How I Wish I Had Taught Maths: Reflections on research, conversations with experts, and 12 years of mistakes Craig Barton, 2018-01-01 I genuinely believe I have never taught mathematics better and my students have never learned more I just wish I had known all of this twelve years ago Craig Barton is one of the UK's most respected teachers of mathematics In his remarkable new book he explains how he has delved into the world of academic research and emerged with a range of simple practical effective strategies that anyone can employ to save time and energy and have a positive impact on the long term learning and enjoyment of students Craig presents the findings of over 100 books and research articles from the fields of Cognitive Science Memory Psychology and Behavioural Economics together with the conversations he has had with world renowned educational experts on his Mr Barton Maths Podcast and subsequent experiments with my students and colleagues

Social Policy in a Cold Climate Ruth Lupton, Tania Burchardt, John Hills, Kitty Stewart, Polly Vizard, 2016-04-20 Social Policy in a Cold Climate offers a data rich evidence based analysis of the impact Labour and coalition government policies have had on inequality and on the delivery of services such as health education adult social care housing and employment in the wake of the greatest recession of our time The authors provide an authoritative and unflinching analysis of recent approaches to social policy and their outcomes following the financial crisis with particular focus on poverty and inequality Through a detailed look at spending outputs and outcomes the book offers a unique appraisal of Labour and the coalition's impact as well as an insightful assessment of future directions This volume offers a much awaited follow up to the critically acclaimed A more equal society 2005 and Towards a more equal society 2009

The Art of Uncertainty David Spiegelhalter, 2025-03-04 Named a Best Book of the Year by Forbes and The Economist From our greatest living statistical communicator Tim Harford comes an invaluable data driven guide for understanding and learning to embrace risk and uncertainty in our daily lives How dangerous is our diet How much of sports falls into the realm of luck When authorities categorize a given event as highly likely how likely is that really Whether we're trying to decide if the benefits of a new medication are worth the chance of side effects or if artificial intelligence truly threatens humanity our lives are riddled with uncertainties both everyday and existential yet it can be difficult to know how to properly weigh all those unknowns Luckily for us renowned statistician David Spiegelhalter has spent his career dissecting data to resolve the apparently random and decode the many decisions we face with imperfect information In The Art of Uncertainty he shows how we can become better at dealing with what we don't know to make smarter choices in a world so full of puzzling variables In lucid lively prose Spiegelhalter guides us through the principles of probability illustrating how they can help us think more analytically about everything from medical advice to sports to climate change forecasts He demonstrates how taking a mathematical approach to phenomena we might otherwise attribute to fate or luck can help us sort hidden patterns from mere coincidences better evaluate cause and effect and predict what's likely to happen in the future Along the way we learn how a misinterpretation of a probability contributed to the infamous Bay of Pigs fiasco why a ship twice the size of the Titanic sank without a trace and why we can be so confident that no two properly shuffled decks of cards have ever been in the same order Sparkling with wit and fascinating real world examples this is an essential guide to navigating uncertainty while also retaining the humility to admit what we don't or simply cannot know Just Great Teaching Ross Morrison McGill,2019-09-05 Bursting with fresh ideas packed with practical tips filled with wise words this is an inspiring guide for all teachers Lee Elliot Major Professor of Social Mobility University of Exeter and co author of What Works 50 tried and tested practical ideas to help you tackle the top ten issues in your classroom Ross Morrison McGill bestselling author of Mark Plan Teach and Teacher Toolkit pinpoints the top ten key issues that schools in Great Britain are facing today and provides strategies ideas and techniques for how these issues can be tackled most effectively We often talk about the challenges of teacher recruitment and retention about new initiatives and political landscapes but day in day out teachers and schools are delivering exceptional teaching and most of it is invisible Ross uncovers celebrates and analyses best practice in teaching Supported by case studies and research undertaken by Ross in ten primary and secondary schools across Britain including a pupil referral unit and private state and grammar schools as well as explanations from influential educationalists as to why and how these ideas work Ross explores the issues of marking and assessment planning teaching and learning teacher wellbeing student mental health behaviour and exclusions SEND curriculum research led practice and CPD With a foreword by Lord Jim Knight and contributions from Priya Lakhani Andria Zafirakou Mark Martin Professor Andy Hargreaves and many more this book inspires readers to open their eyes to how particular problems can be resolved and how other schools are already doing this effectively It is packed with ideas and advice for all primary and secondary classroom teachers and school leaders keen to provide the best education they possibly can for our young people today Education Policy Stephen Gorard,2018-09-05 What has been done to achieve fairer and more efficient education systems and what more can be done in the future Stephen Gorard provides a comprehensive examination of crucial policy areas for education such as differential outcomes the poverty gradient and the allocation of resources to education to identify likely causes of educational disadvantage among students and lifelong learners This analysis is supported by 20 years of extensive research based in the home countries of the UK and on work in all EU28 countries USA Pakistan and Japan This approachable rich text brings invaluable insights into the underlying problems within education policy and proposes practical solutions for a brighter future The Times Index ,2010 Indexes the Times Sunday times and magazine Times literary supplement Times educational supplement Times educational supplement Scotland and the Times higher education supplement Diversity and Marginalisation in Childhood Paula Hamilton,Author,2021-03-17 This core text offers you an accessible foundation to the topics of diversity inclusion and marginalisation Not only will you develop an understanding of how marginalisation happens you will be encouraged to question and challenge policy and practice through case studies reflective questions and activities The book analyses issues encountered by marginalised groups and the impact these may have on the lives of those concerned together with how you as a practitioner can help to empower these individuals and groups With key chapters bringing attention to less cited marginalised groups such as transgender children children with mental health conditions and looked after children the author critically analyses the difficulties and challenges of inclusive ideology in practice the role of mass media in reinforcing prejudice and examines theoretical frameworks and concepts related to marginalisation inclusion and diversity

The Success Paradox Graeme Atherton, 2017-07-05 This timely book provides an alternative vision of social mobility and a route map to achieving it It examines how the term social mobility structures what success means and the impact that has on society It recasts the relationship with employers and covers progress in non work areas of life

Frontiers in the Acquisition of Literacy Claire M. Fletcher-Flinn, 2015-09-28 Learning to read and to spell are two of the most important cultural skills that must be acquired by children and for that matter anyone learning a second language We are not born with an innate ability to read A reading system of mental representations that enables us to read must be formed in the brain Learning to read in alphabetic orthographies is the acquisition of such a system which links mental representations of visual symbols letters in print words with pre existing phonological sound and semantic comprehension cognitive systems for language Although spelling draws on the same representational knowledge base and is usually correlated with reading the acquisition processes involved are not quite the same Spelling requires the sequential production of letters in words and at beginning levels there may not be a full degree of integration of phonology with its representation by the orthography Reading on the other hand requires only the recognition of a word for pronunciation Hence spelling is more difficult than reading and learning to spell may necessitate more complete representations or more conscious access to them The learning processes that children use to acquire such cognitive systems in the brain and whether these same processes are universal across different languages and orthographies are central theoretical questions Most children learn to read and spell their language at the same time thus the co ordination of these two facets of literacy acquisition needs explication as well as the effect of different teaching approaches on acquisition Lack of progress in either reading and or spelling is also a major issue of concern for parents and teachers necessitating a cross disciplinary approach to the problem encompassing major efforts from researchers in neuroscience cognitive science experimental psychology and education The purpose of this Research Topic is to summarize and review what has been accomplished so far and to further explore these general issues Contributions from different perspectives are welcomed and could include theoretical computational and empirical works that focus on the acquisition of literacy including cross orthographic research
