

Teaching Philosophy

My teaching philosophy is: "To create students-techno-centered ambiance wherein students learn through fun, doing activities, active participation, and a spirit of cooperation and collaboration in the peer group or teamwork to make them autonomous with full sense of pride and confidence."

My teaching practices empower students to realize their full potential by providing opportunities, support, feedback, and guidance to achieve the learning outcomes. I plan various activities based on given curriculum, students' learning styles and real-life situations with an aim for the students to comprehend, engage, practice and construct products to display and reflect on tangible progress and desired results. This enables me to bring about the paradigm shift from rote/memorizing method to widen cognitive skills and think critically and apply it in real-life situations to tackle problems creatively. I, through these classroom practices, endeavor to make the classroom an arena for students to learn, develop and demonstrate the productive and the receptive skills.

We pass through a revolutionary phase of rapid technological advances bringing in new challenges. Today, teachers should not only extend beyond delivering the lecture and passing on information but also go through training, seminars, workshops, and conferences to acquaint, develop, analyze and communicate new knowledge. Mostly, I found the students learn more effectively in informal discussions during office hours and interacting on social media beyond classroom settings. I adopt the co-teaching approach to learning much from my colleagues and students. I still foresee to ongoing teaching, research, training and learning en route from my peers and students to grow and learn new things.

I believe that teaching is not about one individual student, but about hopes, expectations, and aspiration of many students. And when the institution exists to impose faith and empower its teachers with autonomy, good curriculum, evaluation standards, and encouraging environment to teach rather to put obstacles in their path, progress is

Towards Anti-Racist Educational Research Delane A. Bender-Slack, Francis Godwyll, 2024-04-08 Towards Anti Racist Educational Research Radical Moments and Movements is a call for educational researchers and teachers to engage in the work needed to be anti racist In the academy there is no place for neutrality when it comes to race One either endorses the idea of a racial hierarchy or that of racial equality Educators and researchers either believe problems are rooted in groups of people or locate the roots of problems in power and policies Therefore we can either allow racial inequities to continue or confront racial inequities Delane Bender Slack and Francis Godwyll work to confront those racial inequities in educational research As they continue to grapple with their role in radical moments and movements from various identities perspectives and positionalities they strive to identify their intellectual social and cultural labor in their research and in this writing as anti racist The editors define what it could mean to be anti racist in research methods projects and agendas and they pose the following questions How do we ask anti racist research questions How do we create anti racist curricula How do we design anti racist policies What does it mean to be racially humanizing educational researchers How do we intentionally work towards racial justice On the Familiar Essay G. Atkins,2009-10-26 Rooted in close reading of texts including the essays of E B White this comprehensive assessment of the oft slighted subform of the literary essay situates the familiar at the heart of the essay as form The Handbook of the Evolving Research of Transformative Learning Kathleen P. King,2009-05-01 Associate Editor Seamus King This handbook is a much expanded version of the original Learning Activities Survey published by Dr Kathleen P King of Fordham University in 1998 Based on her ground breaking research in this field where she used a mixed methodology research approach to study transformative learning the book will provide a model of research firsthand perspective of how research design develops reprints of articles based on the related research and specific assistance in conducting further research in this area Over 50 studies around the world have been conducted base on King s original research and her work has extended across more than 12 studies since the original publication Moreover this volume is a vital research companion book to King s popular book Bringing Transformative Learning to Life Krieger 2005 Based on our history with the prior edition it is sold out this book will have wide appeal among adult education human resource development psychology and counseling researchers students professors and practitioners and it serve as an excellent textbook or personal introduction studies of foundations of adult learning applied research or transformative learning Professors and students of adult learning counseling human resource development staff development educational administration and leadership psychology and other social sciences use this as a guide for research studies especially in the area of adult learning and or transformative learning Readers will find that this handbook provides an overview of King s transformative learning research dating back to 1997 a manual for use of the research tools a research methodology and an approach to open new vistas of research The first manual published in 1998 is now out of print and this 10th anniversary edition not only fills the gap but also continues where it stopped This handbook delineates the original model and the expanding and evolving research which has developed from 1997 to 2008 More than a manual instead this book uses a variety of formats to accomplish this goal reflection formal discussion instructions technical information personal and learner stories selected research articles and several modified forms of the original Learning Activities Survey LAS instrument Academic Ethics Patrick Keeney,2017-05-15 Academic ethics are currently much in the news but there is a great deal of uncertainty both as to what constitutes specifically academic ethics and about a number of issues that are taken to be issues of academic ethics This collection of papers focuses on both questions moving from consideration of the very idea of a University and what that entails via attempts to locate the major current concerns to particular issues relating to the University s relations with the corporate world the professor s role relations between student and teacher credentialling the demands of collegiality and plagiarism The editors have provided both a full and reasoned introduction and a critical end piece that attempt to bring some order to the often inchoate nature of this field raising the further question of whether institutions should or should not frame formal codes of conduct The selected papers are drawn from diverse sources and together provide one of the first comprehensive overviews of academic ethics Teaching Literature in the Real World Patrick Collier, 2021-07-01 Offering guidance and inspiration to English literature instructors this book faces the challenges of real life teaching and the contemporary higher education classroom head on Whether you re teaching in a community college a state school a liberal arts college or an Ivy League institution this book offers valuable advice and insights which will help you to motivate incentivize and inspire your students Addressing questions such as how do you articulate the value of literary education to students and administrators and parents how can a class session with a fatigued and underprepared group of students be made productive and how do you incentivize overscheduled students to read energetically in preparation for class this book answers these universal quandaries and more providing a usable philosophy of the value of literary education articulating a set of learning goals for students of literature and offering plenty of practical advice on pedagogical strategies day to day coping and more In its sum Teaching Literature in the Real World constitutes an experience based philosophy of teaching literature that is practical and realistic oriented towards helping students develop intellectual skills and committed to pedagogy built on explicit detailed and observable learning objectives
