What does science say about race In this book a distinguished research geneticist presents abundant evidence showing that traditional notions about distinct racial differences have little scientific foundation In short racism is not just morally wrong it has no basis in fact The author lucidly describes in detail the factors that have led to the current scientific consensus about race Both geneticists and anthropologists now generally agree that the human species originated in sub Saharan Africa and darkly pigmented skin was the ancestral state of humanity Moreover worldwide human diversity is so complex that discrete races cannot be genetically defined And for individuals ancestry is more scientifically meaningful than race Separate chapters are devoted to controversial topics skin color and the scientific reasons for the differences why ancestry is more important to individual health than race intelligence and human diversity and evolutionary perspectives on the persistence of racism This is an enlightening book that goes a long way toward dispelling the irrational notions at the heart of racism Second

International Handbook of Educational Change Andy Hargreaves,Ann Lieberman,Michael Fullan,David Hopkins,2010-08-13 The two volumes of the second edition of the International Handbook of Educational Change comprise a totally new and updated collection of the most critical and cutting edge ideas in educational change Written by the most influential thinkers in the field these volumes cover educational change at both the theoretical and practical levels The updated handbook remains connected to the classical concerns of the field such as educational innovation reform and change management and also offers new insights into educational change that have been brought about by social change and shifting contexts of educational reform Like the first best selling Handbook this one will also undoubtedly become an essential resource for people involved in all spheres of education from classroom teachers teacher leaders and administrators to educational researchers curriculum developers and university professors No other work provides such a wide ranging and comprehensive examination of the field of educational change

Population Ageing - A Threat to the Welfare State? Tommy Bengtsson, 2010-08-02 Tommy Bengtsson Population ageing the shift in age distribution towards older ages is of immense global concern It is taking place to a varying degree all over the world more in Europe and some Asian countries less on the African continent The worldwide share of people aged 65 years and above is predicted to increase from 7.5% in 2005 to 16.1% in 2050 UN 2007 p 11 The corresponding figures for developed countries are 15.5 and 26.2% and for developing countries 5.5 and 14.6% While population ageing has been going on for some time in the developed world and will continue to do so most of the change is yet to come for the developing world The change in developing countries however is going to be much faster than it has been in the developed world For example while it took more than 100 years in France and more than 80 years in Sweden for the population group aged 65 and above to increase from 7 to 14% of the population the same change in Japan took place over a 25 year period UN 2007 p 13 The scenario for the future is very similar for most developing countries including highly populated countries like China India and Brazil While the start and the speed differ the shift in age structure towards older ages is a worldwide phenomenon stressing the significance of the concept global ageing

The Geopolitics of Euro-Atlantic Integration Anders Wivel, Hans

Mouritzen,2004-06-01 No set of international relations is as thoroughly analyzed commented on taken apart and critiqued as the ties between Europe and the United States A period of post Cold War integration has been buffeted by trade disputes economic strife and differences in prosecuting the fight against global terrorism Now for the first time there is an accessible and theory based analysis of European foreign policies in the post Cold War era The authors argue that EU and NATO mediated geopolitics prevails in most of Europe but that raw geopolitics tends to pop up at the fringes of this thoroughly institutionalized area Moreover the effects of past geopolitics persist in the collective memories of several states and compete with contemporary geopolitics in their policy formulations Focusing on the post Cold War era The Geopolitics of Euro Atlantic Integration includes analyses of the Benelux Nordic and Baltic countries Central and East European countries and those in Southern Europe This geographical range was made possible through contributions by leading European scholars and area experts The coherence of this edited collection is facilitated by constellation theory a new geopolitical theory explaining European foreign policies in a comparative perspective Scenarios for the future of Europe are formulated as well as perspectives for the constellation theory when applied to other parts of the world Of interest to political scientists observers academics and students this is an invaluable guide to post Cold War European relations Skiing ,1977-11
