The Creation, Diffusion, and Reception of Italian Art in the Early Modern Iberian World Corinna Tania Gallori, Benito Navarrete Prieto, 2025-05-30 This edited volume addresses the circulation of works of art images and ideas between the Iberian and Italian world and the subsequent responses this motion generated Amongst the themes discussed are the concepts of centre and periphery replicas and alterations and how items and ideas were reinterpreted The processes of appropriation and transformation create an artistic geography of identities in which originality can be studied through the processes of assimilation of images shared between Europe Asia and America Chapters challenge the negative conceptualization of copying arguing that the copy is not simply a derivation but a new creation that is shaped by the interests and preferences of the receiver Similarly contributors argue for a more nuanced concept of what exactly an artistic centre is The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history Renaissance studies and Iberian studies The New World in Early Modern Italy, 1492-1750 Elizabeth Horodowich, Lia Markey, 2017-11-16 Italians became fascinated by the New World in the early modern period While Atlantic World scholarship has traditionally tended to focus on the acts of conquest and the politics of colonialism these essays consider the reception of ideas images and goods from the Americas in the non colonial states of Italy Italians began to venerate images of the Peruvian Virgin of Copacabana plant tomatoes potatoes and maize and publish costume books showcasing the clothing of the kings and queens of Florida revealing the powerful hold that the Americas had on the Italian imagination By considering a variety of cases illuminating the presence of the Americas in Italy this volume demonstrates how early modern Italian culture developed as much from multicultural contact with Mexico Peru Brazil and the Caribbean as it did from the rediscovery of classical antiquity Notes of Travel and Study in Italy Charles Eliot Norton, 1860 Early Canadian Gardening Eileen Woodhead, 1998-08-31 Reproducing a rare 1827 plant and seed catalogue possibly the earliest extant catalogue of its kind in Canada Early Canadian Gardening presents an extensive range of garden plants trees shrubs fruits and flowers that were grown for food medicines and dyestuffs as well as ornamental purposes Eileen Woodhead provides a detailed description and brief history of the cultivation and use of each plant up to the present day Most of the descriptions are accompanied by detailed drawings by the author who found and grew many of the original varieties in the catalogue The book provides a valuable account of the business of horticulture in the first decades of the nineteenth century the practices of importers merchants farms and households placing it within the broader context of social history It includes an appendix of historic sites and botanical gardens in Ontario as well as sources for heritage seeds Early Canadian Gardening is a ground breaking account of the practice and significance of horticulture during the period of settlement in Upper Canada and stands as a remarkable work of historical botany It will be an invaluable source document for horticulturists and botanists historians and garden enthusiasts with an interest in heritage plants The World's Progress: a Dictionary of Dates. From the mid sixteenth century onwards the Italian Protomedicato tribunals Colleges of Physicians or Health Offices jurisdiction varied from state to state required charlatans to submit their wares for inspection and upon approval pay a licence fee in order to set up a stage from which to perform and sell them The licensing of charlatans became an administrative routine As far as the medical magistracies were concerned charlatans had a defineable identity constituting a specific trade or occupation This book studies the way charlatans were represented by contemporaries and by historians how they saw themselves and most importantly it reconstructs the place of charlatans in early modern Italy It explores the goods and services charlatans provided their dealings with the public and their marketing strategies It does so from a range of perspectives social cultural economic political geographical biographical and of course medical Charlatans are not just some curiosity on the fringes of medicine they offered health care to an extraordinarily wide sector of the population Moreover from their origins in Renaissance Italy the Italian ciarlatano was the prototype for itinerant medical practitioners throughout Europe This book offers a different look at charlatans It is the first to take seriously the licences issued to charlatans in the Italian states compiling them into a charlatans database of over 1 300 charlatans active throughout Italy over the course of some three centuries In addition it makes use of other types of archival documents such as trial records and wills to give the charlatans a human face as well as a wide range of artistic and printed sources not forgetting the output of the charlatans themselves in the form of handbills and pamphlets
