

Parent Child Relationship

AN ISSUE OF LOCAL CONCERN – PARENT CHILD RELATIONSHIP In life, it is a reality that we become what we have been involved with and taught since we were born. The environment we live is crucial to the way our way of thinking will develop, and therefore, it will have a great impact on our actions and decisions. Parents play an important role in our lives as our examples and models. Parents and their children hold a special relationship with each other. The kind of parent-child relationship has a huge effect on the way that the child will turn out.

Parenting requires a great deal of adaptation. The parents want to develop a strong bond with their child but they also want to maintain a healthy marital relationship and adult friendships. The major cause of problems in relationship between parents and children is the generation gap. Nowadays, parents try to force the children into disciplined life. For instance, they ask the children to shut their mouth when they are expressing the views about some family issue while trying to manipulate their decisions.

Due to this children don't open up to their parents and this leads them to be suspicious of their children. When parents are in the pursuit to discover exactly what is going on, the children tend to lose trust in their parents, feeling that their parents are always trying to catch them doing something wrong. Parents, on the other hand, are more experienced in dealing with life's problems. They try to protect their children from the problems they had to face when they were young. They try different means to do this and these means have a great impact on the parent child relationship.

If the parent frequently uses punishments instead confrontations, the mental state of the child can be spoilt. But if the parent mostly spares the rod also, it spoils the child. There is no perfect way of parenting; it's more of trial and error. But parents and children can have a very good relationship only when the child as well as the parent makes an effort. Chatting together and going out for a movie or a family picnic once and giving them your presence rather than presents is more effective. As the famous saying goes.... "Don't try to perfect your child, try to perfect your relationship"

Peter G. Platt,2020-07-31 Through sustained close readings of Montaigne s essays and Shakespeare s plays Platt explores both authors approaches to self knowledge and form that stress fractures interruptions and alternatives Childlike Peace in Merleau-Ponty and Levinas

Brock Bahler,2016-08-01 By examining the parent child relationship Childlike Peace in Merleau Ponty and Levinas argues that the primordial structure of our personal encounters with others should be understood as a dialectical spiral Drawing on the work of twentieth century philosophers Maurice Merleau Ponty and Emmanuel Levinas and informed by recent advances in cognitive neuroscience and child development Brock Bahler develops a phenomenological description of the parent child relationship in order to articulate an account of intersubjectivity that is fundamentally ethically oriented dialogical and mutually dynamic This dialectical spiral in contrast to Cartesian tradition of the subject and the Hegelian master slave dialectic suggests that our lives are equiprimordially interwoven with both the richness of mutual engagement and the responsibility to be for the other The parent child relationship provides the basis for a theoretical account of intersubjectivity that is marked by a creative interaction between self and other that cannot be reduced to an economic exchange a totalizing structure or a unilateral asymmetrical responsibility In conversation with the philosophical thought of Merleau Ponty Levinas Hegel Sartre and Freud as well as recent research in cognitive neuroscience and child development this work will be of interest for those working in the fields of continental philosophy embodied cognition philosophy of childhood psychoanalysis psychology philosophy for children P4C and education

J. M. Coetzee's Poetics of the Child Charlotta Elmgren,2020-09-17 Tracing how central tensions in J M Coetzee s fiction converge in and are made visible by the child figure this book establishes the centrality of the child to Coetzee s poetics Through readings of novels from Dusklands to The Schooldays of Jesus Charlotta Elmgren shows how Coetzee s writing stages the constant interplay between irresponsibility and responsibility to the self the other and the world In articulating this poetics of ir responsibility Elmgren offers the first sustained engagement with the intersections between Coetzee s work and the philosophical thought of Giorgio Agamben With reference also to Hannah Arendt's thinking on natality education and amor mundi Elmgren demonstrates the inextricable links in Coetzee's writing between freedom play and serious attention to the world The book identifies five central dynamics of Coetzee's poetics the child as a figure of truth telling and authenticity the ethics of the not so other child the child new beginnings and care for the world childish behaviour as perpetual study and the redemptive potential of infancy Offering a fresh contribution to the field of literary childhood studies Elmgren shows the critical possibilities in thinking about and with childlike openness and childish experimentation when approaching the writing and reading of the work of J M Coetzee and beyond

Haunted by Waters Mark Browning, 2014-08-27 Four essential questions Why does one fish How should one properly fish What relations are created in fishing And what effects does fishing have on the future Haunted by Waters is a self examination by the author as he constructs his own narrative and tries to answer these questions for himself But it is also a thorough examination of the answers he uncovers in the course of reading what's been written on the subject As his own story unfolds Mark Browning analyzes angling literature from the Bible to Norman Maclean always bringing his inquiry back to the same source the enigma of this sport Haunted by Waters is an exploration of the apparent compulsion of those who fish not only to read about the sport but to write about it as well Mark Browning's personal account as a fly fisherman and his perspective as a critic make him uniquely qualified to navigate these waters
