Searching for the Postmark Jeff Donovan, 2003 Can one place help two people come to terms with the past and can a series of long distance letters provide the basis for a future Reaching out into Lake Michigan the slender peninsula of Door County Wisconsin is a place of idyllic beauty and rustic charm of sailboats and sunsets dormant cherry orchards and dry docked wooden fishing boats It is a place Brian Bailey loves and tries to escape to But the quaint tourist towns quiet back roads and weathered gray barns offer little respite from his memories Memories never known bring Colleen O Connell from Arizona to The Door in search of the places her brother held dear Hoping to find remembrance in a place she's never been she finds instead an old farmhouse perched atop a hill The story of two people brought together by the very distance that separates them Searching for the Postmark asks difficult and uniquely human questions about what it means to live love and die and how the fellowship of family helps us find meaning in the fleeting nature of our existence From the remembrance and longing of autumn to the excitement and hope of spring Brian and Colleen's journey through the seasons tells a story of holding on and letting go of memories kept and created of letters sent and unsent A beautifully descriptive and deeply introspective testament to the power of people and place Searching for the Postmark is a summer read that will stay with you into fall and winter What I hope to have written writes author Jeff Donovan is a book that in addition to telling a nice story will also give the reader pause to think and reflect on the death of a loved one and on that from which we draw meaning in our lives A thought provoking love story about accepting the loss of a loved one Searching for the Postmark will appeal to anyone who finds special meaning in the dream of Door County and have meaning for anyone who has lost a special loved one

Postmarks from a Political Traveler Phil Karber, 2015-11-17 As spring and summer vacations beckon this book invites and incites a whole new approach to travel Postmarks from a Political Traveler is a series of travel recollections confronting the troubling topics of roots and racism polar bears and climate change anti Americanism and the war in Afghanistan The book opens with the story of the author's experience growing up in the Jim Crow South traveling in apartheid South Africa and living in the post apartheid South Africa of 2009 and 2010 It explores the not so dissimilar roots and racism of the United States and South Africa as well as the cross fertilization of ideas between the two countries The next installment chronicles two trips to Churchill Manitoba where the planet's largest population of polar bears congregate each October. It recounts the dramatic changes that have occurred in both the human and the polar bear communities in just the last decade and shows how the bears have become an Arctic version of the proverbial canary in the coalmine. Then the book shifts to the author's journey back to the United States on a German freighter with a rabidly anti-American captain. Woven into this account of life aboard a long haul ship are threads of the author's travels and anti-American encounters over a decade of living in Africa and Asia. The book concludes with reflections on trips to Afghanistan in 2004 and in 2012 describing the effects of war and conflict zone politics on women, education, refugees and aid workers. What ties these episodes together is the author's commitment to social justice and to changing the world through travel and writing that is affirming travel as a political act. Bletchley Park's Secret Room

A search for Stanislawski produces only his daughter, eight-year-old Jonny, who comes to Chicago to live with Laura. Soon a man claiming to be Stanislawski turns up at Laura's doorstep demanding his daughter and his chunk of Stanley's wealth. When the mysterious interloper is found stabbed to death, Laura is a suspect. If she doesn't move fast, the only inheritance she gets from dear departed Conrad will be a permanent stay in a federal prison. Postmarked Ever After Mary L. Ball, 2014-08-15. A
