November 2012 Zimsec Literature Paper One Exam:

The Art of Survival Joseph Chikowero, Anna Chitando, Angeline M. Madongonda, Government Phiri, 2015-11-25 The Art of Survival Depictions of Zimbabwe and the Zimbabwean in Crisis offers a fresh interdisciplinary examination of a period against which development in Zimbabwe is often measured one epitomized by the severe shortages and runaway inflation of 2008 While journalistic stories of the 1998 2008 era often privilege the reductive stories of woe defeat and crushed hopes this volume explores how survival was still possible in those circumstances The book offers insights into how ordinary Zimbabweans battled the odds by making startling innovations in language use to legitimize new survival strategies how they weaved new songs and reinterpreted old ones to fight for survival how social institutions such as churches reinterpreted popular gospel and how authors playwrights and dramatists crafted works that acknowledge the unprecedented difficulties and yet find humour laughter and love in unusual places This work will appeal to both scholars who will appreciate the depth of the analysis and the general reader

Validating Technological Innovation David Coniam, Peter Falvey, 2016-04-02 This book discusses Hong Kong s use of onscreen marking OSM in public examinations Given that Hong Kong leads the way in OSM innovation this book has arisen from a recognised need to provide a comprehensive coherent account of the findings of various separate but linked validation studies of onscreen public examinations in Hong Kong The authors discuss their experience of the validation process demonstrating how high stakes innovation should be fully validated by a series of research studies in order to satisfy key stakeholders

Contemporary Development Ethics from an African Perspective Beatrice Okyere-Manu, Stephen Nkansah Morgan, Ovet Nwosimiri, 2023-07-29 This book offers fresh academic insights reflections questions issues and approaches to development ethics taking into account African values and ethics Development ethics is an area of applied ethics that examines the moral issues involved in global social and economic transformation While it is a relatively new discipline there have been numerous scholarly publications on it from Western perspectives However only a few studies that focused on development ethics from the African perspective To address this gap the book seeks to answer critical questions such as What does development mean to Africans How can we measure development Who gets to decide and What constitutes just development in Africa With contributions from African scholars from diverse backgrounds the book covers various development themes such as Theories and approaches to development ethics in Africa Environmental Ethics and African Development Ethics Politics and African Development Migration and African development Gender Ethics and Socio economic Development in Africa Education Ethics and African development It is an essential resource for researchers lecturers and students interested in political philosophy and African culture studies

The Case Against the Sexual Revolution Louise Perry, 2022-05-16 Ditching the stuffy hang ups and benighted sexual traditionalism of the past is an unambiguously positive thing The sexual revolution has liberated us to enjoy a heady mixture of erotic freedom and personal autonomy Right Wrong argues Louise Perry in her provocative new book Although it would be neither possible nor desirable to turn the clock back to a world of pre 60s sexual mores she argues that the amoral libertinism and callous disenchantment of liberal feminism and our contemporary hypersexualised culture represent more loss than gain The main winners from a world of rough sex hook up culture and ubiquitous porn where anything goes and only consent matters are a tiny minority of high status men not the women forced to accommodate the excesses of male lust While dispensing sage advice to the generations paying the price for these excesses she makes a passionate case for a new sexual culture built around dignity virtue and restraint This counter cultural polemic from one of the most exciting young voices in contemporary feminism should be read by all men and women uneasy about the mindless orthodoxies of our ultra liberal era Also available as an audiobook narrated by the author

The Arc of Conversation Amy Shaw, PA, 2025-02-13 Intending to fill an important gap in medical training this book presents an easy to learn standardized approach to having compassionate and collaborative goals of care conversations with patients and families a skill that can be difficult for clinicians to learn and that is not part of standard medical education curricula Developed by a Palliative Care provider this is the first book to teach everything clinicians need to know to gently guide patients and families through what can often be difficult discussions about illness disease end of life wishes and hospice care This technique can be used to discuss any medical diagnosis or treatment be employed at any age or stage of an illness and can be used by health care professionals at any level Readers will be introduced to the patterns of decline patients follow toward the end of life criteria for recognizing when a patient's time is limited hospice care ground rules for compassionate communication and a step wise method of leading patients and families through difficult goals of care conversations in a collaborative way The book includes specific questions to ask and starter language clinicians can use for developing their own patient friendly talking points about disease progression the end of life concerns that a patient's time is limited advanced directives code status and hospice care An Arc of Conversation Guide for use when learning this technique is also included While modern medicine is terrific at acute stabilization of illness or injury it often ignores the elephant in the room disease progression and death By doing so the healthcare system frequently misses opportunities to align patient wishes with the care they receive Furthermore physicians often avoid difficult conversations with patients due to a lack of training or the assumption that hospice care represents medical or personal failure Incorporating the material and technique taught in The Arc of Conversation into everyday practice will enable clinicians to acknowledge and discuss patient decline and to confidently include hospice care as a viable option for treatment that can support patient values wishes and priorities Moving toward a continually collaborative approach with patients a shift away from physician directed care to patient centered care will enable clinicians to develop treatment plans that prioritize outcomes that matter most to patients and families improving patient and family experience of health care across their lives and providing patients with the soft landing they want at the end

