The Armed Forces Covenant in action? Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Defence Committee, 2013-07-18 A series of Ofsted inspections on Army Apprenticeships conducted in 2013 rated the overall effectiveness as good This was an improvement over the last inspection in 2009 rated as satisfactory now called requires improvement Some 28 per cent of Army recruits were less than 18 years of age Further information is needed on why the Army is so dependent on recruiting personnel under the age of 18 years compared to the other two Services and whether steps are being taken to reduce this dependency Of those recruited in 2012 3 5 per cent of the Army were rated at entry level 2 for literacy that of a 7 to 8 year old and 39 per cent had a literacy level of an eleven year old If as the MoD states it has to recruit personnel at whatever level of attainment is available then it should boost remedial action when recruitment entry standards are particularly low In light of changes brought about by Future Force 2020 it may be that recruiting personnel with higher levels of attainment would better meet the future needs of the Armed Forces Whilst the Committee recognises that some recruits may not be eager to take further academic exams the MoD should encourage more recruits to undertake English and Maths GCSEs which would stand them in good stead for future employment The MoD has carried out some useful pilot projects with paramedic training and should identify more potential projects to ensure that vital skills paid for by the MoD are not lost to the country

HC 712 - The Work of the Immigration Directorates (January - June 2014) Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Home Affairs Committee, 2014 In 1998 the previous government abolished exit checks paper based embarkation records of passengers departing from the UK because they were too resource intensive Those universal exit checks were replaced by an intelligence led approach using CCTV and greater liaison between border agencies port operators and transport carriers This approach was subsequently superseded by the e Borders programme announced in February 2005 The e Borders programme has stalled and was terminated in March 2014 and that the Home Office would be replacing individual systems such as the Warnings Index and Semaphore separately At the moment data for air passengers travelling in and out of the UK is sourced from carrier lists known as Advanced Passenger Information API Air passengers buy tickets in advance and check in a reasonable time before departure so API coverage is good about 80% and increasing Coverage is not so good for rail and ferry passengers partly because of the ticketing systems and partly because customers can decide to travel buy a ticket and have checked in at a time near to departure Both the Minister and the Director General of Border Force have assured the Committee that 100% exit checks will be in place by 31st March 2015 To deliver exit checks the Home Office needs to find a mechanism that can count all of the rail and maritime passengers as they depart the UK by the end of March Exit checks will be carried out by the transport operators staff not Border Force The Committee hope this can be delivered

results Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee,2013-06-11 The 2012 GCSE English results prompted significant controversy which ultimately resulted in an application for judicial review This report sets out the background to these events and identifies lessons to be learned The problems with GCSE English can be traced back to the 2007 09 development phase of the qualification in particular the turbulence which resulted from the shift away from a mostly linear to a modular system combined with a high proportion of controlled assessment and generous marking tolerances Exam board experts raised concerns at the time but these were not acted upon by the regulator the then interim Ofqual Further difficulties arose because of pressures from the school accountability system The problems experienced with GCSE English in 2012 highlighted serious weaknesses in the moderation of speaking and listening with consequences for grade awarding The current status of Ofqual as an independent regulator accountable to Parliament is the right one However the Coalition Government is bringing in wholesale changes to GCSEs and A levels to a tight timetable and at the same time Ofqual must have systems in place The Committee is also concerned that there is a rush towards separate exam systems for England Wales and Northern Ireland without careful reflection on what might be lost or consensus that this is the right thing to do

Hayden,2022-05-14 This book is the most comprehensive account yet published about the education system in Cambodia It covers all system levels and draws upon the knowledge and insights of a wide range of leading Cambodian and foreign scholars The book focuses on how the system has developed and is making progress Significant achievements over the past two decades are evident but many problems remain including the poor quality of teaching research and institutional management Under funding is an ongoing obstacle but so too is a bureaucratic culture of resistance to change a history of weak governance and an anti reform sentiment deriving from a teacher centred and exam driven curriculum Achieving international standards must now be the system s highest priority To this end the system must rid itself of conservatism complacency and manipulation by parochial vested interests
