

Robin Hood Case Study Analysis

Case Problem:

This case is about Robin Hood's movement against High Sheriff of Nottingham. Robin Hood's primary issue was the expanding size of his band. At first, he had believed that quality lay in numbers and the more Merry men he had, the better it would be for him to successfully battle against the sheriff's organization. He didn't put enough idea into controlling the quantity of individuals being selected. The dilemma occurred when the increasing number of men had made the band a corporation. The more men were selected into the association, the less eye to eye communication Robin had experienced with each of his men.

Moreover, the capacity to fund the increasing number of people became very scarce. Supplies needed to be obtained from outlying villages. This is a very clear consequence of any expanding organization. A formal structure needed to be enforced and a chain of executive party needed to be established so as to monitor the increased number of people in the organization. The initial mission of the band, "Rob the rich and give to the poor" was no longer effective to the band. The funds obtained from the outright confiscation of the rich were no longer accommodating the increasing number of the people in the band.

In addition they have to stay focused on their long term goal to remove Prince John from power by freeing King Richard from his imprisonment in Austria. Robin Hood has to form structure within his organization so that it can continue to grow and prosper.

SWOT Analysis:

Strengths-

- Huge number of the members in the band gives them a upper hand in fighting with the Sheriff.
- Robin Hood was a strong and influential leader who had strong support of the poor people

Weakness-

- Big number of workforce was a problem as there were limited resources
- Also this led to another problem that is lack of discipline amongst members
