

PARENT VOLUNTEER LETTER

Dear Parents,

We are in need of parent volunteers to help in the kitchen at Outdoor School this year. Your job will be to volunteer for one day up at Camp Tadmor to help our camp cook, and assist her in preparing meals and snacks for the kids and staff. This helps to keep the cost of camp down.

Camp Tadmor is located just east of Lebanon, OR. I will provide you with directions and a map of the camp for your trip. The camp is about 45 minutes away from Stayton and is a beautiful drive.

Parents in the past have enjoyed this duty, returning even if they didn't have children there that year. Not only do you get to experience Outdoor School, you get a chance to help out and have fun.

The dates and times for volunteering in the kitchen:

Monday, September 16 th	8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.
Tuesday, September 17 th	6:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.
Wednesday, September 18 th	6:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.
Thursday, September 19 th	6:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. and 8:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.
Friday, September 20 th	6:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. and 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

We are in need of six volunteers for each day. If you can help out, please fill out the bottom piece of paper and return tomorrow. Anyone is welcome to come and volunteer, and even for more than one day! Hope to see you there!

Thank you,

Sixth Grade Staff

I would like to volunteer for the following date(s) and time(s):

Writing Every Day Kellie Buis, Kat Mototsune, 2004 Many of today's schools struggle with large class sizes a continually evolving curriculum and a wide diversity in the ability and background of their students How best to build an effective literacy community in this constantly changing environment is an increasingly difficult challenge for teachers new and experienced alike In Writing Every Day Kellie Buis demonstrates that sharing stories is a fun and engaging way to motivate children and encourage cooperative learning in K-8 classrooms It proposes students writing letters every day as an efficient effective engaging and fun teaching strategy for organizing language instruction Children's personal stories become the catalyst for language experiences that involve reading writing and all forms of communication Teachers will find novel ways to bridge the gap between the important principles of sharing stories and practical ideas on how these understandings can be translated into classroom practice empower students to deepen and enrich their language skills by sharing their ideas feelings and experiences show students how to begin to make sense of themselves each other and the world create a strong partnership between school and home give children the ability to express themselves and to be heard by others in their community Student samples throughout the book illustrate the power of using their own life experiences to engage children in authentic reading and writing Writing daily letters gives children a stronger voice and engenders feelings of self worth self respect and competence This strategy reaps benefits beyond the language arts curriculum and helps students make connections and recognize patterns in everything that they read write and learn

A Practical Guide to Shakespeare for the Primary School John Doona, 2013-03-01 Shakespeare is one of our key historical figures but so often he remains locked behind glass and hard to reach The purpose of this book is to unlock Shakespeare to remove the tag of high art that has surrounded his work and return him to the heart of popular culture where his plays began in the first place In his foreword playwright Edward Bond says of A Practical Guide to Shakespeare for the Primary School It is written with knowledge and experience of its subject but also with the knowledge of the young people with whom that experience was shared John Doona will inspire and motivate pupils and teachers alike to engage with Shakespeare in a fresh and accessible manner and provide clear tried and tested schemes of work which demonstrate how engagement with the plays and their language can have a dramatic impact on children's literacy and writing. As well as providing practical guidance to classroom delivery and performance techniques, approaches and attitudes, this handbook also promotes learning outcomes linked to literacy targets and cross-curricular units of learning. The central chapters of the book form a comprehensive cross-curricular unit of work on four specific plays: The Tempest, Macbeth, A Midsummer Night's Dream and Romeo and Juliet, providing background notes and historical facts linked to the plays along with comprehensive schemes of work for immediate implementation and ideas for generating performance. Features unique to this resource include free electronic info blasts to all book buyers containing electronic versions of key elements of the book as well as additional resources and lesson plans. Drama for the Petrified is a crash course for teachers in the techniques, approaches and attitudes required to bring Shakespeare to life. A chapter on Shakespeare and his life includes a five-minute will, a short comic scripted account of his life, comprehensive schemes of work, each including a Teachers' Crib Sheet, Story Whoosh, Story Jigsaw Scheme, Structure Map, edited scenes and additional classroom resources. A Practical Guide to Shakespeare for the Primary School is an essential resource for all primary teachers, trainee teachers and drama practitioners offering guidance, insight and compelling schemes of work for the study of Shakespeare through drama in the primary classroom.

Organising Parent Involvement in SA Schools Noleen Van Wyk, Eleanor Lemmer, 2008-11-17. The more parents are involved in their children's schooling, the better their children's academic achievements, the more positive their attitudes to schooling and the lower the drop-out rate. These are the outcomes shown by the latest world-wide research. In addition, parents involved in schools are more likely to increase their interaction with their children at home, are more confident about their ability to help their children and rate teachers more positively. With greater parental involvement, teachers feel less isolated and more motivated in their teaching tasks. Yet while South African educators and policymakers endorse active parent participation, parents are not always treated as full partners in their children's schooling. This is a useful guide to more productive relationships between parents and schools, educators and school governing bodies. It describes a comprehensive and sustainable model for parent involvement which can be adjusted to meet the needs of different school contexts. The authors deal with each type of involvement and point out strategies for their implementation.

Involving Parents in Education Darla Struck, 1995. School administrators and principals are increasingly being called on to increase parent involvement in their schools and this is no easy task. This book will give elementary school leaders the no-fuss tools they need to increase parent involvement in their students' education and the school's activities. Materials include a reference section on issues and techniques that both administrative staff and faculty will find valuable, hands-on guides for teachers to help with such issues as parent-teacher conferences, form letters keeping parents updated and other topic-ready to use items for principals to send home to parents. All the forms, checklists and worksheets included in the book are also available on diskette for easy customization.
