North and South Elizabeth Gaskell Elizabeth Cleghorn Gaskell, 2021-02-08 North and South is a wonderful blend of social comment on the dramatic changes in society brought about by the industrial revolution and a compelling love story Written from the author's first hand experience the novel follows the story of Margaret Hope the young heroine in her move from the tranquil setting in rural southern England to the raw and turbulent northern town of Milton Margaret takes an instant dislike to her new home and its people She hates the dirt noise and lack of civilisation Her distaste extends to handsome and charismatic cotton mill owner John Thornton whom she believes epitomises everything unpleasant about the North However as Margaret gradually begins to settle in Milton she learns about the poverty and workplace struggles As events conspire to throw Margaret and Thornton together the two spirited characters have to overcome their repressed physical attraction for one another and conquer
