Pourquoi Moi L'expérience Des Discriminations:

Pourquoi moi? François Dubet, 2013 Qu'il s'agisse d'inégalités de traitement en fonction du sexe de la race de la sexualité de la religion de l'origine des handicaps de la santé les discriminations sont aujourd'hui perçues et combattues comme la figure centrale des injustices. S'il est indispensable de les décrire et de les mesurer il faut aussi que l'on sache mieux comment elles sont vécues par celles et ceux qui les subissent. Le cart est grand en effet entre les inégalités objectives et la manière dont les personnes les ressentent et surtout dont elles les tiennent pour justes ou injustes. Pourquoi moi s'efforce de rendre compte de ce vécu plus divers qu'il n'y paraît. De l'expérience totale qui fait de la discrimination le cœur de l'identité et du rapport au monde des individus la distanciation que d'autres parviennent à installer grâce à un ensemble de stratégies et de tactiques se déploie un espace de discriminations ressenties de façon plus ou moins intense. Ces expériences sont délimitées par le jeu complexe des conditions sociales. Ainsi les plus discriminés ne sont pas nécessairement ceux qui prouvent les sentiments d'inégalité les plus aigus. La comparaison entre l'école et l'hôpital montre que les discriminations sont perçues de façon très différente dans ces institutions pour lesquelles la diversité des cultures et des personnes ne constitue pas le même enjeu. Les discriminations et les luttes qu'elles entraînent révèlent de profondes transformations de notre vie sociale et de nos subjectivités non seulement elles dévoilent des injustices intolérables mais elles montrent comment les individus essaient de se construire comme les sujets de leur liberté et de leur identité quand l'ordre social perd de son unité et de son ancienne légitimité.

Fighting Discrimination in a Hostile Political Environment Angéline Escafré-Dublet, Virginie Guiraudon, Julien Talpin, 2023-10-24 The book investigates the experience of ethno racial discrimination in France and the forms that resistance takes in a colour blind context. Among pluriethnic multi religious post colonial states with a long immigration history France holds a specific place in international comparisons due to its distinct colour blindness. It does not recognize racial or ethnic groups either as legitimate social or political categories or as targets for policy. Nevertheless the book embarks in testing existing theories on the experience of discrimination and on the diverse repertoire of collective action to fight discriminatory practices in France. It features chapters that draw on empirical qualitative research done at various levels of political action city regional or national and focusing on various actors inhabitants activists administrative judicial and elected officials. The contributors argue that far from disappearing race operates at the political level and is embedded in policy design. They highlight the centrality of institutions and policies in the production of a colour blind racial regime. Despite the hostile character of the French political environment the fight against discrimination takes renewed forms from infrapolitical tactics to legal battles. While the social sciences have themselves been under attack scholarship on France demonstrates the reproduction of ethnoracial inequalities and investigates the forms that resistance to discrimination takes. Fighting Discrimination in a Hostile Political Environment will be a key resource for academics researchers and advanced students of Race and Ethnic Studies Politics and Public Policy European Studies Research Methods and Sociology.  Levine, 2018-03-19 Vivre Ici analyzes a diverse selection of contemporary French documentaries about spaces and places in France Integrating film theory eco criticism and cultural history Levine investigates documentary cinema as experience The book reveals a collage like fragmented vision of France as seen through documentary cameras and explores the social and political consequences of these films that matter Cultural Anxieties Stéphanie Larchanche, 2020-03-13 Cultural Anxieties is a gripping ethnography about Centre Minkowska a transcultural psychiatry clinic in Paris France From her unique position as both observer and staff member anthropologist Stéphanie Larchanche explores the challenges of providing non stigmatizing mental healthcare to migrants In particular she documents how restrictive immigration policies limited resources and social anxieties about the other combine to constrain the work of state social and health service providers who refer migrants to the clinic and who tend to frame migrant suffering as a problem of integration that requires cultural expertise to address In this context Larchanche describes how staff members at Minkowska struggle to promote cultural competence which offers a culturally and linguistically sensitive approach to care while simultaneously addressing the broader structural factors that impact migrants mental health Ultimately Larchanche identifies practical routes for improving caregiving practices and promoting hospitality including professional training action research and advocacy The Dynamics and Social Outcomes of Education Systems J. Janmaat, M. Duru-Bellat, P. Méhaut, A. Green, 2013-08-27 Some scholars argue that education systems across the western world are becoming increasingly similar due to the influence of transnational discourses and organizations Others believe that education is the panacea for all problems of social cohesion After all aren't the well educated usually more tolerant civically engaged and trusting than the poorly educated This book critically examines both claims It finds that western countries still differ markedly on key aspects of their education systems and that these differences reflect distinct political traditions and different responses to a set of competing normative and political principles The findings further suggest that raising the average education level is unlikely to be an effective strategy for promoting social cohesion Instead more promising are policies targeting the opposite ends of the lifelong learning continuum universalizing pre school education and care and promoting adult education with a pronounced second chance character

