Researchers and Educators The Reincarnating Mind, or the Ontopoietic Outburst in Creative Virtualities

Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2012-12-06 Tymieniecka's phenomenology of life reverses current priorities stressing the primogenital role of aesthetic enjoyment rather than cognition as typifying the Human Condition The present collection offers clues to a crucial breakthrough in the perennial uncertainties about the powers and prerogatives of the human mind It proposes human creativity as the pivot of the mind's genesis and its endowment In the midst of the current defiance of the transcendental certainties of cognition this turn to the creative act of the human being represents a radical reversion to an approach to human powers that is predominated by the aesthetic virtualities of the Human Condition The collection lays down the foundations for a new discovery of the human mind addressing the plumbing of the functional system that originates in the creative potentiality of the Human Condition undercutting the currently prevalent empirical reductionism

Moderator-topics, 1909 The Question of Painting Jorella Andrews, 2018-11-29 Since the latter half of the 20th century committed art has been associated with conceptual critical and activist practices Painting by contrast is all too often defined as an outmoded reactionary market led venture an ineffectual medium from the perspective of social and political engagement How can paintings change the world today The question of painting in particular fuelled the investigations of a major 20th century philosopher the French phenomenologist Maurice Merleau Ponty 1907-61 Merleau Ponty was at the forefront of attempts to place philosophy on a new footing by contravening the authority of Cartesian dualism and objectivist thought an authority that continues to limit present day intellectual imaginative and ethical possibilities A central aim of The Question of Painting is to provide a closely focused chronological account of his unfolding project and its relationship with art clarifying how painting as a paradigmatically embodied and situated mode of investigation helped him to access the fundamentally intercorporeal basis of reality as he saw it and articulate its lived implications With an exclusive and extended conversation about the contemporary virtues of painting with New York based artist Leah Durner for whom the work of Merleau Ponty is an important source of inspiration The Question of Painting brings today's much debated concerns about the criticality of painting into contact with the question of painting in philosophy Heidegger, Levinas, Derrida: The Question of Difference Lisa Foran, Rozemund Ujlée, 2016-09-30 This book explores the relation between Heidegger Levinas

and Derrida by means of a dialogue with experts on the work of these mutually influential thinkers Each essay in this collection focuses on the relation between at least two of these three philosophers focusing on various themes such as Alterity Justice Truth and Language By contextualising these thinkers and tracing their mutually shared themes the book establishes the question of difference and its ongoing radicalization as the problem to which phenomenology must respond Heidegger's influence on Derrida and Levinas was quite substantial Derrida once claimed that his work would not have been possible without the opening of Heidegger's questions Equally as peers Derrida and Levinas commented on and critiqued each other's work By examining the differences between these thinkers on a variety of themes this book represents a philosophically enriching project and essential reading for understanding the respective projects of each of these philosophers

Negative Hermeneutics and the Question of Practice Nicholas Davey, 2023-12-28 How do words and images function hermeneutically How does hermeneutic practice work Answering these questions and more Nicholas Davey develops the hermeneutical foundations of creative practice In doing so he not only uncovers the significance of philosophical hermeneutics for the arts and the humanities but defends the humanities as a whole from the current scepticism inspired by deconstruction and post structuralism Taking Gadamer's language ontology as its cue this pioneering volume not only addresses certain weaknesses that Davey observes in Gadamer's thought but further takes Gadamerian thinking beyond Gadamer himself In particular Davey investigates the productive value of negativity that is central to hermeneutics and to wider spheres of creative learning Advocating a renewed confidence in hermeneutics and the humanities Negative Hermeneutics and the Question of Practice reveals how hermeneutical thinking provides a map of the dynamics within creative practice eliminating the need for an externally imposed theory of the arts

Gschwandtner, 2024-01-08 The topic of revelation is fundamental to any account of religious experience playing a special role in the Judeo Christian tradition where the texts of Scripture are regarded as revealed Yet any reflection on the revealed status of a given message or text requires interpretation Paul Ricoeur one of the most important hermeneutic philosophers of the twentieth century provides crucial insights on how such interpretation might proceed and what it might mean for texts to be revealed Edited by Christina M Gschwandtner Paul Ricoeur Philosophical Hermeneutics and the Question of Revelation brings together major scholars of Ricoeur's work on the topic of revelation showing both the role it already plays in his work and how his thinking might be taken further Several contributors trace the development of his thought in regard to the concept of revelation Others discuss the revelatory dimensions of Ricoeur's hermeneutics of the self especially for such issues as identity trauma and forgiveness Several contributions also place his work in conversation with that of other seminal thinkers on the topic of revelation such as Karl Barth and Paul Tillich
