Seascapes Sugimoto Hiroshi:

Hiroshi Sugimoto Hiroshi Sugimoto, 2019 For more than 30 years Hiroshi Sugimoto has traveled the world photographing its seas producing an extended meditation on the passage of time and the natural history of the earth reduced to its most basic primordial substances water and air Always capturing the sea at a moment of absolute tranquility Sugimoto has composed all the photographs identically with the horizon line precisely bifurcating each image The repetition of this strict format reveals the uniqueness of each meeting of sea and sky with the horizon never appearing exactly the same way twice The photographs are romantic yet absolutely rigorous apparently universal but exceedingly specific Hiroshi Sugimoto: Seascapes □□□□, 2015-10-01 Hiroshi Sugimoto : Seascapes , 2019-03-07 L'eau et l'air ces substances primordiales qui rendent la vie possible sur Terre constituent le sujet de la série des Seascapes paysages marins de Hiroshi Sugimoto Depuis trente ans Sugimoto parcourt le monde en photographiant les mers L'ensemble de son oeuvre est une longue méditation sur le passage du temps et sur l'histoire naturelle de la Terre Avec cette série Sugimoto qui appelle la photographie la fossilisation du temps saisi un moment spécifique tout en évoquant un sentiment d'intemporalité Ce volume rassemble l'impression augmentée d'une dizaine d'images présente la série complète qui contient plus de 200 Seascapes Les images sont toutes de format identique précisément divisées par la ligne d'horizon bien que parfois la mer et le ciel se fondent en une seule entité Chaque photographie saisit un moment où la mer est calme presque totale Un texte de Munesuke Mita professeur de sociologie à l'Université de Tokyo examine l'art contemporain à l'aune de la sociologie reliant l'histoire récente de l'art aux prévisions mathématiques de croissance démographique et établit un lien entre l'oeuvre de Sugimoto Hiroshi Sugimoto , 2015 Water and air These primordial substances which make possible all life on earth are the subject of Hiroshi Sugimoto's Seascapes series For over thirty years Sugimoto has traveled the world photographing its seas producing a body of work that is an extended meditation on the passage of time and the natural history of the earth Sugimoto has called photography the fossilization of time and the Seascapes photographs simultaneously capture a discrete moment in time but also evoke a feeling of timelessness This volume the second in a series of books on Sugimoto's art presents the complete series of over 200 Seascapes some of which have never before been reproduced All are identical in format with the horizon line precisely bifurcating each image though at times the sea and sky almost merge into one seamless unit Each photograph captures a moment when the sea is placid almost flat Within this strict format however he has created a limitless array of portraits of his subjects An essay by Munesuke Mita Professor of Sociology at the University of Tokyo examines contemporary art through a sociological lens comparing the recent history of art with mathematical predictions of population growth He connects Sugimoto's body of work to this unique analysis of the art world Hiroshi Sugimoto , 2000 Hiroshi Sugimoto Hiroshi Sugimoto, 2000 Hiroshi Sugimoto Hiroshi Sugimoto, 1988 Of All Time Helen Dixon, 2013 Hiroshi Sugimoto Collection , 2021-11 The Hiroshi Sugimoto Collection includes the five books published by Damiani and MW Editions from 2014 to 2019 about five iconic series by the Japanese artist Hiroshi Sugimoto. Adopting different conceptual approaches and astounding aesthetic expedients, all these series investigate Sugimoto's obsession with the photographic medium: the passing of time or, in his own words, the fossilization of time.

Dioramas 2014 This series began when he moved to New York City from Japan in 1974; it spans almost four decades. While looking at the galleries in the American Museum of Natural History, he noticed that if he looked at the dioramas with one eye closed, the artificial scenes looked utterly convincing. In the Dioramas series, Sugimoto persuades the viewer that the photographer has captured a living moment in time, although each scene is an elaborately crafted fiction.

Seascapes 2015 Water and air. These primordial substances, which make possible all life on earth, are the subject of Hiroshi Sugimoto's Seascapes series. For over thirty years, Sugimoto has traveled the world, photographing its seas, producing a body of work that is an extended meditation on the passage of time and the natural history of the earth. The Hiroshi Sugimoto Collection includes the first edition of Seascapes. This book, as well as its second edition, released in 2018, are completely sold out worldwide.

Theaters 2016 Since the end of the 1970s, Sugimoto has been photographing the interiors of theaters using a large format camera and no lighting other than the projection of the running movie. He opens the aperture when a film begins and closes it when it ends. In the resulting images, the screen becomes a luminous white box, its ambient light subtly bringing forward the rich architectural details of these spaces. The book sold out worldwide and is now available again only as part of the Hiroshi Sugimoto Collection.

Portraits 2018 At first glance, Hiroshi Sugimoto's photographic portrait of King Henry VIII of England is arresting. It seems as though the twenty-first century artist has traveled back nearly five hundred years in time to photograph his royal subject. The portraits of wax figures, which in this volume are presented alongside a handful of portraits of living subjects, and memento mori call into question what it is that the portrait captures.

Architecture 2019 In 1997, Hiroshi Sugimoto began a series of photographs of significant works of modernist architecture, intending to trace the beginnings of our age via architecture. By virtue of their blurriness and lack of color, the images strip down buildings to their essence, to what we might imagine was the architect's first pure vision of form.

Hiroshi Sugimoto, 2020 Hiroshi Sugimoto: Enoura Observatory Hiroshi Sugimoto, 2025-10 Artist Hiroshi Sugimoto is renowned for the conceptual rigor and flawless technical execution of his work exemplified in photographic series such as Seascapes and Theaters Along with photography Sugimoto has made sculpture and architecture for more than twenty years Since the early 2010s he has been constructing the Enoura Observatory and with his singular vision he has brought together ancient and contemporary Japanese traditions in one seemingly timeless art and architectural complex Enoura Observatory Land of Distant Memories provides an account of this stunning multidisciplinary project The Observatory home to the artist's Odawara Art Foundation is sited on a hilly area covered with citrus trees in Odawara nestled against the outer rim of the Hakone Mountains and overlooking Sagami Bay Sugimoto envisions it as a forum for disseminating art and culture both within Japan and to the rest of the world The complex comprises a hundred meter long gallery space a Noh theater stage a re-creation of a sixteenth century tea ceremony room a restored Muromachi Period

Meigetsu Gate a strolling garden and the Winter Solstice Light Worship Tunnel which juts out over the hills and offers a breathtaking view of the Sagami Bay Odawara is home to groups of artisans with mastery of sophisticated techniques that have been handed down for centuries Sugimoto has constructed the Enoura Observatory using these techniques which are growing increasingly difficult to preserve The artist says of this project In a sprawling mikan citrus grove I established the Enoura Observatory with the aim of conveying to a wide audience the unique essence of Japanese culture a continuous legacy dating back to the prehistoric Jomon period which is the art of living in harmony with nature In today s grim world of rampant materialism and consumerism when so much natural splendor has been destroyed it is the revival of these ancient Japanese traditions that we need most The beautiful photographs in Enoura Observatory Land of Distant Memories show the site in all four seasons and at different times of day revealing Sugimoto s poetic vision for this total work of art that is the culmination of his art practice

Stories from the Camera Michele M.
