to Children Rebecca Woodard, Kristine M. Schutz, 2024 Replete with classroom examples, this book demonstrates that young children pre K 6 are capable of learning about climate change that climate change and social justice are inextricable from each other and that literacy instruction is well suited to this work. Malone, 2018-05-15 From the founding director of the MIT Center for Collective Intelligence comes a fascinating look at the remarkable capacity for intelligence exhibited by groups of people and computers working together. If you're like most people, you probably believe that humans are the most intelligent animals on our planet. But there's another kind of entity that can be far smarter: groups of people. In this groundbreaking book, Thomas Malone, the founding director of the MIT Center for Collective Intelligence, shows how groups of people working together in superminds like hierarchies, markets, democracies, and communities have been responsible for almost all human achievements in business, government, science, and beyond. And these collectively intelligent human groups are about to get much smarter. Using dozens of striking examples and case studies, Malone shows how computers can help create more intelligent superminds simply by connecting humans to one another in a variety of rich new ways. And although it will probably happen more gradually than many people expect, artificially intelligent computers will amplify the power of these superminds by doing increasingly complex kinds of thinking. Together, these changes will have far reaching implications for everything from the way we buy groceries and plan business strategies to how we respond to climate change and even for democracy itself. By understanding how these collectively intelligent groups work, we can learn how to harness their genius to achieve our human goals Drawing on cutting edge science and insights from a remarkable range of disciplines Superminds articulates a bold and utterly fascinating picture of the future that will change the ways you work and live both with other people and with computers Taylor's 7th Teaching and Learning Conference 2014 Proceedings Siew Fun Tang, Loshinikarasi Logonnathan, 2015-06-01 These conference proceedings showcase a rich and practical exchange of approaches and vital evidence based practices taking place around the world They clarify the complex challenges involved in bringing about a holistic educational environment in schools and institutes of higher learning that fosters greater understanding and offer valuable insights on how to avoid the pitfalls that come with rolling out holistic approaches to education To do so the proceedings focus on the subthemes Support and Development Mobility and Diversity and Networking and Collaboration in Holistic Education Learning from Animations in Science Education Len Unsworth, 2020-11-10 This book examines educational semiotics and the representation of knowledge in school science It discusses the strategic integration of animation in science education It explores how learning through the creation of science animations takes place as well as how animation can be used in assessing student s science learning Science education animations are ubiquitous in a variety of different online sites including perhaps the most popularly accessed YouTube site and are also routinely included as digital augmentations to science textbooks They are popular with students and teachers and are a prominent feature of contemporary science teaching The proliferation of various kinds of science animations and the ready accessibility of sophisticated resources for creating them have emphasized the importance of research into various areas the nature of the semiotic construction of knowledge in the animation design the development of critical interpretation of available animations the strategic selection and use of animations to optimize student learning student creation of science animations and using animation in assessing student science learning This book brings together new developments in these research agendas to further multidisciplinary perspectives on research to enhance the design and pedagogic use of animation in school science education Chapter 1 is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer.com Reducing Fuel Consumption and Greenhouse Gas Emissions of Medium- and Heavy-Duty Vehicles, Phase Two National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Transportation Research Board, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Board on Energy and Environmental Systems, Committee on Assessment of Technologies and Approaches for Reducing the Fuel Consumption of Medium- and Heavy-Duty Vehicles, Phase Two, 2020-05-15 Medium and heavy duty trucks motor coaches and transit buses collectively medium and heavy duty vehicles or MHDVs are used in every sector of the economy The fuel consumption and greenhouse gas emissions of MHDVs have become a focus of legislative and regulatory action in the past few years This study is a follow on to the National Research Council s 2010 report Technologies and Approaches to Reducing the Fuel Consumption of Medium and Heavy Duty Vehicles That report provided a series of findings and recommendations on the development of regulations for reducing fuel
