South Sudan Skills Story Lawrence M. Tombe, 2017-09-28 The South Sudan Skills Story is an account about manpower and education development in South Sudan a narrative that includes efforts exerted in attainment of the much needed workforce for fuelling the country's economy now fatally impacted by the ongoing internal strife Prior to escalation of the armed conflict that broke out in December 2013 hardly four years after the country gained its sovereignty on July 9 2011 the new nation was on course in setting up its new education system and basis of sustainable human development now shattered by the vicious war The conflict has eroded the country's human potential through loss of life skills wastage and extreme brutalities perpetrated against citizens by the war drivers The education quandary is compounded by displacement of over 3 million people from their homes and localities a dire situation that has caused severe food insecurity affecting over 7.5 million people With over 2 million children forced out of school particularly in the most conflict affected regions of South Sudan including over 1.4 million forced out of the country as refugees to neighbouring countries it means that one in every three children in the country is out of school The scale and magnitude of the unending human dispersal has severely curtailed South Sudans ability to provide education to all its citizens The once adopted slogan of bringing education to all in the country is now a far cry as the new nation heads to total collapse if the conflict is not halted The South Sudan Skills Story urges the leaders of South Sudan who are proponents of the conflict to rise above self serving political cleavages to stop the war for peace so that all the citizens are availed the opportunity to realize their fullest potential for development of the country The narrative concludes that the people of this young nation will remain one of the most undereducated populations in the world as long as the legacy of war violence and impunity prevails in the country IIBF-JAIIB Practice Question Bank

Regulation and Supervision of the OTC Derivatives Market Ligia Catherine Arias-Barrera, 2018-05-11 The over the counter OTC derivatives market has captured the attention of regulators after the Global Financial Crisis due to the risk it poses to financial stability Under the post crisis regulatory reform the concentration of business and risks among a few major players is changed by the concentration of a large portion of transactions in the new market infrastructures the Central Counterparties CCPs This book for the first time analyses the regulatory response of the United Kingdom and the United States the two largest centres of OTC derivatives transactions and highlights their shortcomings The book uses a normative risk based approach to regulation as a methodological lens to analyse the UK regime of CCPs in the OTC derivatives market It specifically focuses on prudential supervision and conduct of business rules governing OTC derivatives transactions and the move towards enhancing the use of central clearing The resulting analysis from a normative risk based approach suggests that the UK regime for CCPs does not fulfil what would be expected if a coherent risk based approach was taken Our comments on the Dodd Frank Act highlight that the incoherent adoption of risk based approach to regulation affects the effectiveness of the US regime for CCPs Such a regime does not follow the pace of events of innovation risk in particular the foreseeable changes FinTech will bring to the OTCDM and central clearing services The second inadequacy of the US regime concerns the dual regulatory structure of the CFTC and the SEC and the inadequate adoption of different and not well coordinated regulatory strategies We also analyse the cross border implications of the US regime for non US CCPs that provide clearing services to US market participants Finally we study the negative effects of the absence of a clearly defined resolution regime for CCPs
