Towards a holistic approach to support learners at risk of interrupted development Macalane J. Malindi, Johnnie Hay, Thabo Makhalemele, 2024-02-23 The COVID 19 pandemic and the restrictions that came with it led to unprecedented disruptions in learner development and put them at risk of poor developmental outcomes It is thus important that the extent of the disruption on their development and the support needs of learners be investigated Researching the impact of the disruption should focus on holistic development In this book the authors use multiple research approaches and methods of gathering data in their respective fields to examine the impact of the disruption and determine the support needs of learners Data gathered through the different methods are processed and findings are presented The findings have implications for both practice and future research in the fields of inclusive education learner support educational psychology movement education Life Orientation and curriculum development

Higher Education in Africa Anne Goujon, Max Haller, Bernadette Müller Kmet, 2017-01-06 The idea that developing all sectors of the educational palette is influential for socio economic development was adopted later in Sub Saharan Africa than in other world regions Most efforts went primarily into developing the first stages of education and rightly so for many children could not access education at all Today all African governments recognize the importance of higher education and increasingly invest in it They are facing two major interlinked challenges rapid population growth and decline in the quality of education Indeed despite fertility decline the region has been confronted with substantial population growth which will continue for many decades as such there is a necessity to increase investment in education This in a situation of limited resources has been at the expense of the quality and the burgeoning of private institutions of higher education The contributions here discuss the development quality and outcomes of higher education in Africa with a specific focus on relations between Africa and Europe Issues related to the mobility of African students and scholars are discussed in several national and international case studies

Theoretical Approaches to Multi-Cultural Positive Psychological Interventions Llewellyn Ellardus Van Zyl, Sebastiaan Rothmann Sr., 2019-06-11 This volume provides theoretical perspectives on and approaches to the development or enhancement of positive psychological capacities within various multi cultural professional and organizational contexts Specifically it presents theoretical frameworks for the identification development and optimization of positive psychological capacities through a contemporary multi cultural and multi disciplinary lens In recent years the applicability of positive psychological intervention PPI techniques has transposed the boundaries of clinical practice into a wide array of complementary domains such as law education business and even design sciences such as architecture These interventions target the enhancement of positive psychological capacities e g strength identification and use high performance learning appreciative design job crafting in order to not only improve individual functioning well being and the treatment of various forms of psychopathology but also to enhance team functioning performance organizational growth and community development Despite its importance very little research has been done on the design of PPIs applicable to multi cultural contexts The contributions to this volume provide insights into this hitherto neglected area of research
