

Situational Judgement interview questions and answers related to problem-solving

Q How do you handle a situation where you have conflicting priorities from different stakeholders?

A In cases where stakeholders have conflicting priorities, it's crucial to maintain clear communication and set expectations. I would start by gathering all the necessary information from each stakeholder to understand their priorities and the reasoning behind them. After assessing the situation, I would schedule a meeting with the stakeholders to discuss the conflicts and find a compromise or a solution that aligns with the overall project goals.

The ideal response will show the candidate's ability to balance multiple demands and their skills in negotiation and conflict resolution. Look for specific examples of past experiences to gauge their effectiveness in similar situations.
