American Comics Jeremy Dauber, 2021-11-16 The sweeping story of cartoons comic strips and graphic novels and their hold on the American imagination Comics have conquered America From our multiplexes where Marvel and DC movies reign supreme to our television screens where comics based shows like The Walking Dead have become among the most popular in cable history to convention halls best seller lists Pulitzer Prize winning titles and MacArthur Fellowship recipients comics shape American culture in ways high and low

Gugliemi, 2017-03-31 This first thematic volume of the new series TRAC Themes in Roman Archaeology brings renowned international experts to discuss different aspects of interactions between Romans and barbarians in the northwestern regions of Europe Northern Europe has become an interesting arena of academic debate around the topics of Roman imperialism and Roman barbarian interactions as these areas comprised Roman provincial territories the northern frontier system of the Roman Empire limes the vorlimes or buffer zone and the distant barbaricum This area is today host to several modern European nations with very different historical and academic discourses on their Roman past a factor in the recent tendency towards the fragmentation of approaches and the application of postcolonial theories that have favored the advent of a varied range of theoretical alternatives Case studies presented here span across disciplines and territories from American anthropological studies on transcultural discourse and provincial organization in Gaul to historical approaches to the propagandistic use of the limes in the early 20th century German empire from Danish research on warrior identities and Roman Scandinavian relations to innovative ideas on culture contact in Roman Ireland and from new views on Romano Germanic relations in Central European Barbaricum to a British comparative exercise on frontier cultures The volume is framed by a brilliant theoretical introduction by Prof Richard Hingley and a comprehensive concluding discussion by Prof

David Mattingly Beyond the Romans Irene Selsvold, Lewis Webb, 2020-04-09 This latest volume in the TRAC Themes in Theoretical Roman Archaeology series takes up posthuman theoretical perspectives to interpret Roman material culture. These perspectives provide novel and compelling ways of grappling with theoretical problems in Roman archaeology, producing new knowledge and questions about the complex relationships and interactions between humans and non humans in Roman culture and society. Posthumanism constitutes a multitude of theoretical positions characterised by common critiques of anthropocentrism and human exceptionalism. In part they react to the dominance of the linguistic turn in humanistic sciences. These positions do not exclude the human but instead stress the mutual relationship between matter and discourse. Moreover they consider the agency of non humans e.g. animals, material culture, landscapes, climate and ideas, their entanglement with humans and the situated nature of research. Posthumanism has had substantial impacts in several fields including critical studies, archaeology, feminist studies, even politics, but have not yet emerged in any fulsome way in Classical Studies and Classical Archaeology. This is the first volume on these themes in Roman Archaeology aimed at providing valuable perspectives into Roman myth, art and material culture, displacing and complicating notions of human exceptionalism and individualist subjectivity. Contributions consider non human agencies, particularly animal, material, environmental and divine agencies, critiques of binary oppositions and gender roles and the Anthropocene. Ultimately the papers stress that humans and non humans are entangled and imbricated in larger systems; we are all post human. Where the Land Meets the Sea Tom D. Dillehay, 2017-08 This landmark interdisciplinary volume on the excavation of one of the longest occupied yet most enigmatic sites in human history sheds new light on how civilization began among farmers and fishermen some fourteen thousand years ago.
