usefully measure are those that can be quantified and expressed in terms of economics Yet economic value and the value of the human are closely connected erode the economic and you erode the personal In the global economic crash of recent years it has been people who have been under assault not just financial value The vulnerability of a society shaped solely by economic and monetised transactions is exposed when the economy and the monetisation of everything fails When the economic machine seizes up it is people who are devalued and dumped Drawing upon his experience in government education and the Church the author asks Must we be a market society as well as a market economy Can we devise a non economic account of describing human value and worth Christopher Steed argues that the really important issues that frame the contemporary human situation are those that cannot be measured Quality is also vital to human flourishing what after all is wealth for In this timely and important work the author calls for a wider concept of value one that encompasses both economic value and human value and for a society that cultivates the importance of the human

Adult neurogenesis twenty years later: physiological function versus brain repair Paolo Peretto, Luca Bonfanti, 2015-05-01 The discovery that mammalian brains contain neural stem cells which perform adult neurogenesis the production and integration of new neurons into mature neural circuits has provided a fully new vision of neural plasticity On a theoretical basis this achievement opened new perspectives for therapeutic approaches in restorative and regenerative neurology Nevertheless in spite of striking advancement concerning the molecular and cellular mechanisms which allow and regulate the neurogenic process its exploitation in mammals for brain repair strategies remains unsolved In non mammalian vertebrates adult neurogenesis also contributes to brain repair regeneration In mammals neural stem cells do respond to pathological conditions in the so called reactive neurogenesis yet without substantial regenerative outcome Why even in the presence of stem cells in the brain we lack an effective reparative outcome in terms of regenerative neurology and which factors hamper the attainment of this goal Essentially what remains unanswered is the question whether and how physiological functions of adult neurogenesis in mammals can be exploited for brain repair purposes
