Professionals or Part-timers? Peter van Onselen, 2015-09-01 While the minor party and independent senators might attract media attention the overwhelming majority of Australia's upper house members are affiliated with the major political parties These senators are highly partisan they are dependent on the party for re-election and play a potentially vital role in assisting their parties to secure the maximum number of House of Representative seats acting as shock troops in marginal seat campaigning How does this impact the way these senators go about their business How do they serve their party in the pursuit of lower house seats the result of which determines who forms government Professionals or Part Timers examines the electoral professionalism of major party senators as well as how they deal with the sometimes competing interests of factionalism and personal ambition

The British Communist Party and the Trade Unions, 1933-1945 Nina Fishman, 2021-02-27 This is a pathbreaking book essential reading for students of interwar political and social history Previous histories of the period have underestimated the crucial role which Communists played in trade union organisation from top to bottom Despite its relatively small size the Communist Party occupied a strategic place in the trade union movement the leaders of the movement notably Ernest Bevin refused to acknowledge this at the time Thanks to her extensive research and numerous interviews and to the opening of the books of the Communist Party Nina Fishman has been able to uncover a fascinating story one which official Communist historians have never told and which other historians could only recount in fragments The main protagonists are the Communist Party General Secretary Harry Pollitt and the Editor of the Daily Worker Johnny Campbell The book brings to vivid life the work of activists on the shop floor and in the coalmines during the Depression and the Second World War The book includes the first comprehensive analysis of Communist activity in key sectors of the British economy notably in engineering shop stewards movements and among London busmen It concludes with an authoritative review of Communists part in the British war economy and a vigorous challenge to the conventional wisdom about the effect of Communist Party changes of line on the war on activists abilities to incite and lead strikes
