

- What roles do interest groups play in our political system?
 - Interest groups try to influence the making and content of public policy. They do this by:
 - Promoting awareness of public affairs
 - Representing people who share their views, regardless of where those people live
 - Providing useful information to government on specific policy issues
 - Helping people take part in the political process

Section The Nature Of Interest Groups Key:

Political Parties and Interest Groups in Norway Elin Haugsgjerd Allern, 2024-10-31 How do today's political parties relate to other organisations Do they prefer rather distant relationships with a wide range of interest groups or have they virtually detached themselves from civil society altogether Scholars seem to agree that traditionally close relationships such as those between social democratic parties and trade unions have grown weaker since the 1960s But to date only limited systematic research has been conducted While parties and interest groups attract a great deal of attention from political scientists the links between them have been largely overlooked This book is an attempt to bridge the gap starting from the party side of the relationship It throws new light on the topic by presenting a theory driven comprehensive study of Norway's seven major political parties and their relationships with interest groups at the beginning of the new millennium Based on original and extensive data including party documents in depth interviews with key players and a survey of national party elites Elin Haugsgjerd Allern paints a nuanced picture of the nature and significance of these relationships and the factors that shape them A major conclusion is that Norway's parties tend to maintain rather distant but wide ranging relationships with interest groups today However some parties still have fairly strong links with their traditional associates and a narrower network of links with other groups Hence Allern also shows that significant differences exist between parties that are apparently exposed to the same social political and institutional environment

Handbook of Comparative Political Institutions Adrian Vatter, Rahel Freiburghaus, 2024-10-03 This comprehensive Handbook presents a broad range of theoretical methodological and empirical perspectives on the comparative study of political institutions Exploring cutting edge developments in the field it provides new insight into the significant diversity and impact of political institutions across space and time This title contains one or more Open Access chapters

Reversing Course David Skidmore, 1996 By probing beneath the obvious and carefully sifting the abundant but poorly understood evidence Skidmore finds at the root of Carter's failed effort an irresistible pressure to reverse a liberal foreign policy agenda in order to address the effect at home of well organized conservative criticism Protecting Nature C. S. A. van Koppen, William T. Markham, 2008-01-01 This book makes a long overdue contribution to the ongoing debate on the role of nature protection organizations and networks The editors have brought together eleven respected sociologists to trace and evaluate the links between nature protection organizations and society in eight European countries and the United States Using analytical frameworks ranging from organization theory to social movements approaches the authors describe the social networks that organizations promoting nature protection have woven which in turn have helped many of them to survive and adapt to changing political and economic circumstances Uncovering these strategies is crucial to understanding how environmental issues are being dealt with via new forms of governance today The book will be very useful to scholars in organizational studies social movements environmental sociology and environmental politics Matthias Gross Helmholz Centre for Environmental Research UFZ Leipzig Germany By examining the evolution role and influence of nature protection organizations and networks in eight European countries and the United States this book addresses a long standing gap in comparative research on Western Environmentalism It will appeal to all scholars and students with an interest in environmentalism nature protection and social movement studies Lars H Gulbrandsen the Fridtjof Nansen Institute Norway This book offers a comparative analysis of organizations and networks involved in nature protection in France Germany Italy the Netherlands Norway Poland Sweden the UK and the USA It traces their development from their origins more than a century ago to the present day Throughout this period nature protection has remained an enduring concern to civil society and continues to be a major stream within environmentalism However strategies public support and political success vary greatly among the countries studied Combining rich empirical evidence and theoretical analysis the book sheds light on the important challenges nature protection faces today Providing a detailed description of all the major nature protection organizations and networks including overviews of their current membership activities and as far as available budgets Protecting Nature will be of great interest to lecturers and postgraduate students in social science fields as well as researchers in the fields of environmental policy environmental NGOs social movements civil society nature management and policy Members of nature protection environmental and other civil society organizations who seek a better understanding of the historical development of nature protection organizations and networks as well as the strategies employed by those organizations will also find much to interest them in this book Lobbying the New President Heath Brown, 2013-05-02

