In the Wake of Disaster Ayesha Siddiqi, 2019-05-09 What is the state's responsibility to its people in the aftermath of a natural hazard based disaster The book sets out to address this seemingly simple question after large scale floods devastated Pakistan in 2010 and then again in 2011 Along the way it delves into rich detail about people's everyday encounters with the state in Pakistan uncovers postcolonial discourses on rights of citizenship and dispels mainstream understanding of Islamist groups as presenting an alternative development paradigm to the state Based on detailed ethnographic fieldwork In the Wake of the Disaster forces the reader to look beyond narratives of Pakistan as the perennial failing state falling victim to an imminent Islamist takeover The book shifts the conversation from hysteria and sensationalism surrounding Pakistan to the everyday In doing so it transforms our understanding of contemporary disasters

The War on Terror and the Normalisation of Urban Security Jon Coaffee, 2021-11-07 This book explores the processes by which in the 20 years after 9 11 the practices of urban security and counter terrorism have impacted the everyday experiences of the Western city Highlighting the localised urban responses to new security challenges it reflects critically upon the historical trajectory of techniques of territorialisation and physical protection urban surveillance and the increasing need for cities to enhance resilience and prepare for anticipated future attacks and unpacks the practices and impacts of the intensification of recent urban security practices in the name of countering terrorism Drawing on over 25 years of research and practical experience the author utilises a range of international case studies framed by conceptual ideas drawn from critical security political and geographical theory The book will be of interest to students and scholars of politics war studies urban studies geography sociology criminology and the growing market of security and resilience professionals as well as non academic audiences seeking to understand responses to terrorist risk

World Regional Geography without Subregions Lydia Mihelic Pulsipher, Alex Pulsipher, Patricia L. Price, 2013-12-20 Alone among books for the regional geography course Pulsipher and Pulsipher's World Regional Geography humanizes geographical issues showing how larger geographical forces affect the lives of individuals and communities around the globe Students explore the field's defining concepts by focusing on the stories of real people global trends and interregional linkages and contemporary topics that transcend regional borders the war on terrorism global political order interregional trade the global economy popular culture the environment and the Internet Along with a thorough updating this edition introduces several new features that will help students explore geography across regions while enhancing the book's standing as the most highly visual textbook for the world regional course Geopolitics, Geography and Strategic History Geoffrey Sloan, 2017-02-17 This work explains the course of international politics from the rebirth of the German Empire to the rise of China with particular though not exclusive reference to spatial relationships No Fly Zones and International Security Stephen Wrage, Scott Cooper, 2019-03-14 This book discusses the practice of no fly zones in international affairs The first no fly zone was imposed over northern Iraq immediately after the first Gulf War and since then they have become a regular recourse for policymakers confronted with humanitarian crises They have come to be viewed as a feasible essentially non violent form of intervention that can be performed entirely from the air in a situation where some form of action is widely thought to be necessary but the political will for a ground operation is insufficient Nonetheless even among policy makers there is limited understanding of the requirements the shortcomings and the potentialities of no fly zones This is the first comprehensive work on this topic and examines the assumptions surrounding no fly zones by focusing on issues such as authority cost possibility of escalation and effectiveness Looking back at 25 years of experience with no fly zones the book's goal is to look at what historical lessons may be drawn and to make some predictions with regard to the politics and strategy of no fly zones in the future This book will be of much interest to students of air power security studies Middle Eastern Studies and IR in general The Rise and Fall of the Eagle Çagatay Özdemir, 2024-04-09 Everything that rises is bound to fall The international system has been a stage for many states and different ideologies witnessing their power struggles and efforts to ideological superiority for centuries This new book tackles the foreign policy choices of the United States US which has recently dominated the international system and the liberal world order that it has sought to establish through its foreign policy The book addresses the hegemony debate in the international system on a realistic axis It contributes to the literature by critically examining recent academic work of experts in their fields as well as primary resources that detail the national security strategies of the US including national security policy documents executive orders archives of the White House interviews and remarks by US presidents The book is thus a testament to the present state of affairs during this pivotal juncture in the history of the US and the world order This book also looks at the crisis in the liberal world system from the framework of the crises that lie in the foreign policy of the US resulting in the collapsing of the liberal world order it advocates In short this book presents a study of how and for what purpose the liberal world order was established how it began to rise its connection with the US hegemony how it has been shaken by various practices and whether it has been successful so far Presenting a perspective different from the leading figures of the field of international relations such as Mearsheimer Walt Waltz and Gilpin this book is written in an academic format aiming to be of special value to students of

