Productivity In Singapore's Retail And Food Services Sectors: Contemporary Issues Mun Heng Toh, Shandre M Thangavelu, 2016-11-25 The Retail and Food Services sectors play an important role in Singapore. They add to the vibrancy of the economy and contribute to the social well being of Singaporeans. At the same time they are often highlighted and scrutinised for their low productivity performance and high reliance on manpower. There is to date a lack of local literature that addresses the issues faced by the two sectors at the enterprise and worker levels. This timely book includes major topics in services productivity in the Singapore context with emphasis on Retail and Food Services. Topics covered include the key productivity levers of the services sectors, holistic productivity measurement framework, effective entrepreneurship, manpower management, promotion by social media, marketing, costing process and accounting sophistication. These areas are explored through literature reviews and in depth interviews with companies and consumers. The chapters also include recommendations for policy makers and industry stakeholders. Written in a simple and accessible manner, this book will serve as an insightful guide to researchers, policy makers, industry practitioners and enterprises and those who are keen to learn from the Singapore experience.

This 8M framework is used to analyze the many facets of productivity and make pertinent solutions and suggestions to lift productivity in enterprises, especially those in the retail and food services sectors. This book consists of 10 chapters. Each chapter is an in depth study of a specific measure, be it a technological system, a manpower strategy or a marketing program to improve the performance and productivity of small and medium enterprises (SMEs) in the retail and food services sectors in Singapore. Technology driven solutions are the highlight of this book. Every study presented involves field work in terms of surveys, interviews or focus group discussions with stakeholders. The findings of the studies lead to policy recommendations and suggestions for improving the productivity performance of SMEs in the retail and food services sectors.

Vietnamese Cooking Kokotaru, SahaBook, 2013-08-01 As a developing country with Buddhist influences, vegetarian dishes are both common and refined in Vietnamese cuisine. Tomato and mushroom soup, fried green rice cakes, stir fried okras and braised vegetables and cashew nuts are just a few of the delicious and easily prepared vegetarian options in this book. Vietnamese enjoy meat dishes as well. In these pages you will find many great recipes for chicken, beef, pork, seafood, frog and even silk worm pupae. Vietnam has no shortage of desserts; however, and if you have a sweet tooth you will enjoy one of my favourites: black glutinous rice and yogurt sweet soup.

Women in the Indian Diaspora Amba Pande,2017-12-05 This volume brings into focus a range of emergent issues related to women in the Indian diaspora The conditions propelling women s migration and their experiences during the process of migration and settlement have always been different and very specific to them Standing in between the two worlds of origin and adoption women tend to experience dialectic tensions between freedom and subjugation but they often use this space to assert independence and to redefine their roles and perceptions of self The central idea in this volume is to understand women's agency in addressing and redressing the complex issues faced by them in restructuring the cultural formats of patriarchy and gender relations managing the emerging conflicts over what is to be transmitted to the following generations renegotiating their domestic roles and embracing new professional and educational successes and adjusting to the institutional structures of the host state. The essays included in the volume discuss women in the Indian diaspora from multidisciplinary perspectives involving social, economic, cultural, and political aspects. Such an effort privileges diasporic women's experiences and perspectives in the academia and among policy makers. Food Justice

Robert Gottlieb, Anupama Joshi, 2010-09-24 The story of how the emerging food justice movement is seeking to transform the American food system from seed to table. In today's food system, farm workers face difficult and hazardous conditions, low income neighborhoods lack supermarkets but abound in fast food restaurants and liquor stores, food products emphasize convenience rather than wholesomeness, and the international reach of American fast food franchises has been a major contributor to an epidemic of globesity. To combat these inequities and excesses, a movement for food justice has emerged in recent years seeking to transform the food system from seed to table. In Food Justice, Robert Gottlieb and Anupama Joshi tell the story of this emerging movement. A food justice framework ensures that the benefits and risks of how food is grown and processed, transported, distributed, and consumed are shared equitably. Gottlieb and Joshi recount the history of food injustices and describe current efforts to change the system, including community gardens and farmer training in Holyoke, Massachusetts; youth empowerment through the Rethinkers in New Orleans; farm-to-school programs across the country; and the Los Angeles school system's elimination of sugary soft drinks from its cafeterias. And they tell how food activism has succeeded at the highest level: advocates waged a grassroots campaign that convinced the Obama White House to plant a vegetable garden. The first comprehensive inquiry into this emerging movement, Food Justice addresses the increasing disconnect between food and culture that has resulted from our highly industrialized food system.
