Operational Working Group

The Operational Working Group (OWG) was established in 2013 to oversee the implementation of the Operational Plan. The OWG is a cross-functional group of senior executives from across the company, including representatives from the Executive Committee, the Board of Directors, and the various business units. The OWG's primary responsibility is to ensure that the Operational Plan is effectively implemented and that the company's operational performance is consistently strong.

The OWG meets regularly to review progress against the Operational Plan and to identify any areas where adjustments may be needed. The OWG also provides a forum for senior executives to discuss operational issues and to coordinate their efforts to address these issues.

Operational Performance Overview

The company's operational performance was strong in 2013, with key metrics such as production volume, quality, and cost all showing positive trends. This was achieved through a combination of factors, including improved operational efficiency, effective risk management, and strong collaboration between business units.

The company's operational performance was also supported by its strong financial performance, which allowed it to invest in operational improvements and to maintain a strong competitive position in the market.

The company's operational performance was a key driver of its overall success in 2013, and it is expected to continue to be a key driver of success in the future.

Quality Review

The Quality Review was conducted in 2013 to assess the company's quality management system (QMS) and to identify areas for improvement. The review was led by the Quality Management Department and involved representatives from across the company.

The review found that the company's QMS was generally effective, but there were several areas where improvements could be made. These included improving the effectiveness of the internal audit function, enhancing the quality of customer service, and improving the quality of the company's financial reporting.

Operational Excellence

The Operational Excellence program was launched in 2013 to drive continuous improvement in the company's operational performance. The program is based on the principles of Lean Manufacturing and Six Sigma, and it aims to reduce waste, improve quality, and increase efficiency.

The program has been successful in achieving its goals, with significant improvements in operational performance across all business units. This has resulted in increased productivity, reduced costs, and improved customer satisfaction.

The Operational Excellence program is an ongoing effort, and the company is committed to continuing to improve its operational performance in the future.

Operational Excellence Review

The Operational Excellence Review was conducted in 2013 to assess the progress of the Operational Excellence program. The review was led by the Operational Excellence Department and involved representatives from across the company.

The review found that the Operational Excellence program had made significant progress in achieving its goals, with improvements in operational performance across all business units. This was achieved through a combination of factors, including improved operational efficiency, effective risk management, and strong collaboration between business units.

The review also identified several areas where further improvements could be made, including improving the effectiveness of the internal audit function, enhancing the quality of customer service, and improving the quality of the company's financial reporting.

The Operational Excellence program is an ongoing effort, and the company is committed to continuing to improve its operational performance in the future.