American foreign policy foreign policy analysis globalization and world politics as well as a valuable addition to college libraries and bookstores Educational Assessment in a Time of Reform Coert Loock, Vanessa Scherman, 2019-11-20 Educational Assessment in a Time of Reform provides background information on large scale examination systems more generally and the South African examination specifically It traces the reforms in the education system of South Africa since 1994 and provides a description of the advances in modern test theory that could be considered for future standard setting endeavours At the heart of the book is the debate on whether the current standard of education in Africa is good enough If not then how can it be improved The aim of this book is to provide a point of departure for discussions on standard setting quality assurance equating of examinations and assessment approaches From this point of departure recommendations for practices in general and the exit level Grade 12 examination results in particular can be made This book is ideal reading for principals teachers academics and researchers in the fields of educational assessment measurement and evaluation The

Hindu Kush Himalaya Assessment Philippus Wester, Arabinda Mishra, Aditi Mukherji, Arun Bhakta Shrestha, 2019-01-04 This open access volume is the first comprehensive assessment of the Hindu Kush Himalaya HKH region It comprises important scientific research on the social economic and environmental pillars of sustainable mountain development and will serve as a basis for evidence based decision making to safeguard the environment and advance people s well being The compiled content is based on the collective knowledge of over 300 leading researchers experts and policymakers brought together by the Hindu Kush Himalayan Monitoring and Assessment Programme HIMAP under the coordination of the International Centre for Integrated Mountain Development ICIMOD This assessment was conducted between 2013 and 2017 as the first of a series of monitoring and assessment reports under the guidance of the HIMAP Steering Committee Eklabya Sharma ICIMOD Atiq Raman Bangladesh Yuba Raj Khatriwada Nepal Linxiu Zhang China Surendra Pratap Singh India Tandong Yao China and David Molden ICIMOD and Chair of the HIMAP SC This First HKH Assessment Report consists of 16 chapters which comprehensively assess the current state of knowledge of the HKH region increase the understanding of various drivers of change and their impacts address critical data gaps and develop a set of evidence based and actionable policy solutions and recommendations These are linked to nine mountain priorities for the mountains and people of the HKH consistent with the Sustainable Development Goals This book is a must read for policy makers academics and students interested in this important region and an essentially important resource for contributors to global assessments such as the IPCC reports Rebalancing U.S. Forces Andrew Sven Erickson, Carnes Lord, 2014-05-15 As the U S military presence in the Middle East winds down Asia and the Pacific are receiving increased attention from the American national security community The Obama administration has announced a rebalancing of the U S military posture in the region in reaction primarily to the startling improvement in Chinese air and naval capabilities over the last decade or so This timely study sets out to assess the implications of this shift for the long established U S military presence in Asia and the Pacific This presence is anchored in a complex basing infrastructure that scholars and Americans generally too often take for granted In remedying this state of affairs this volume offers a detailed survey and analysis of this infrastructure its history the political complications it has frequently given rise to and its recent and likely future evolution American seapower requires a robust constellation of bases to support global power projection Given the rise of China and the emergence of the Asia Pacific as the center of global economic growth and strategic contention nowhere is American basing access more important than in this region Yet manifold political and military challenges stemming not least of which from rapidly improving Chinese long range precision strike capabilities complicate the future of American access and security here This book addresses what will be needed to maintain the fundamentals of U S seapower and force projection in the Asia Pacific and where the key trend lines are headed in that regard This book demonstrates that U S Asia Pacific basing and access is increasingly vital yet increasingly vulnerable It demands far more attention than the limited coverage it has received to date and cannot be taken for granted More must be done to preserve capabilities and access upon which American and allied security and prosperity depend

The Contest for the Indian Ocean Darshana M Baruah, 2024-08-27 A major new examination of the Indian Ocean revealing how the region has become a hotly contested geopolitical flashpoint Throughout history the Indian Ocean has been an essential space for trade commerce and culture Every European power has sought to dominate it Now after a lull in the postwar period control of major shipping routes has once again become a critical aspect of every rising state s ambition to be a global power

