November 2006 Zimsec History Paper 1:

The Ndebele Nation Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, 2009 The History and Political Transition of Zimbabwe Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, Pedzisai Ruhanya, 2020-10-21 This book is the first to tackle the difficult and complex politics of transition in Zimbabwe with deep historical analysis. Its focus is on a very problematic political culture that is proving very hard to transcend. At the center of this culture is an unstable but resilient nationalist military alliance crafted during the anti-colonial liberation struggle in the 1970s. Inevitably, violence, misogyny, and masculinity are constitutive of the political culture. Economically speaking, the culture is that of a bureaucratic parasitic primitive accumulation and corruption which include invasion and emptying of state coffers by a self-styled Chimurenga aristocracy. However, this Chimurenga aristocracy is not cohesive as the politics that led to Robert Mugabe's ousting from power was preceded by dirty and protracted internal factionalism. At the center of the factional politics was the first family, Robert Mugabe and his wife Grace Mugabe. This book offers a multidisciplinary examination of the complex contemporary politics in Zimbabwe, taking seriously such issues as gender, misogyny, militarism, violence, media, identity, modes of accumulation, the ethnicization of politics, attempts to open lines of credit and FDI, national healing, and the national question as key variables, not only of a complete political culture but also of difficult transitional politics.

Zimbabwe in Transition Timothy Murithi, Aquilina Mawadza, 2011 Zimbabwe's Transition to Democracy in the post-independence era has been a very difficult one. To date, there have been a number of sustained efforts by various local, regional, and international actors to move Zimbabwe towards democracy, as well as attempts to find a lasting solution to the political and economic crises that seriously affected the country's progress from the late 1990s. However, these attempts have been less successful, mainly because Zimbabwe has complex political and economic problems with interlocking national, regional, and international political and economic dimensions rooted in both historical and contemporary factors and developments. To understand the complexities of the challenges to Zimbabwe's transition to democracy, as well as prospects for political change and democracy in the country, Zimbabwe in Transition critically examines both the historical and contemporary dynamics shaping political and economic developments in the country, taking into account voices from a broad spectrum of Zimbabwean society, including civil society, faith-based communities, the diaspora, women, community leaders, the media, youth, and regional actors such as SADC and the AU. Book jacket: Society, State, and Identity in African History Bahru Zewde, 2008. The Fourth Congress of the Association of African Historians was held in Addis Ababa in May 2007. These 21 papers are a key selection of the papers presented there, with an introduction by the distinguished historian Bahru Zewde. Given the contemporary salience and the historical depth of the issue of identity, the congress was devoted to that global phenomenon within Africa. The papers explore and analyse the issue of identity in its diverse temporal settings, from its pre-colonial roots to its contemporary manifestations. The papers are divided into six parts: Pre-Colonial Identities, Colonialism and Identity, Conceptions of the Nation-State and Identity, Identity-Based Conflicts,

Migration and Acculturation and Memory History and Identity The authors are scholars from Benin Botswana Cameroon the Democratic Republic of Congo Ethiopia Mali Nigeria Senegal South Africa and Zimbabwe Bahru Zewde is Emeritus Professor of History at Addis Ababa University Executive Director of the Forum for Social Studies and Vice President of the Association of African Historians He was formerly Chairperson of the Department of History and Director of the Institute of Ethiopian Studies at Addis Ababa University Amongst his publication is A History of Modern Ethiopia 1855 1991 Zimbabwe since the Unity Government Stephen Chan, Ranka Primorac, 2013-09-13 Zimbabwe has moved from a condition of restricted expression to one of many contradictory expressions Politics has lost none of its compromises and conflicts but it has been amplified by an explosion of voices For the first time a genuine debate is possible among many actors insiders and outsiders and the question marks over Zimbabwe and its future are no longer in terms of a narrow choice between one party and another one outlook or another Compromise government has meant complexity of debate This does not preclude disillusionment within debate but it does include vigour and imagination in debate This book includes essays from renowned scholars governmental and diplomatic figures and prioritises contributions by Zimbabweans themselves The essays provide a blend of academic and practitioner observation and judgement which no other volume has done This book was published as a special issue of The Round Table Globalization and Self-Regulation S. Sethi, 2016-02-17 Corporate strategy expert Prakash Sethi takes an in depth look at global structures and how regulation works from a corporate perspective providing case studies of several industries and governments who have begun implementing voluntary codes of conducts including Equator Principles ICM and The Kimberly Process The Hot 'Cold War' Vladimir Shubin, 2008-10-20 This book analyses the causes of armed conflicts in Southern Africa during the Cold War It examines the influence of the various external forces in the region during this period and their relationship to local movements and governments The book focuses on states experiencing violent internal conflict and foreign intervention that is Angola Mozambique Namibia South Africa and Zimbabwe The author provides an unique history of the key part that the Soviet Union played in these developments Spanning 30 years the book explores how each country struggled for genuine independence against colonialism and apartheid and their place in the wider conflicts encompassed by the Cold War Labour and Economic Change in Southern Africa c.1900-2000 Rory Pulossof, Andrew Cohen, 2021-06-03 This book explores the social and economic development of Zimbabwe Zambia and Malawi over the course of the twentieth century These three countries have long shared and interconnected pasts All three were drawn into the British Empire at a similar time and the formation of the ill fated Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland formally linked these countries together for a decade in the mid twentieth century This formal political relationship created dynamics that resulted in yet closer economic and social links After Federation the economic realities of industry transport and labour supplies meant that these three countries continued to be intricately interconnected Yet despite these connected pasts comparative work on the economic histories of Malawi Zambia and

Zimbabwe and how these change over time is rare This book addresses the gap by providing the first comprehensive collection of labour and census data across the twentieth century for these three countries The different economic models and performances of these states offer good comparison allowing researchers to look at different models of development and how these played out over the long term The book provides data on population growth and change industrial and occupational structure and the various shifts in what the economically active population did It will be useful for historians economists development studies scholars and non governmental organisations working on twentieth century and contemporary southern Africa

'Progress' in Zimbabwe? David Moore,Norma Kriger,Brian Raftopoulos,2013-09-13

Zimbabwe s severe crisis and a possible way out of it with a transitional government and the new era for which it prepares the ground demands a coherent scholarly response Progress can be employed as an organising theme across many disciplinary approaches to Zimbabwe s societal devastation At wider levels too the concept of progress is fitting It underpins modern liberal and radical perspectives of development pervading the social sciences and humanities Yet perceptions of progress are subject increasingly to intensive critical inquiry Their gruesome end is signified in the political projects of Robert Mugabe and ZANU PF John Gray s Black Mass Apocalyptic Religion and the Death of Utopia indicates this It is expected that participants will engage directly in debates about how the idea of progress has informed their disciplines from political science and history to labour and agrarian studies and then relate these arguments to the Zimbabwean case in general and their research in particular This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary African Studies