Making Sadza With Deaf Zimbabwean Women Kirk VanGilder, 2012-09-12 Missiological calls for self theologizing among faith communities present the field of practical theology with a challenge to develop methodological approaches that address the complexities of cross cultural practical theological research Although a variety of approaches can be considered critical correlative practical theology existing methods are often built on assumptions that limit their use in subaltern contexts Kirk VanGilder addresses these concerns by analyzing existing theological methodologies with sustained attention to a community of Deaf Zimbabwean women struggling to develop their own agency in relation to child rearing practices He explores a variety of theological approaches from practical theology mission oriented theologians theology among Deaf communities and African women's theology in relationship to the challenges presented by subaltern communities such as Deaf Zimbabwean women Rather than frame a comprehensive methodology VanGilder proposes attitudes and guideposts to reorient practical theological researchers who wish to engender self theologizing agency in subaltern communities Accountability in education: meeting our commitments UNESCO,2017-10-30 The second edition of the Global Education Monitoring Report GEM Report presents the latest evidence on global progress towards the education targets of the UN Sustainable Development Goals With hundreds of millions of people still not going to school and many not achieving minimum skills at school it is clear education systems are off track to achieve global goals The marginalized currently bear the most consequences but also stand to benefit the most if policy makers pay sufficient attention to their needs Faced with these challenges along with tight budgets and increased emphasis on results oriented value for money countries are searching for solutions Increased accountability often tops the list The 2017 8 GEM Report shows the entire array of approaches to accountability in education It ranges from countries unused to the concept where violations of the right to education go unchallenged to countries where accountability has become an end in itself instead of a means to inclusive equitable and high quality education and lifelong learning for all The report emphasizes that education is a shared responsibility While governments have primary responsibility all actors schools teachers parents students international organizations private sector providers civil society and the media 0 3 have a role in improving education systems The report emphasized the importance of transparency and availability of information but urges caution in how data are used It makes the case for avoiding accountability systems with a disproportionate focus on narrowly defined results and punitive sanctions In an era of multiple accountability tools the report provides clear evidence on those that are working and those that are not Back cover Agriculture, Autonomous Development, and Prospects for Industrialization in Africa Emmanuel Ndhlovu,2025-03-06 The book investigates the intersection of agriculture and development in Africa and how it impacts rural industrialisation prospects It provides a comprehensive view of the position of agriculture in African socio economic activities and the agricultural sector s potential as the source for continental development and industrialisation prospects Significant research has been done on African development with a focus placed on the problematic role played by slavery colonialism and later by incompetent African leaders who failed to steer development of the type that delivers a progressive sustained and sustainable transformation of lives and societies There is limited focus on the possibility of agriculture being the potential basis of African development and the chance for industrialisation This is a matter of concern considering the dominance of agriculture as a livelihood and income source for many people on the continent In contributing to the debate on development in Africa this book aims to show how agriculture can serve as the basis for African development and industrialisation This will be achieved by i providing a detailed historical description of the position of agriculture in African socio economic activities ii outlining the trajectory of African development with a focus on agriculture innovation and mechanisation iii identifying challenges to the development of African agriculture iv exploring the opportunities for agricultural development in Africa and v providing practical and policy recommendations to improve African agriculture and make it the engine for development and industrialisation Utilising a multidisciplinary approach which combines political economy social policy financial inclusion and empowerment approaches the book also shows how engagement of youth and women digitalisation and the provision of support by public and private actors can jump start agriculture as the engine of African development and industrialisation Taken together with this conscious effort to promote a multi disciplinary discussion the book is valuable reading for students policymakers and activists interested in emerging new directions in African development thinking and research