Racial Domination Loïc Wacquant, 2024-06-07 Race is arguably the single most troublesome and volatile concept of the social sciences in the early 21st century It is invoked to explain all manner of historical phenomena and current issues from slavery to police brutality to acute poverty and it is also used as a term of civic denunciation and moral condemnation In this erudite and incisive book based on a panoramic mining of comparative and historical research from around the globe Loïc Wacquant pours cold analytical water on this hot topic and infuses it with epistemological clarity conceptual precision and empirical breadth Drawing on Gaston Bachelard Max Weber and Pierre Bourdieu Wacquant first articulates a series of reframings starting with dislodging the United States from its Archimedean position in order to capture race making as a form of symbolic violence He then forges a set of novel concepts to rethink the nexus of racial classification and stratification the continuum of ethnicity and race as disguised ethnicity the diagonal of racialization and the pentad of ethnoracial domination the checkerboard of violence and the dialectic of salience and consequentiality This enables him to elaborate a meticulous critique of such fashionable notions as structural racism and racial capitalism that promise much but deliver little due to their semantic ambiguity and rhetorical malleability notions that may even hamper the urgent fight against racial inequality Wacquant turns to deploying this conceptual framework to dissect two formidable institutions of ethnoracial rule in America Jim Crow and the prison He draws on ethnographies and historiographies of white domination in the postbellum South to construct a robust analytical concept of Jim Crow as caste terrorism erected in the late 19th century He unravels the deadly symbiosis between the black hyperghetto and the carceral archipelago that has coproduced and entrenched the material and symbolic marginality of the African American precariat in the metropolis of the late 20th century Wacquant concludes with reflections on the politics of knowledge and pointers on the vexed question of the relationship between social epistemology and racial justice Both sharply focused and wide ranging synthetic yet controversial Racial Domination will be of interest to students and scholars of race and ethnicity power and inequality and epistemology and theory across the social sciences and humanities Voices in the Media Gaëlle

Planchenault, 2015-10-22 Verbal performances are often encountered in the media where they are used to embody characters or social archetypes Performed voices define the norm as well as the linguistic Others and by doing so circulate associated values and linguistic ideologies This book explores the idea that far from simply being exercises in verbal skill and flair performances of social ethnic or gendered voices in the media not only have the power to accomplish ideological work they are also sites of linguistic tension and negotiation Critically examining performances of French voices in the media this book raises the following questions How are repertoires of voices constructed and subsequently perpetuated in the media How do the stereotypic personae these voices contribute to build become familiar to national as well as transnational audiences How do such performed voices reproduce hegemonic ideologies of standard and non standard languages and participate in the perpetuation of social discriminations How are these performed voices commodified into cultural products of otherness that may later be reclaimed by stigmatized communities Following an innovative framework which allows for analysis of performances of varied voices and their impact in the media sphere Voices in the Media offers a new approach to the linguistics of media performance *Le sens du juste.
