

Guidelines for the Portfolio Reflective Essay

Your essay requires you to reflect on your professional development in relation to your progress through the orthopaedic medicine course, linked to the Level 7/master's level learning outcomes as listed on page 2. Through your reflective essay you are aiming to demonstrate your achievement of each of the learning outcomes. You will need to provide evidence of their achievement, which should be attached and referred to as separate appendices.

Copies of evidence, such as certificates, letters etc are acceptable and we recommend that you do not enclose any important original information as your essay will not be returned to you.

Patient confidentiality is an important issue. Before you start writing your essay please consult the section on 'Confidentiality' on page 5 below that provides more information on the essential requirements for your essay and the implications for breaching patient confidentiality.

When you are ready to write your essay, have a look at the marking criteria on page 4. You will see that most of them begin with the wording 'Provides and reflects on documentary evidence of...'. It might help you to use the individual marking criteria, or the learning outcomes themselves, as headings to help you to focus on what's required.

Ask yourself:

- What evidence have I got for achieving that learning outcome/marketing criterion?
- How can I convince the reader that I have satisfied that learning outcome/criterion by reflecting on and cross referring to that evidence?

Make an explicit link between the learning outcome you are trying to support and the evidence you are providing for that. You may use the same evidence to support more than one learning outcome/criterion (see below).

Within your introduction to the essay you should include a short mention of what is meant by 'reflection', supported by one or two relevant references. For the first criterion you might like to reflect on your feelings and anxieties in relation to your own development and progression and identify how these might have influenced your learning. The essay should be written in the first person to keep it centred on 'you'.

As the essay develops, draw from your evidence to cite and reflect on examples to support your claims so, for example, it wouldn't be explicit enough to say in support of learning outcome 1, 'I can perform an assessment (see Appendix 2)'. Compare that with this actual example: 'The elderly gentleman assessed in Appendix 2 had a gradual, insidious and worsening 3 year history of hip pain. He complained of morning stiffness, pain on walking and difficulty with functional activities. He was avoiding weight bearing and extension of the affected hip, giving me a diagnostic tip that the problem was in the hip joint. After clearing the spine, assessment of passive movements enabled me to quickly ascertain a hip capsular pattern of most limitation in internal rotation, abduction and then flexion; with hard end feels and reproduction of his pain.' In this case, information provided in the same case

Bean, Dan Melzer, 2021-06-09 Use your course's big ideas to accelerate students' growth as writers and critical thinkers The newly revised third edition of Engaging Ideas delivers a step by step guide for designing writing assignments and critical thinking activities that engage students with important subject matter questions This new edition of the celebrated book now written by the co-author team of Bean and Melzer uses leading and current research and theory to help you link active learning pedagogy to your courses' subject matter You'll learn how to Design formal and informal writing assignments that guide students toward thinking like experts in your discipline Use time saving strategies for coaching the writing process and handling the paper load including alternatives to traditional grading such as portfolio assessment and contract grading Help students use self assessment and peer response to improve their work Develop better ways than the traditional research paper to teach undergraduate reading and research Integrate social media multimodal genres and digital technology into the classroom to promote active learning This book demonstrates how writing can easily be integrated with other critical thinking activities such as inquiry discussions simulation games classroom debates and interactive lectures The reward of this book is watching students come to class better prepared more vested in the questions your course investigates more apt to study purposefully and more likely to submit high quality work Perfect for higher education faculty and curriculum designers across all disciplines Engaging Ideas will also earn a place in the libraries of graduate students in higher education A Portfolio of Reflections Kelley Dos Santos Kremer, 2011-09-01 With this packet students will reflect on their own perceptions and performance to track their progress throughout the year Reflection activity sheets are included for everything from students' favorites and goals to curriculum areas Each curriculum area has three pages a reflection page survey and wrap up The provided questions will help students think about how they can improve discover likes and dislikes and more Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer, 2023-08-07 In Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer makes the argument that writing instructors should shift the construct so that peer response and student self assessment are more central than teacher response Presenting the results of a national study of teacher and peer response and student self assessment at institutions of higher education across the United States Melzer analyzes teacher and peer response to over 1 000 pieces of student writing as well as 128 student portfolio reflection essays He draws on his analysis and on a comprehensive review of the literature on response to introduce a constructivist heuristic for response aimed at both composition instructors and instructors across disciplines Melzer argues that teachers and researchers should focus less on teacher response to individual pieces of student writing and more on engaging in dialogue with student self assessment and peer response focusing on growth and transfer rather than products and grades

Reconstructing Response to Student Writing especially when taken together with Melzer's previous book Assignments across the Curriculum provides a comprehensive and large scale view of college writing and responding across the curriculum in the United States
