Audiences Ian Christie, 2025-10-01 This timely volume engages with one of the most important shifts in recent film studies the turn away from text based analysis towards the viewer Historically this marks a return to early interest in the effect of film on the audience by psychoanalysts and psychologists which was overtaken by concern with the effects of film linked to calls for censorship and moral panics rather than to understanding the mental and behavioral world of the spectator Early cinema history has revealed the diversity of film viewing habits while traditional box office studies which treated the audience initially as a homogeneous market have been replaced by the study of individual consumers and their motivations Latterly there has been a marked turn towards more sophisticated economic and sociological analysis of attendance data And as the film experience fragments across multiple formats the perceptual and cognitive experience of the individual viewer who is also an auditor has become increasingly accessible With contributions from Gregory Waller John Sedgwick and Martin Barker this work spans the spectrum of contemporary audience studies revealing work being done on local non theatrical and live digital transmission audiences and on the relative attraction of large scale domestic and mobile platforms

A Selected Bibliography Freudian Fadeout Arij Ouweneel,2012-08-13 In Western culture the psychoanalysis that has guided popular psychology for almost a century is now on the retreat Better equipped with proven results cognitive and evolutionary psychology has driven psychoanalysis out of the spotlight In cultural and film studies however the debate between cognitive sciences and psychoanalysis remains contentious This volume explores this state of things by examining criticism of 18 films juxtaposing them with cognitive based films to reveal the flaws in the psychoanalytical concepts It pays particular attention to simulation theory the concept that narratives learned from films could work in human minds as simulations for solutions to particular problems By introducing the idea of narrative stimulation to film studies this work argues for a different method of film critique encouraging further research into this nascent field Father Chaucer and the Apologists Sarah Baechle,2025-05-06 On May 4 1380 Cecily Chaumpaigne filed a quitclaim with the Chancery in Westminster releasing the poet Geoffrey Chaucer from any prosecution de raptu meo on account of my rape This legal document lost for centuries has haunted Chaucer studies since its rediscovery in 1873 Over the past 150 years since it reemerged many Chaucer scholars have sought to discount sanitize or excuse the release Through a careful examination of the long Chaucer historiography Sarah Baechle shows how critics have read the question of Chaucer s potential culpability for rape through prevailing attitudes toward sexual violence They did so moreover in ways that will be very familiar to contemporary readers versed in rape culture practices that dismiss sexual violence by centering and promoting accused perpetrators erasing or attacking the victim survivor and minimizing the violence of the crime Baechle pairs the necessary excavation of this critical history with reparative readings of the poet s narratives of sexual violence including the Miller s Tale the Reeve s Tale the Wife of Bath s Tale and Troilus and Criseyde and she theorizes assailant speech as a counterpart to survivor speech proposing it as a new means of understanding Chaucer s place in feminist studies of the Middle Ages Father Chaucer and the Apologists is an urgently needed examination of the discourse surrounding Chaumpaigne s quitclaim that reveals the ties between Chaucer studies and the persistence of rape culture This book will appeal to students and scholars of Chaucer and of gender and sexual violence more broadly A Dictionary of the English Language; in which the Words are Deduced from Their Originals; and Illustrated in Their Different Significations ...
