The Armed Forces Covenant in action? Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Defence Committee,2013-07-18 A series of Ofsted inspections on Army Apprenticeships conducted in 2013 rated the overall effectiveness as good This was an improvement over the last inspection in 2009 rated as satisfactory now called requires improvement Some 28 per cent of Army recruits were less than 18 years of age Further information is needed on why the Army is so dependent on recruiting personnel under the age of 18 years compared to the other two Services and whether steps are being taken to reduce this dependency Of those recruited in 2012 3 5 per cent of the Army were rated at entry level 2 for literacy that of a 7 to 8 year old and 39 per cent had a literacy level of an eleven year old If as the MoD states it has to recruit personnel at whatever level of attainment is available then it should boost remedial action when recruitment entry standards are particularly low In light of changes brought about by Future Force 2020 it may be that recruiting personnel with higher levels of attainment would better meet the future needs of the Armed Forces Whilst the Committee recognises that some recruits may not be eager to take further academic exams the MoD should encourage more recruits to undertake English and Maths GCSEs which would stand them in good stead for future employment The MoD has carried out some useful pilot projects with paramedic training and should identify more potential projects to ensure that vital skills paid for by the MoD are not lost to the country

Towards a Psychophysiological Approach in Physical Activity, Exercise, and Sports Pedro Forte,Daniel Leite Portella,Diogo Monteiro,José Eduardo Teixeira,2023-10-30 In recent years there has been an increase in interest in mental health disorders as a result of mediatic coverage of Olympic athletes mental health struggles and also due to the COVID 19 pandemic lockdowns These phenomena helped to further exacerbate a problem already extensively present in sport and society Therefore applying a psychophysiological approach to physical activity exercise and sports research has become very popular Indeed mental fatigue and mental disorders are not only psychological in origin but also require an explanation from a psychophysiological perspective due to the effective interconnection between the psychological and physiological dimensions Psychological variables can also influence performance and the psychophysiological system has a strong effect on the control of physical capacities Moreover pacing behaviour decision making self regulation and effort perception can also explain the role of the brain in physical activity and exercise management Thus the aim of this Research Topic is to share the impact of a psychophysiological approach in physical activity exercise and sports