Darshana M Baruah shows how governments from Washington DC to Nairobi and Canberra are expanding their interests in the region The Indian Ocean is resource rich strategically placed and home to over two billion people Island nations have become more important than ever with Madagascar forming ties with Russia and the Comoros with Saudi Arabia It is also through the region that China engages with Africa and the Middle East This is a compelling account of the geopolitical significance of the Indian Ocean showing how the region has taken centre stage in a new global contest

Living with Floods in a Mobile Southeast Asia Carl Middleton, Rebecca Elmhirst, Supang Chantavanich, 2017-11-02 This book contributes to a better understanding of the relationship between migration vulnerability resilience and social justice associated with flooding across diverse environmental social and policy contexts in Southeast Asia It challenges simple analyses of flooding as a singular driver of migration and instead considers the ways in which floods figure in migration based livelihoods and amongst already mobile populations The book develops a conceptual framework based on a mobile political ecology in which particular attention is paid to the multidimensionality temporalities and geographies of vulnerability Rather than simply emphasising the capacities or lack thereof of individuals and households the focus is on identifying factors that instigate manage and perpetuate vulnerable populations and places these include the sociopolitical dynamics of floods flood hazards and risky environments migration and migrant based livelihoods and the policy environments through which all of these take shape The book is organised around a series of eight empirical urban and rural case studies from countries in Southeast Asia where lives are marked by mobility and by floods associated with the region's monsoonal climate The concluding chapter synthesises the insights of the case studies and suggests future policy directions Together the chapters highlight critical policy questions around the governance of migration institutionalised disaster response strategies and broader development agendas

Black Gold and Blackmail Rosemary A. Kelanic, 2020-05-15 Black Gold and Blackmail seeks to explain why great powers adopt such different strategies to protect their oil access from politically motivated disruptions In extreme cases such as Imperial Japan in 1941 great powers fought wars to grab oil territory in anticipation of a potential embargo by the Allies in other instances such as Germany in the early Nazi period states chose relatively subdued measures like oil alliances or domestic policies to conserve oil What accounts for this variation Fundamentally it is puzzling that great powers fear oil coercion at all because the global market makes oil sanctions very difficult to enforce Rosemary A Kelanic argues that two variables determine what strategy a great power will adopt the petroleum deficit which measures how much oil the state produces domestically compared to what it needs for its strategic objectives and disruptibility which estimates the susceptibility of a state's oil imports to military interdiction that is blockade Because global markets undercut the effectiveness of oil sanctions blockade is in practice the only true threat to great power oil access That combined with the devastating consequences of oil deprivation to a state's military power explains why states fear oil coercion deeply despite the adaptive functions of the market Together these two variables predict a state's coercive vulnerability which determines how willing the state will be to accept the costs and risks attendant on various potential strategies Only those great powers with large deficits and highly disruptible imports will adopt the most extreme strategy direct control of oil through territorial conquest

Disasters Without Borders John Hannigan, 2013-04-17 Dramatic scenes of devastation and suffering caused by disasters such as the 2011 Japanese earthquake and tsunami are viewed with shock and horror by millions of us across the world What we rarely see however are the international politics of disaster aid mitigation and prevention that condition the collective response to natural catastrophes around the world In this book respected Canadian environmental sociologist John Hannigan argues that the global community of nations has failed time and again in establishing an effective and binding multilateral mechanism for coping with disasters especially in the more vulnerable countries of the South Written in an accessible and even handed manner Disasters without Borders it is the first comprehensive account of the key milestones debates controversies and research relating to the international politics of natural disasters Tracing the historical evolution of this policy field from its humanitarian origins in WWI right up to current efforts to cast climate change as the prime global driver of disaster risk it highlights the ongoing mismatch between the way disaster has been conceptualised and the institutional architecture in place to manage it The book's bold conclusion predicts the confluence of four emerging trends politicisation militarisation catastrophic scenario building privatisation of risk and quantification which could create a new system of disaster management wherein insurance logic will replace humanitarian concern as the guiding principle Disasters Without Borders is an ideal introductory text for students lecturers and practitioners in the fields of international development studies disaster management politics and international affairs and environmental geography sociology
