Instructions and scoring

To cite: Goodall, K. and Swrikar, V. (2023). The rating of emotional abuse in childhood (REACH) Questionnaire: A new self-report measure assessing history of childhood emotional abuse. Child Abuse & Neglect, 146, 106498. <https://doi.org/10.1016/j.chiabu.2023.106498>

The REACH is a 23-item measure of childhood emotional abuse that encompasses a range of types of emotional abuse. In addition, it yields two sub-scales: a threat sub-scale which measures behaviours that can are likely to cause fear or fright, and a devaluing subscale that describes behaviours likely to engender the impression that a child is 'lesser than', disliked or worthless. It also yields a total score. The REACH is free to use, provided that a statement of copyright is included in any output.

The Encyclopedia of Violence, Peace and Conflict is designed to help us to take stock of our knowledge concerning these crucial phenomena. Ten years on, the need for an authoritative and cross disciplinary approach to the great issues of violence and peace seems greater than ever. More than 200 authoritative multidisciplinary articles in a 3 volume set. Many brand new articles alongside revised and updated content from the First Edition. Family Violence in a Cultural Perspective Kathleen Malley-Morrison, Denise Hines, 2004. The writing style is engaging and the stories are compelling. Rather than presenting facts and statistics the authors invite the reader to actively participate in current debates in the family violence research. Family Violence in a Cultural Perspective provides a new interesting approach. Carolyn M West, University of Washington Tacoma. A major achievement in compilation and review beautifully written. This book accomplishes a necessary and admirable goal of bringing a widely dispersed body of knowledge together. Jean Giles Sims, Texas Christian University. What is maltreatment? How do definitions, causes, consequences and efforts to combat problems vary across the major ethnic groups within the United States? Family Violence in a Cultural Perspective: Defining, Understanding and Combating Abuse provides a thought provoking and informative discussion of cross cultural issues in family violence in the United States. The book focuses on family violence from four major ethnic populations of the United States: Native American, Indian, African American, Hispanic/Latino and Asian American. Authors Kathleen Malley-Morrison and Denise A. Hines examine violence in these communities and take an ecological approach to its incidences, correlations and consequences. The information and cases in Family Violence in a Cultural Perspective are organized within a cognitive-affective-ecological framework allowing readers to consider the many causes of family violence. The book looks at the different types of family violence including child, spousal and elder abuse and addresses the broader historical and environmental forces contributing to violence within different communities. Features and Benefits: Real family case studies and Personal Reflections boxes from members of various ethnic communities covered in the book stimulate class discussion. Each chapter contains frequent mini summaries of the material presented and thought questions that help readers reflect upon the difficult issues being addressed. The book includes tables summarizing research on the rate of family violence within major ethnic groups and key terms are highlighted within the text. Each chapter opens with provocative quotes or examples and closes with a summary section. Family Violence in a Cultural Perspective is designed for undergraduate and graduate students taking family violence courses in Family Studies, Psychology, Sociology, Social Work and Human Services. This book is also a vital resource for professionals and practitioners working with diverse client populations. Social Workers' Desk