Presidential transitions offer the chance for new ideas policies and people to inhabit the White House Transitions have triggered policy change for decades and eager interest groups have sought ways to capitalize on this often chaotic phase of US politics President Elect Barack Obama declared that lobbyists would be forbidden from serving his transition and issued stiff regulations and rules to limit their access to the planning for his White House Yet even though Obama's efforts mirror previous Presidents anti lobbyist efforts all Presidential transitions provide certain channels of influence and Obama himself chose the head of a powerful and politically oriented think tank the Center for American Progress to run his transition New Presidents need the information ideas and political capital that groups possess Thus a curious paradox Using an innovative mixed methodology integrating a historical analysis of original documents original interviews with over 40 interest group leaders and transition leaders a survey of 300 interest groups and content analysis of 300 interest group letters Lobbying the New President uncovers the politics of interest group influence during Presidential transitions In doing so Heath Brown asks Was the role played by Heritage in 1980 and CAP in 2008 indicative of a pattern of influence during the transition phase Or have Presidents effectively shielded themselves from outside influence at the earliest point of their time in office What can we learn about the larger study of interest groups and the Presidency from a focus on the transition phase This book is a valuable resource that goes beyond the field of presidency studies which American politics scholars as well as public policy specialists should not go without Public Lands Politics Paul J. Culhane, 2013-11-26 First Published in 2011 During the 1970s land managers in the U S Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management BLM often must have felt they lived in interesting times The decade began with the first Earth Day an event that revealed the increasing strength and militancy of the environmental movement as it ended western commercial users of the public lands disaffected by environmentalist policymaking victories had launched the sagebrush rebellion Those managers were expected to reconcile often sharply polarized interest group pressures with professional values as well as with diverse federal statutes and regulations that reflected uneasy compromises among group and professional influences Although the technical specifics of public lands management differ from those in other fields of natural resources management the political tensions in public lands policymaking are similar to those in other natural resources fields Thus this description of the Forest Service s xiii xiv PREFACE and BLM s handling of those tensions should be of interest to many in the natural resources management community as a whole This study should also be useful to students of public administrative politics generally

Parliaments in Asia Zheng Yongnian, Lye Liang Fook, Wilhelm Hofmeister, 2013-10-23 Much writing on politics in Asia revolves around the themes of democracy and democratisation with a particular focus on political systems and political parties This book on the other hand examines the role that parliaments a key institution of democracy play in East Southeast and South Asia including Taiwan and Hong Kong Parliaments in these locations function in a variety of historical political and socio economic circumstances with different implications for institution building and political development This book examines questions like how accessible representative transparent accountable and effective are parliaments To what extent are parliaments able to hold other political actors to account or how far are they constrained by the political environment in which they operate Going further this book considers how new media such as the Internet and other social platforms through providing avenues for individuals to articulate their views separate from official channels are influencing the ways parliaments work To stay relevant parliamentarians need to reach out and engage these individuals in formulating deciding and fine tuning policies In the information age being a parliamentarian has become more challenging and how a parliamentarian copes with this change will shape the nature and pace of political development Primary Care Research, 1991 Interest Group Politics in Europe Jan Beyers, Rainer Eising, William A. Maloney, 2013-09-13 Interest organizations have always assumed a prominent place in European politics because they link states with citizens institutionalize the resolution of social conflicts regulate important sectors of the economy and society contribute to workable policy outcomes and socialize members into democratic politics However the plethora of interest group studies that exist have not consolidated our understanding of these actors These analyses have been subject to the vagaries of different theoretical perspectives and vary greatly in their conceptual and methodological frameworks Consequently a not always complementary and fragmented series of findings has emerged This book is a systematic and comprehensive effort at investigating and integrating the state of the art in European interest group research Combining the analysis of interest group politics in the EU with the comparative study of interest organizations the book seeks to identify the areas about which there is consolidated knowledge that are marked by controversies in which considerable uncertainty exists that have been omitted from research programs and that ought to be part of future studies Thereby it provides a general reflection on how the study of interest group politics can be improved by linking it to the comparative study of governance This book was published as a special issue of West European Politics Backcasting for a Sustainable Future Jaco Quist, 2007 Summary Backcasting looking back from a desirable future Since the 1990s sustainable futures have been explored in backcasting experiments numerous stakeholders have been involved and first steps have been planned in line with the envisioned sustainable futures

