Effective Course Assignments Elia Shabani Mligo, 2017-05-11 Non degree and undergraduate students are both inexperienced essay writers who need close guidance to become effective writers One of the puzzles which they encounter at the college and university after reporting for studies is the course assignments offered to them by their lecturers which demand them to be critical thinkers and argumentative essay writers In most colleges and universities lecturers provide to students broad questions to answer in the form of essays either in group or individual assignments How should they turn the broad assignment questions provided to them by their lecturers into specific researchable topics for essays How should they handle literature in order to obtain valuable information to answer the provided question How should they construct an informed and convincing argument using the collected information as evidence This book concerns these and other related questions With its clear illustrations the book is designed to be a self study guide and to offer solutions to many struggling students in colleges and universities At the same time the book can be helpful for lecturers to instruct their students how to write effective course assignments in their respective courses

Doing Time, Writing Lives Patrick W. Berry, 2018-01-24 Winner Coalition for Community Writing Outstanding Book Award 2019 Doing Time Writing Lives offers a much needed analysis of the teaching of college writing in U S prisons a racialized space that despite housing more than 2 million people remains nearly invisible to the general public Through the examination of a college in prison program that promotes the belief that higher education in prison can reduce recidivism and improve life prospects for the incarcerated and their families author Patrick W Berry exposes not only incarcerated students hopes and dreams for their futures but also their anxieties about whether education will help them Combining case studies and interviews with the author s own personal experience of teaching writing in prison this book chronicles the attempts of incarcerated students to write themselves back into a society that has erased their lived histories It challenges polarizing rhetoric often used to describe what literacy can and cannot deliver suggesting more nuanced and ethical ways of understanding literacy and possibility in an age of mass incarceration

Reconnecting Reading and Writing Alice S. Horning, Elizabeth W. Kraemer, 2013-09-06 Reconnecting Reading and Writing explores the ways in which reading can and should have a strong role in the teaching of writing in college Reconnecting Reading and Writing draws on broad perspectives from history and international work to show how and why reading should be reunited with writing in college and high school classrooms It presents an overview of relevant research on reading and how it can best be used to support and enhance writing instruction

Upsetting Composition Commonplaces Ian Barnard, 2014-10-15

In Upsetting Composition Commonplaces Ian Barnard argues that composition still retains the bulk of instructional practices that were used in the decades before poststructuralist theory discredited them While acknowledging that some of the foundational insights of poststructuralist theory can be difficult to translate to the classroom Barnard upends several especially intransigent tenets that continue to influence the teaching of writing and how students are encouraged to understand writing Using six major principles of writing classrooms and textbooks clarity intent voice ethnography audience and objectivity Barnard looks at the implications of poststructuralist theory for pedagogy While suggesting some evocative poststructuralist pedagogical practices the author focuses on diagnosing the fault lines of composition s refusal of poststructuralism rather than on providing solutions in the form of teaching templates Upsetting Composition Commonplaces addresses the need to more effectively engage in poststructuralist concepts in composition in an accessible and engaging voice that will advance the conversation about relations between the theory and teaching of writing

Fostering Habits of Mind in Today's Students Jennifer Fletcher, Adela Najarro, Hetty Yelland, 2023-07-03

Co published with and Students need more than just academic skills for success in college and career and the lack of an explicit instructional focus on the soft skills critical to postsecondary success poses a challenge for many students who enter college especially the underprepared Based upon a multi campus cross disciplinary collaboration this book presents the resulting set of habits of mind based strategies that demonstrably help not only low income ESL and first generation college students overcome obstacles on the path to degree completion these strategies equally benefit all students They promote life long integrative learning and foster intellectual qualities such as curiosity openness flexibility engagement and persistence that are the key to developing internalized and transferrable competencies that are seldom given direct attention in college classrooms This contributed volume written with full time and adjunct faculty in mind provides the rationale for this pedagogical approach and presents the sequential instructional cycle that begins by identifying students assets and progressively focusing on specific habits to develop their capacity to transfer their learning to new tasks and situations Faculty from both two year and four year colleges provide examples of how they implement these practices in English math and General Education courses and demonstrate the applicability of these practices across course types and disciplines Chapters address key factors of college success including The link between habits of mind and student retention and achievement Using an assets based approach to teaching and learning Supporting and engaging students Creating inclusive learning communities Building confidence and self efficacy Promoting transfer of learning Teacher networks and cross disciplinary collaboration By foregrounding habits of mind as an instructional lens this book makes a unique contribution to teaching in developmental and general education settings Community how to Guide on Underage

Drinking Prevention: Self sufficiency ,2001 Expanding the Canon Melissa Hoag,2022-12-30 Directly addressing the underrepresentation of Black composers in core music curricula Expanding the Canon Black Composers in the Music Theory Classroom aims to both demonstrate why diversification is badly needed and help faculty expand their teaching with practical classroom oriented lesson plans that focus on teaching music theory with music by Black composers This collection of 21 chapters is loosely arranged to resemble a typical music theory curriculum with topics progressing from basic to advanced and moving from fundamentals diatonic harmony and chromatic harmony to form popular music and music of the twentieth and twenty first centuries Some chapters focus on segments of the traditional music theory sequence while others consider a single style or composer Contributors address both methods to incorporate the music of Black composers into familiar topics and ways to rethink and expand the purview of the music theory curriculum A foreword by Philip Ewell and an introductory narrative by Teresa L Reed describing her experiences as an African American student of music set the volume in wider context Incorporating a wide range of examples by composers across classical jazz and popular genres this book helps bring the rich and varied body of music by Black composers into the core of music theory pedagogy and offers a vital resource for all faculty teaching music theory and analysis
