

The block diagram illustrates the power supply and control system for the 1000W Class D amplifier. It features two main input channels, Channel 1 and Channel 2, each with a 'BALANCE' control. The control system includes a 'POWER TRANSDUCER' (a transformer) connected to a '1000W CLASS D AMPLIFIER' block. The amplifier's output is connected to a 'POWER TRANSDUCER' (a transformer) which is then connected to an 'AC POWER PLANT'. The control system also includes a 'PROTECTION LED' and a 'DC DETECTION THERMAL PROTECTION' block. The diagram shows the flow of power from the AC power plant through the transformer and amplifier to the output, and the control signals from the input channels and protection blocks to the amplifier.
