Narrative Psychology and Vygotsky in Dialogue Jill Bradbury, 2019-09-06 This book draws together two domains of psychological theory Vygotsky s cultural historical theory of cognition and narrative theories of identity to offer a way of rethinking the human subject as embodied relational and temporal A dialogue between these two ostensibly disparate and contested theoretical trajectories provides a new vantage point from which to explore questions of personal and political change In a world of deepening inequalities and increasing economic precarity the demand for free decolonised quality education as articulated by the South African Student Movement and in many other contexts around the world is disrupting established institutional practices and reinvigorating possibilities for change This context provokes new lines of hopeful thought and critical reflection on discontinuities across historical time theories of social and psychological developmental processes and the practices of intergenerational life particularly in the domain of education for the making of emancipatory futures This is essential reading for academics and students interested in Vygotskian and narrative theory and critical psychology as well as those interested in the politics and praxis of higher education World Yearbook of Education 2020 Julie Allan, Valerie Harwood, Clara Rübner Jørgensen, 2019-09-30 A timely contribution to the debate on educational governance and equality the World Yearbook of Education 2020 documents the significant changes that have occurred in the last 20 years reflecting a widespread shift from government to governance Considering school context as well as specific school responses around the emergence of particular forms of governance this book presents and contextualises a clear historical account of governance and accountability within schooling Organised into three sections covering Changing contexts of school governance stakeholders and responsabilisation and radical governance carefully chosen contributors provide global insights from around the world They consider educational outcomes and closing the inequality gap and they document radical forms of governance at local level which have sought to create more equitable governance intelligent accountability and greater involvement of key stakeholders such as students Providing a series of provocations and reminders of the possibilities that remain open to us the World Yearbook of Education 2020 will be of interest to academics professionals and policymakers in education and school governance and any scholars who engage in historical studies of education and debates about educational governance and equality Education in Spite of Policy Robin Alexander, 2021-12-30 A national system of education cannot function without policy But the path to practice is seldom smooth especially when ideology overrules evidence or when ministers seek to micromanage what is best left to teachers And once the media join the fray the mixture becomes downright combustible Drawing on his long experience as teacher researcher government adviser campaigner and international consultant and on over 600 published sources Robin Alexander expertly illustrates and illuminates these processes This selection from his recent writing some hitherto unpublished opens windows onto cases and issues that concern every teacher Part 1 tackles system level reform It revisits the Cambridge Primary Review an evidence rich enquiry into the condition and future of primary education in England which challenged the UK government's policies on curriculum testing standards and more besides Here the reform narratives and strategies of successive governments are confronted and dissected Part 2 follows the development of England's current National Curriculum exposing its narrow vision and questionable use of evidence and offering a more generous aims driven alternative This section also investigates the expertise and leadership needed if children are to experience a curriculum of the highest quality in all its aspects Part 3 reaches the heart of the matter securing the place in effective pedagogy of well founded classroom talk a mission repeatedly frustrated by political intervention The centrepiece is dialogic teaching a proven tool for advancing students speaking thinking learning and arguing and an essential response to the corrosion of democracy and the nihilism of post truth Part 4 goes global It investigates governments' PISA fuelled flirtations with what they think can be adapted or copied from education elsewhere examines the benefits and pitfalls of international comparison and ends with the ultimate policy initiative the United Nations mission to ensure inclusive and equitable quality education for all the world's children Education in Spite of Policy is for all those teachers students school leaders and researchers who value the conversation of policy evidence and practice and who wish to explore the parts of education that policy cannot reach

The Extinction of Experience Christine Rosen, 2024-09-10 An Esquire Best Book of 2024 A reflective original invitation to recover and cultivate the human experiences that have atrophied in our virtual world We embraced the mediated life from Facetune and Venmo to meme culture and the Metaverse because these technologies offer novelty and convenience But they also transform our sense of self and warp the boundaries between virtual and real What are the costs Who are we in a disembodied world In The Extinction of Experience Christine Rosen investigates the cultural and emotional shifts that accompany our embrace of technology In warm philosophical prose Rosen reveals key human experiences at risk of going extinct including face to face communication sense of place authentic emotion and even boredom Considering cultural trends like TikTok challenges and mukbang and politically unsettling phenomena like sociometric trackers and online conspiracy culture Rosen exposes an unprecedented shift in the human condition one that habituates us to alienation and control To recover our humanity and come back to the real world we must reclaim serendipity community patience and risk

Re-imagining University Assessment in a Digital World Margaret Bearman, Phillip Dawson, Rola Ajjawi, Joanna Tai, David Boud, 2020-07-13 This book is the first to explore the big question of how assessment can be refreshed and redesigned in an evolving digital landscape There are many exciting possibilities for assessments that contribute dynamically to learning However the interface between assessment and technology is limited Often assessment designers do not take advantage of digital opportunities Equally digital innovators sometimes draw from models of higher education assessment that are no longer best practice This gap in thinking presents an opportunity to consider how technology might best contribute to mainstream assessment practice Internationally recognised experts provide a deep and unique consideration of assessment's contribution to the technology mediated higher education sector The treatment of assessment is contemporary and spans notions of assessment for learning measurement and the roles of peer and self within assessment Likewise the view of educational technology is broad and includes gaming learning analytics and new media The intersection of these two worlds provides opportunities dilemmas and exemplars This book serves as a reference for best practice and also guides future thinking about new ways of conceptualising designing and implementing assessment

The School Reform Landscape Reloaded Christopher H. Tienken, 2020-10-30 The School Reform Landscape Reloaded More Fear Myths and Lies peels back the curtain of school reform to examine the tensions that exist between the democratic and equitable system of public education and the emerging dual system based on elite interests aimed at profit making and decreasing education equity The author takes in depth and controversial look at school reform since the launch of Sputnik I Education reform events proposals and policies are examined through the lens of progressivist philosophy and critical social theory Some of the issues and policies critiqued include the neoliberal corporate influence on education the Sputnik myth A Nation At Risk standardization charter schools and other relevant topics The author provides an evidence based view of the free market reform ideas and he pierces the veil of the new reform policies to find that they are not built upon empirical evidence but instead rest solidly on foundations of myth fear and lies Ideas for a new set of reform policies based on empirical evidence and supportive of a unitary equitable and democratic system of education are presented Making Up Our Mind Sigal R. Ben-Porath, Michael C. Johanek, 2019-04-24 If free market advocates had total control over education policy would the shared public system of education collapse Would school choice revitalize schooling with its innovative force With proliferating charters and voucher schemes would the United States finally make a dramatic break with its past and expand parental choice Those are not only the wrong questions they're the wrong premises argue philosopher Sigal R Ben Porath and historian Michael C Johanek in Making Up Our Mind Market driven school choices aren't new They predate the republic and for generations parents have chosen to educate their children through an evolving mix of publicly supported private charitable and entrepreneurial enterprises The question is not whether to have school choice It is how we will regulate who has which choices in our mixed market for schooling and what we as a nation hope to accomplish with that mix of choices Looking beyond the simplistic divide between those who oppose government intervention and those who support public education the authors make the case for a structured landscape of choice in schooling one that protects the interests of children and of society while also identifying key shared values on which a broadly acceptable policy could rest
