The American Journey Joyce Oldham Appleby, Alan Brinkley, James M. McPherson, 2003 The North American Journal of Homeopathy, 1878 Handbook of Socialization Joan E. Grusec, Paul D. Hastings, 2014-12-05 This highly regarded handbook remains the leading reference and advanced text on socialization. Foremost authorities review the breadth of current knowledge on socialization processes across the life span. Extensively revised with the latest theory and research, the second edition reflects exciting advances in genetics, biological and hormonal regulatory systems, and brain research. Contributors present cutting edge theories and findings pertaining to family, peer, school, community, media, and other influences on individual development. Three themes guide the book: the interdependence of biology and experience, the bidirectionality of socialization processes, and the many contributing factors that interact to produce multiple socialization processes and pathways. New to This Edition: Revised structure reflects the diversity of socializing relationships in multiple contexts from infancy through adulthood. Sections on biology and culture provide a dual framework and include new chapters on cross-cultural research, genetics, chronic family stress, and neuroscience. Chapters on adolescence, new employee, organizational socialization, and cultivating the moral personality. Challenge of Freedom Roger LaRaus, Harry P. Morris, Robert Sobel, 1990 Handbook of Socialization, Second Edition Joan E. Grusec, PhD, Paul D. Hastings, 2015-11-25 Socialization refers to the way in which individuals are assisted in becoming members of one or more social groups, including how the newer members as well as the established ones socialize one another, often in a bi-directional manner that is responsive to socialization impact in both directions. This is the only handbook on socialization that covers the topic from infancy through adulthood. Hot new topics include moral development, the media as a socializing agent, behavior genetics, and culture. Authors are known in the field. Résumé de l'auteur North American Journal of Homoeopathy, 1878 Social Dynamics of the Life Course Walter R. Heinz, Victor W. Marshall, In the last two decades, research on the life course has successfully combined and integrated different and rather isolated fields of social concerns such as the labor market, family, solidarity, education, employment, retirement, and social policy. It has also developed a special focus on crucial problems of sociological research which includes the understanding of micro-macro phenomena, the dynamics of social change, and international comparisons. Contributors to this volume take an international comparative approach in applying the life course theoretical framework to issues of work and career. Life course research focuses on the relationship between institutions and individuals across the life span and illuminates the impact of modernization on the shaping of biographies. Industrial service societies are characterized by historically new contingencies of living arrangements and biographies. These contingencies differ according to the extent to which life course patterns are regulated by social institutions. In the continental European context, institutional frameworks continue to define the timing and sequencing of transitions across the life course. In less regulated market societies like the United States and Great Britain, biographies and living arrangements are shaped more by the interaction of markets social networks and individual decisions In active welfare states institutional resources and rules continue to mediate the effects of social change on the life course What the editors and contributors to this fine compendium anticipate is a change on the cultural level toward more equality This trend supports young people and women in particular in their expectations concerning an egalitarian relationship This expectation is not taken for granted from the point of view of the male partner but has to be negotiated in decisionmaking processes as an issue that concerns the couple as a unit Thus the way in which people interact is profoundly impacted by the values and goals of equity demands Walter R Heinz is professor of sociology and social psychology and director Graduate School of Social Sciences University of Bremen Victor W Marshall is professor of sociology and director of the Institute on Aging University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Carolina
