are covered A significant portion is dedicated to the art of proving encompassing logical reasoning argumentation and critical thinking We delve into deductive and inductive reasoning constructing sound arguments identifying fallacies and assessing claim validity The emphasis is on practical application and skill development with exercises case studies and writing prompts designed to reinforce learning and encourage active participation Whether students looking to enhance academic skills or professionals seeking to improve communication abilities this book is a valuable resource Foundations of Reading Writing and Proving empowers readers to engage critically with information communicate effectively and construct persuasive arguments grounded in sound evidence Reading the Royal Monument in Eighteenth-Century Europe Charlotte Chastel-Rousseau,2017-07-05 Reading the Royal Monument in Eighteenth Century Europe is the first in depth study of the major role played by royal monuments in the public space of expanding cities across eighteenth century Europe Using the royal public statues as the basis for its examination of modern European cities the book considers the development of urban landscapes from the creation of capital cities to the last embers of the Ancien R me and at how the royal politics of the arts affected the cityscapes of the time The focus of the book thereby intersects across a spectrum of disciplines including the social and architectural history of cities the politics of urban planning the history of monumental sculpture and the material culture of the eighteenth century The United States Catalog ,1906 Chasing Literacy Daniel Keller,2013-12-02 Arguing that composition should renew its interest in reading pedagogy and research Chasing Literacy offers writing instructors and literacy scholars a framework for understanding and responding to the challenges posed by the proliferation of interactive and multimodal communication technologies in the twenty first century Employing case study research of student reading practices Keller explores reading writing connections in new media contexts He identifies a culture of acceleration a gathering of social educational economic and technological forces that reinforce the values of speed efficiency and change and challenges educators to balance new faster literacies with traditional slower literacies In addition Keller details four significant features of contemporary literacy that emerged from his research accumulation and curricular choices literacy perceptions speeds of rhetoric and speeds of reading Chasing Literacy outlines a new reading pedagogy that will help students gain versatile dexterous approaches to both reading and writing and makes a significant contribution to this emerging area of interest in composition theory and practice Professional Java

Standard Catalog Bimonthly H.W. Wilson Company,1922 Associations between Reading and Mathematics: Genetic, Brain Imaging, Cognitive and Educational Perspectives Sarit Ashkenazi,Orly Rubinsten,Bert De Smedt,2017-10-05 Converging evidence demonstrates a strong link between reading and mathematics multiple cognitive processes are shared between reading and mathematics including the representation and retrieval of symbolic information attention working memory and cognitive control Additionally multiple brain networks are involved in both math and reading and last common genetic factors might influence both reading and math Hence it comes as no surprise that there are meaningful associations between aspects of math and reading abilities Moreover comorbidity rates between math learning disabilities MD and reading disabilities RD are high up to 66% and prevalence rate of the comorbid condition is reported to be more common than the prevalence rate of isolated math learning disabilities Accordingly the goal of the research topic is to explore the underline mechanisms of this overlap between reading and math The research topic aims to include the following topics

Genetics it has been found that both RD and MD are based on genetic factors and run in families Moreover math problem solving shares significant genetic overlap with general cognitive ability and reading decoding whereas math fluency shares significant genetic overlap with reading fluency and general cognitive ability Hence this topic will explore the shared and unique genetic risk factors to RD and MD In addition to shared and unique genetic influence on reading and math

Neural perspective converging evidence from both structural and multiple functional imaging studies involving a wide range of numerical tasks points to the intraparietal sulcus IPS as a core region that involve in quantity manipulation However several additional brain areas such as frontoparietal and temporoparietal areas were found to be involved in numerical tasks

Individuals with MD show deficits in a distributed set of brain regions that include the IPS fusiform gyrus in posterior brain regions and pre frontal cortex regions Similarly converging evidence indicate that the left hemisphere regions centered in the fusiform gyrus temporoparietal cortex and pre frontal cortex regions are strongly involve in typical reading and present lower activity connectivity or abnormal structure in RD Thus there is a meaningful neural overlap between reading and math Hence the authors can submit empirical studies on the role of several of brain regions that are involved in math and reading commonality and diversity both in the typical and a typical development Cognitive factors that play role in mathematics and reading and comorbidity between RD and MD There is a long lasting debate whether MD and RD originate from unique cognitive mechanisms or not Multiple cognitive processes are shared between reading and mathematics Therefore impairments in any one of domain general skills could conceivably play an important role in both pure and comorbid conditions Moreover it has been suggested that phonological processing has a significant role in some aspects of numerical processing such as retrieval of arithmetical facts

Education it will be interesting to look at the effect of interventions that aim to improve reading such as phonological awareness and there transfer effect on improving mathematical processing

Alternatively it will be good to test whether math interventions will improve reading
