

Parenting Plan

Prepared By: Rory Austine

Prepared For: Jace Simpsons and Martha Jones

Email: rory@austine.edu

Date: March 05, 2030

Objectives

The purpose of this parenting plan is to outline the agreed co-parenting terms of Jace Simpsons and Martha Jones over their daughter, Mayvette B. Simpsons. This plan provides how the mentioned parents will raise their daughter after their legal separation concerning the latter's education and medical care.

Parenting Plan

CATEGORY	AGREEMENTS	ACTIVITIES
Education	Both parents are responsible for paying for the child's education. Each parent shall contribute two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000.00) to cover the tuition fees and to contribute a greater amount, if it is necessary.	Dedicate their time to attend and participate in school events and programs.
Medical Care	Both parents are duty bound to contribute to the annual payment of the child's healthcare plan. They will divide the payment of premiums proportionately.	Dedicate their time to attend and participate in school events and programs.

Reminders

1. Finalize and sign the Parenting Agreement on March 06, 2030.
2. Finalize the visitation schedule by March 06, 2030.

After the Act Mavis Maclean, John Eekelaar, 2019-04-18 After the Act describes the aftermath of the recent removal under LASPO of public funding from legal services in family matters other than in defined cases such as child protection and domestic abuse Through analysis of the policy context interviews with key players observation of services provided by lawyers students lay support workers and the advice sector the authors outline the work being done and the skills being used in a range of settings The book raises questions not only about access to family justice but about the role of law in family matters in an increasingly post legal society Fragmentation of the market in the new services offering information initial advice online or alternative dispute resolution but rarely ongoing casework raises questions about where costs fall and how quality can be assured Many of these services are forms of private ordering where outcomes are hard to assess If neither the state nor the individual can afford full legal services where the best interests of any child involved are of paramount importance and lawyers negotiate to make best use of the resources available perhaps it is time to consider using lawyers differently with lay support to solve problems before they become disputes

Delivering Family Justice in the 21st Century
Mavis Maclean, John Eekelaar, Benoit Bastard, 2015-08-27 Family justice requires not only a legal framework within which personal obligations are regulated over the life course but also a justice system which can deliver legal information advice and support at times of change of status or family stress together with mechanisms for negotiation dispute management and resolution with adjudication as the last resort The past few years have seen unparalleled turbulence in the way family justice systems function These changes are associated with economic constraints in many countries including England and Wales

where legal aid for private family matters has largely disappeared But there is also a change in ideology in a number of jurisdictions including Canada towards what is sometimes called neo liberalism whereby the state seeks to reduce its area of activity while at the same time maintaining strong views on family values Legal services may become fragmented and marketised and the role of law and lawyers reduced while self help web based services expand The contributors to this volume share their anxieties about the impact on the ability of individuals to achieve fair and informed resolution in family matters