But what is the impact of these so called backcasting experiments ten years later Backcasting for a Sustainable Future The impact after 10 years is the first book that systematically investigates the follow up and spin off of backcasting experiments seven to ten years after completion It presents three case studies about 1 Novel Protein Foods and meat alternatives 2 Sustainable Households and Nutrition and 3 Multiple Sustainable Land use in rural areas The cases show that participatory backcasting may but does not automatically lead to substantial follow up and spinoff Using innovation and learning theories the factors that affect the emergence of follow up and new networks are identified and discussed This book will be of great value to all those who work on sustainable futures and system innovations such as researchers in system innovations sustainability and social change as well as policy makers transition experts and backcasting professionals Publisher description

Magruder's American Government Frank Abbott Magruder,William A. McClenaghan,1994

The Limits to Capitalist Nature Ulrich Brand,Markus

Wissen,2018-03-12 The book provides for a historical materialist understanding of the multiple crises of capitalism focusing on the ecological crisis and its interaction with other crisis phenomena financial crisis crisis of democracy economic crisis Drawing on political ecology Gramscian theory of hegemony critical state theory and the regulation approach it introduces the concept of an imperial mode of living in order to better understand the everyday practices and perceptions as well as the social relations of forces and institutional constellations that facilitate environmentally destructive patterns of production and consumption Furthermore it develops a historical materialist critique of the green economy concept that has been propagated in recent years as a solution not only for the ecological but also for the economic crisis Finally the book proposes a democratisation of societal nature relations as a way out of the crisis that requires overcoming capitalist property relations and the exclusive forms of controlling nature guaranteed by them Nature Conservation in Europe Graham

Tucker,2023-05-25 European ecosystems and species remain under pressure from intensive agriculture and forestry fishing pollution urban sprawl invasive species and climate change This book provides a detailed description and critical analysis of nature conservation responses achievements and failures motivated by the concerning state of nature and missed biodiversity targets It summarises Europe's nature and the impact of human activities and then gives an overview of relevant international biodiversity treaties and the EU nature conservation policy and legislative framework The core of the book comprises chapters written by national experts which cover the UK and twenty five EU Member States providing comparative case studies from which valuable lessons are drawn Covering wide ranging topics such as biodiversity pressures legislation and governance biodiversity strategies species protection protected areas habitat management and funding this book is of interest to a wide audience including academics and professionals involved in nature conservation and related environmental fields Parallel Problem Solving from Nature, PPSN XI Robert Schaefer,Carlos Cotta,Joanna

Kolodziej,Günter Rudolph,2010-09-13 We are very pleased to present to you this LNCS volume the proceedings of the 11th International Conference on Parallel Problem Solving from Nature PPSN 2010 PPSN is one of the most respected and highly regarded conference series in evolutionary computation and indeed in natural computation as well This biennial event was first held in Dortmund in 1990 and then in Brussels 1992 Jerusalem 1994 Berlin 1996 Amsterdam 1998 Paris 2000 Granada 2002 Birmingham 2004 Reykjavik 2006 and again in Dortmund in 2008 PPSN 2010 received 232 submissions After an extensive peer review process involving more than 180 reviewers the program committee chairs went through all the review reports and ranked the papers according to the reviewers' comments Each paper was evaluated by at least three reviewers Additional reviewers from the appropriate branches of science were invoked to review interdisciplinary papers The top 128 papers were finally selected for inclusion in the proceedings and presentation at the conference This represents an acceptance rate of 55% which guarantees that PPSN will continue to be one of the conferences of choice for bio-inspired computing and metaheuristics researchers all over the world who value the quality over the size of a conference The papers included in the proceedings volumes cover a wide range of topics from evolutionary computation to swarm intelligence from bio inspired computing to real world applications Machine learning and mathematical games supported by evolutionary algorithms as well as memetic agent oriented systems are also represented They all are the latest and best in natural computation The proceedings are composed of two volumes divided into nine thematic sections
