Printed on durable PVC, these cards can be used again and again.

If you want to make any of these activities count for a grade here is a suggestion: Make participation count – a 70 for making the motion, 10 points for discussion (limit 1 or 2), and 10 points per extra motion. You can even tell students that they can get up to a 120 or whatever score you decide. It's easy to keep score, just make a spreadsheet with the students names on the left and the possible motions on top.

2) Practicing Other Motions: separate out the other motion cards the main motions (there are 30 of them) and have each student draw a card. They may not show it to any classmates. It is probably best if the teacher or very experienced student is the Chair for this activity. You may write one or more main motions on the board or you can have the students have to come up with one as part of the activity.

Practicing Main Motions & Discussion: First separate out the main motion cards (there are 30 of them) and have each student draw a card. They may show it to any classmates. The teacher can be Chair or you can rotate students in that position. Open the meeting by asking for further business.
Students may present their main motion at any time. Allow discussion and take a quick voice vote.

Includes instructions for using the cards in class activities and even for a grade.
