National Aeronautics and Space Administration,1966 Moving Picture World and View Photographer ,1918 Representation in Old Testament Narrative Texts Jacobus Marais,2021-10-11 This work focuses on the literary conventions of narrative texts in the Hebrew Bible in particular the mode of representation in the book of Judges The theory of integrational semantics developed by Benjamin Hrushovski is systematized to form a theoretical framework within which representation is conceptualized The author suggests a novel reading of the Judges narratives to demonstrate particular conventions of representation The notions of paradoxality perspectivity and juxtaposition are used to demonstrate the potential value of types of logic alternative to modernist logic in reading ancient Hebrew narratives A hypothetical representeme is constructed for the book of Judges to make it clear that the mode of representation is neither mimesis nor historiography but narrative representing by convention and not by correspondence to history Proceedings of The 17th East Asian-Pacific Conference on Structural Engineering and Construction, 2022 Guoqing Geng,Xudong Qian,Leong Hien Poh,Sze Dai Pang,2023-03-13 This book presents articles from The 17th East Asian Pacific Conference on Structural Engineering and Construction 2022 organized by National University of Singapore These peer reviewed articles authored by professional engineers academics and researchers highlight the recent research and developments in structural engineering and construction embracing the theme Towards a Resilient and Sustainable City The papers presented in this proceeding provide in depth discussions with key insights into the future research development and engineering translation in structural engineering and construction Technical Abstract Bulletin Defense Documentation Center (U.S.),1964 Microwave Remote Sensing of Sea Ice Frank D. Carsey,1992-04-08 Published by the American Geophysical Union as part of the Geophysical Monograph Series Volume 68 Human activities in the polar regions have undergone incredible changes in this century Among these changes is the revolution that satellites have brought about in obtaining information concerning polar geophysical processes Satellites have flown for about three decades and the polar regions have been the subject of their routine surveillance for more than half that time Our observations of polar regions have evolved from happenstance ship sightings and isolated harbor icing records to routine global records obtained by those satellites Thanks to such abundant data we now know a great deal about the ice covered seas which constitute about 10% of the Earth s surface This explosion of information about sea ice has fascinated scientists for some 20 years We are now at a point of transition in sea ice studies we are concerned less about ice itself and more about its role in the climate system This change in emphasis has been the prime stimulus for this book The Editor ,1915

The Editor; the Journal of Information for Literary Workers ,1916 Bioeconomy of Buildings Jan Grossarth, 2025-03-17 This book looks at how the bioeconomy and circular economy can help make construction more resource conserving The construction sector is at a crossroads searching for pathways to smarter material use whether bricks steel concrete or wood While technical solutions and innovative concepts exist their widespread adoption lags This inertia stems not just from technical or economic challenges but also from the deeper often overlooked layers of social and cultural dynamics the roles of actors institutions and collective perceptions of ecological crises The book weaves together quantitative insights and qualitative reflections exploring the rich history of resource conscious construction while embracing the promise of groundbreaking biotechnological innovations Can materials like lab grown bioplastics innovative cements recycled components or renewable resources such as CLT wood and straw bale construction drive progress toward material longevity What contributions can sustainable architecture rooted in aesthetics character originality and historical continuity make to these efforts What roles do certifications and lifecycle assessments play This book explores these questions offering a compelling narrative through the bioeconomy approach which envisions circular material flows grounded in economic pragmatism Since the 1950s when craftsmanship in construction was replaced by industrial processes knowledge about the value of materials was supplanted by cheap poorly applied chemistry As a result we built residential developments and suburbs that are not only aesthetically unappealing but also riddled with hazardous waste This book by Jan Grossarth has several strengths Firstly it avoids the trap of suggesting that the future of construction must rely solely on wood and biological materials eschewing the utopian vision of a back to nature approach to building Instead it offers a broad overview of the bewilderingly numerous concepts and ideologies surrounding sustainability bringing together many promising paths that are emerging in construction Prof Michael Braungart The Canadian Patent Office Record Canada.
