text outlines and explains in detail the necessary steps in designing conducting implementing and reporting an action research study with a solid mixed methods foundation Electoral Survey Methodology Masaru Kohno,Yoshitaka Nishizawa,2016-03-31 While it has been some time since computer technologies were first introduced to social surveys their methodological advantages as well as potential limitations are not yet fully appreciated by the relevant communities of scholars mass media and governmental organizations What can computer assisted surveys do which ordinary paper and pencil interviews PAPI can never do How does the usage of computer technology affect the quality of survey process and of collected data More generally what are the issues pertinent to the methodology of public opinion inquiry that are now revealed by the availability of computer assisted surveying technique The book seeks to address these questions systematically with each individual chapter providing a well focused analysis and ample evidence from Japan As the computer assisted survey is bound to be more dominant in the coming years this book provides an important foundation for future academic studies as well as their practical applications in the field People and Computers XII Harold Thimbleby,Brid O'Conaill,Peter J. Thomas,2013-03-14 Most organisations try to protect their systems from unauthorised access usually through passwords Considerable resources are spent designing secure authentication mechanisms but the number of security breaches and problems is still increasing DeAlvare 1990 Gordon 1995 Hitchings 1995 Unauthorised access to systems and resulting theft of information or misuse of the system is usually due to hackers cracking user passwords or obtaining them through social engineering System security unlike other fields of system development has to date been regarded as an entirely technical issue little research has been done on usability or human factors related to use of security mechanisms Hitchings 1995 concludes that this narrow perspective has produced security mechanisms which are much less effective than they are generally thought to be Davis Price 1987 point out that since security is designed implemented used and breached by people human factors should be considered in the design of security mechanism It seems that currently hackers pay more attention to human factors than security designers do The technique of social engineering for instance obtaining passwords by deception and persuasion exploits users lack of security awareness Hitchings 1995 also suggests that organisational factors ought to be considered when assessing security systems The aim of the study described in this paper was to identify usability and organisational factors which affect the use of passwords The following section provides a brief overview of authentication systems along with usability and organisational issues which have been identified to date 1 Effective Teaching Around the World Ridwan Maulana,Michelle Helms-Lorenz,Robert M. Klassen,2023-06-27 This open access book brings together theoretical empirical methodological and practical insights from various countries on effective teaching It particularly focuses on discussing issues pertaining to effective teaching behaviour including definitions and conceptualizations measurement differences and importance to student outcomes from international perspectives The book will draw upon the rich cultures with diverse contexts involving Asia Australia Africa America and Europe which serve as the background setting to better understand teaching quality from a wide spectrum of educational systems and performances. It shows that effective teaching behaviour can be conceptualized and operationalized uniformly using specific frameworks and measures but also addresses some limitations that should be tackled. The book discusses promising ways to measure and compare effective teaching behaviour from classical test theory (CTT) as well as item response theory (IRT) perspectives. It indicates that effective teaching behaviour in diverse countries follows a systematic level of complexity which provides an avenue for ongoing teacher education and teacher professional development. It discusses the interrelated domains of effective teaching behaviour including contemporary trends of differentiation. The book continues with examining similarities and differences in effective teaching behaviour across countries. It builds on the understanding of cultural traditions across countries as profoundly reflected in the classroom processes.

Progress in Tourism Marketing Metin Kozak, Luisa Andreu, 2007-06-07. The aim of this book are two fold: 1 to evaluate the current progress of theoretical approaches to tourism marketing and 2 to show the ways to further develop the concept of tourism marketing for application within tourist destinations and individual businesses and evaluate its potential impact on performance improvement. The structure is based upon the inclusion of an introduction and four main parts namely: IT marketing, destination competitiveness, image measurement and consumer behaviour. There is a brief introduction for each part prior to the discussion of specific chapters just to make the readers familiar with their content. The editors believe that there is a need for information on how to better apply both traditional and contemporary marketing tools in order to be more competitive within the international arena. Metin Kozak serves as an Associate Professor of Marketing in the School of Tourism and Hotel Management, Mugla University, Turkey. Also he is a visiting fellow in the Department of Marketing, University of Namur, Belgium. Following a successful career within the last five years since the approval of PhD degree in 2000, Metin has received two awards to mark his achievements. In 2001, his PhD dissertation on benchmarking was nominated by the EFQM EU among the best three PhD studies on TQM. In 2004, by a committee of the Turkish Tourism Investors Association, he was awarded the grand prize of the tourism researcher of the year 2003 in Turkey. He has published mainly in tourism journals and authored a book on Destination Benchmarking. His main research interests focus on consumer behavior, benchmarking, competitiveness, cross cultural research, destination management and marketing and European tourist markets.

Luisa Andreu is Assistant Professor of Marketing in the Department of Marketing, University of Valencia, Spain. She obtained her Master's degree in Tourism from the International Centre for Tourism, Bournemouth University, UK and a Ph.D. in Business Administration from the University of Valencia, Spain. She is a member of the Spanish Association of Scientifics in Tourism. She has published various articles in Annals of Tourism Research, Tourism Management, European Journal of Marketing, Journal of Travel and Tourism Marketing among others. She has presented papers at several conferences organized by the European Marketing Academy, Academy of Marketing Science, CPTHL and State of the Art Tourism.
